300 Homes Damaged In Crestview

Dead And Injured Hunted In West Florida Tornado

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP)—Rescue workers toiling around the clock sifted through the wreckage of a tornado-stricken city today in a grim search for dead and injured.

Only one victim, a 6-month-old girl, was known to have perished in the twister that spun out of a squall line like a yo-yo and tore a three-mile long zig-zag path through this western Florida panhandle community.

But Capt. J. W. Jourdan, directing a highway patrol emergency team, said, "There's a possibility a lot of dead people will show up" in the flattened debris of the more than 300 homes damaged by the storm.

Approximately 63 persons were injured — five of them serious enough for hospitalization—and an estimated 1,500 were left homeless by the deadly funnel, which apparently dipped to the ground three times.

The Pensacola Journal said 50 house trailers also were destroyed.

But Jourdan said there was "no refugee problem;" that many of those whose homes were wrecked moved in with friends or relatives.

A series of squall lines blowing across the lower half of the Gulf coastal states spawned the tornado, which pounded Crestview and other cities. Slight property damage was reported at Destin and Paxton, Fla., and at Glenwood, Ala.

Crestview officials estimated the property loss here alone at $1 million or more. State troopers and other officers stood guard through the night to prevent looting.

The dead child was Donna Joyce Johnson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson. A falling wall in their brick veneer home crushed the child to death.

Lt. J. N. Livingston of the highway patrol said his 14-year-old son, Tommy, was practicing basketball at school when the storm struck. He said the coach ordered the boys to lie flat on the floor. They escaped injury although many windows in the school were shattered.

Gov. Farris Bryant at Tallahassee ordered a 95-man National Guard unit to the stricken city, other units were sent in from Panama City.

Statements On Taxes Due About Jan. 17

Statements for real estate tax payments due for the first half of 1961 are expected to be mailed about Jan. 17, with a closing date of March 7, County Treasurer Vincent Judge announced today.

Judge said the mailing of the statements, usually completed in December, has been delayed this year because of lack of extra personnel for the rush period due to insufficient funds.

He pointed out the collection period, which in previous years was four or five weeks, will extend over six weeks also because of lack of extra help in his office.

Preparation of the some 60,000 statements was also held up late last year, he said, because his office had to wait until the November election was over to determine if there would be any changes in tax rates because of new levies.

Cutbacks in operating funds last year, and additional cutbacks for 1962 due to a reduced budget, have prevented customary hiring of part-time help during the collection period, the treasurer said.

This delay will probably mean some subdivisions and school districts will be required to borrow funds to meet expenses before advance settlements can be made, officials said.

Judge said he hopes the tax statements will be in the mail by Jan. 17, but some of the work

Store To Be On Smith St.

Milligan's Will Be Moved From E. 5th St. Location

The Milligan Hardware & Supply Co. will move its business from its E. 5th St. location to the property it owns on Smith St. by March 1.

Plans for the change were announced officially today by Arthur V. Doak, treasurer and general manager of the family-owned corporation, who said the 70-year-old firm will continue to handle industrial, plumbing and hardware supplies in both wholesale and retail divisions.

Doak said the move was being made primarily to aid customer parking and because of problems that go with an operation in a multi-level building.

The company's pipe shop, directly across Summit Ln. from the present main store, will continue temporarily at its present location, but eventually will be transferred to the Smith St. building which is being remodeled, Doak continued.

The company will discontinue handling housewares, sporting goods and toys, Doak said, adding that the present department-type operation will be eliminated.

Half of the 26 employes will be retained and the remainder will be laid off, he added, explaining the firm is attempting to locate jobs for the 13 who will be affected.

The move to the Smith St. location, located between Dresden and Lincoln Aves., is being made after several years of consideration, Doak said.

"The hardware business requires parking — the type of parking that enables customers to quickly run in and out of the business. It requires a different type of parking than the impulse shopping business. E. 5th St. cannot provide this.

"We feel the Smith St. location will provide much better parking facilities." The new site will accommodate about 10 cars and the firm hopes to increase it, Doak added.

About three - fourths of the company's business comes from local tradesmen and industries and from out-of-town accounts, he estimated. The remaining quarter is from walk-in retail trade.

The Potters Construction Co. will remodel the Smith St. property, including a new front, new lighting and heating systems, an office and restrooms. Windows on the Green Ln. side of the building will be covered.

A new loading facility will be installed and the present railroad siding which runs into the building will be removed.

The Smith St. property was purchased from Howard Faulk in 1943.

The firm was incorporated by the late T. V. Milligan in 1892 when it was moved to E. 5th St. Mr. Milligan and his brothers, Frank Milligan and John Milligan, had purchased the Eagle Hardware on Market St. and operated it for several years before T. V. Milligan acquired his brothers' interests. He continued to manage the business until his death in 1944.

Crew Still On Strike At Hall China

Kilnmen's Dispute Continues With No Negotiations Set

A dispute at the Hall China Co., which idled some 300 employes, entered its second day today as kilnfiremen apparently refused to return to their jobs despite notice from the international union to go back to work pending settlement of the disagreement over the layoff of kilnfiremen's helpers.

John T. Hall, president of the East End firm, and E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, both said they knew of no move to return to work.

No negotiations have been set, Hall said, explaining a car bearing a picket sign was parked at the plant this morning.

"They are ignoring our agreement and the IBOP's request," he added.

Wheatley said he has heard of no move to return to work despite notices from international officials to the local president and the chairman of the shop committee yesterday to return to their jobs.

"We have followed the basic policy of our organization and complied with the terms of the contract. We can't force anyone to go back to work," the international president said.

Wheatley said a meeting may be held next week between international officials and the labor committee of the U. S. Potters Association when he returns from a meeting of the union's executive board in New York City. J. M. Wells Jr. and Hall are co-chairmen of the USPA committee.

The dispute at Hall's may be discussed then along with other matters, Wheatley said.

Both the company and union agreed the dispute concerns the employment of kilnfiremen's helpers.

Hall China employs four kilnfiremen and said the walkout started Thursday when it laid off four helpers. The picket line was honored Friday. The company said it understands the grievance is based on whether the company is required to have a kilnfiremen's helper when production is reduced to two kilns.

The union said all other area plants use a helper for a kilnfiremen when operating two kilns. The international said it attempted to settle the dispute previously and urged the men to continue to work pending a settlement.

Hall said this morning kilnfiremen work on a seven-day week basis and some other departments also operate on Saturday. All were idle this morning, however.

Hearing Is Continued For Wellsville Cafe

A hearing is scheduled Thursday in Columbus before the Ohio Board of Liquor Control for the operators of the New Bolero tavern, 307 Main St., Wellsville.

James Vincent Corbisello and Phillip, Dominic and Benjamin Corbisello, doing business as New Bolero, are charged with sales to minors of malt liquor.

The hearing was continued twice, from Nov. 21 to Jan. 3 and then to Thursday.

2 Could Help Or Hinder

President Arranges Talks On Trade, Care For Aged

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sits down to a private conversation today with the congressman who, perhaps more than any of his colleagues, can help or hinder two top administration legislative efforts.

Kennedy asked Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee to come to the White House for the talk. Mills has said he wasn't told what the subjects would be. But it is easy to guess: A greatly broadened reciprocal trade program and health care for the aged under Social Security.

Both are officially tax measures and therefore under the jurisdiction of the Ways and Means Committee.

The conference with Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, starts a series of talks Kennedy will hold in the next few days on his domestic program and on national security matters.

The President returned Friday night from Palm Beach, where he had been since Dec. 19 when his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, 73, suffered a stroke.

Kennedy flies to Columbus, Ohio, late today to attend a birthday tribute to Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Otherwise, he plans to work through the weekend.

Mills and the committee as a whole, which consists of 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans, have a record of favoring the reciprocal trade program. The guessing is the committee will give the President much of what he wants in this field.

The Social Security health plan is another story. No version of such legislation has ever received more than nine favorable votes in the Ways and Means Committee—all Democratic but not including the chairman's. Chances that the committee will approve the legislation, not bright at best, are considered dim to the point of invisibility unless Mills' attitude changes. There was no indication up to the meeting with Kennedy that it had.

Yet some Democratic leaders have let it be known that the health legislation should have top priority among domestic measures in a year when the whole house and a third of the Senate come up for election. Democratic strategists say the bill has wide appeal not only to the aged, but to younger families helping older parents. They want the measure passed, or at the very least a Democratic record of a hard fight for it, topped by a roll call.

Before leaving Florida Kennedy was told by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson that the United States achieved a greater rate of progress than any other country in the 1961 space race.

Johnson reported as chairman of the Space Council. He said, "It is too early to make definite comparisons as between our newly developed competence and the capabilities of the U.S.S.R."

Amex Cited In Blistering SEC Report

Manifold Abuses Of Safeguards Are Charged By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest stock market scandal in 23 years has hit the American Stock Exchange and further revelations seem certain.

The nation's second largest, fastest growing stock exchange was blistered Friday by federal investigators who cited evidence of "manifold and prolonged abuses" of market safeguards adopted after Wall Street's 1929 debacle.

In a 127-page report, the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission ripped into the American Exchange in terms reminiscent of a similar reform probe of the larger, neighboring New York Stock Exchange in 1938-39.

The American Exchange had no immediate comment on the document.

Three developments were expected to flow from the SEC's action:

1. Increased pressure on the exchange, known to Wall Streeters as the Amex, to adopt reforms more sweeping than those already in the works.

The SEC told the exchange to clean house in a big way or prepare to take orders from Washington.

2. Formal proceedings by the SEC, and perhpas the Justice Department, against some of the Amex members named as wrongdoers.

The SEC is known to be holding back considerable evidence against some of these men—evidence which presumably would be produced in a hearing room. Asked why the report only hinted at market rigging and made no direct charges, an SEC official said, "We can't try these guys in a report."

3. More vigorous policing of exchanges by the SEC.

The Amex investigation, and a broader SEC study of the entire securities business, authorized by Congress and just getting started, grew out of commission proceedings against Jerry and Gerard Re, prominent Amex specialists.

The Res, father and son, were expelled from the exchange last May for multiple stock rigging and illegal transactions involving more than $10 million. They have since been arrested on criminal charges.

The scope of the Re case jarred the SEC because as specialists they held the most important positions in the market, being responsible for the conduct of fair and orderly auctions in assigned stocks.

Area Mishaps Injure Child And 2 Women

Adults Hurt In City Crash; Wellsville Girl Struck By Car

A child and two women were injured in separate traffic accidents here and in Wellsville Friday and today. One of the women resides only a couple of doors from the girl's home.

An 11-year-old Wellsville girl is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by a car yesterday at 5:10 p.m. on the four-lane super-road near Meade's Restaurant.

Linda Wherry, who resides with a grandfather, Noah Yost, 111 Kountz Ave., Wellsville, suffered shock and abrasions of the right leg and ankle.

Police said she was bumped by the rear of a car driven by Lloyd Fletcher, 35, of Salineville R.D. 1.

The girl was walking down the medial strip of the highway and had just started to cross when struck. Officers said Fletcher spotted the girl and applied his brakes to avoid hitting her but the rear of the car swerved slightly and brushed her, knocking her to the pavement.

The women — one of Wellsville and the other from East Liverpool — were injured early this morning when their car ran out of control on Market St. and crashed into a city fire hydrant at the intersection of 3rd St.

Weatherman Will Try Again For Cold, Snow

Never one to say "quit," the Ohio weatherman hauled out his colder-with-snow forecast for the third straight day.

But he may hit it this time—a mid - continent storm was spreading eastward and may bring rain, sleet then snow with blustery winds and falling temperatures tonight.

Sunday will be colder with intermittent light snow. The low tonight will be 23 to 28 degrees.

The first major storm of the new year buffeted an area from Texas to New England with snow, sleet and freezing rain today, piling up huge drifts in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri and glazing roads with packed snow and ice.

Blasts of Canadian air that accompanied the storm spilled into the South as far as Florida.

DiSalle Waits President's Visit Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President Kennedy flies here late today to take part in one of the gaudiest birthday celebrations the Buckeye State has seen in years.

The President's brief stay—approximately four hours—ostensibly will be to honor Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's 54th birthday at a $100-a-plate dinner.

The big rally at the Ohio Fairgrounds is expected also to attract the governors of three neighboring states, members of the Democratic National Committee and some 3,000 other persons.

Kennedy will fly into a political tempest here. DiSalle has been under pressure to retract a declaration he made Oct. 20 that he would not seek re-election.

A considerable number of political observers now say the governor is awaiting word from the President concerning possible appointment to a high post in Washington — maybe even a Cabinet position.

DiSalle, however, has said he thinks the President's visit is primarily out of personal friendship and efforts to give it extensive political overtones are not based on the facts.

City Murder Leads Grand Jury Charges

Bar Association To Convene Monday In New Court Term

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today 17 cases, including one of first degree murder from East Liverpool, await consideration when the Columbiana County Grand Jury is seated Tuesday after the opening of the January term of Common Pleas Court.

Three charge second degree manslaughter in traffic accidents and another with stabbing with intent to kill or wound.

The January term will officially open at noon Monday with the Columbiana County Bar Association dinner at the First Presbyterian Church at Lisbon.

Bar members will then return to the Courthouse for their annual business meeting with Atty. William Moore, president, presiding.

The 15-member panel will be picked Tuesday morning and will be sworn in by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will handle criminal cases in the new term.

The jury's session is expected to last until sometime Thursday, when a report will be made, the prosecutor indicated.

The murder case is that of William P. Boyd Jr., 22, of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., who allegedly admitted the shotgun slaying of his estranged wife, Nancy Lee

Shades Of Rawhide; Rustlers Hit County

LISBON — Deputy sheriffs are looking for cattle rustlers who hit two herds in the western part of Columbiana County Friday, according to Sheriff Russell VanFossan.

Lloyd Barrick of Minerva R.D. 2 reported the theft of three white-faced Hereford bulls weighing about 90 pounds each and a Holstein heifer from his barn in West Township sometime early Friday morning.

Herman Haueter of Hanoverton R.D. 1 said a Hereford bull weighing about 300 pounds was stolen from his barn sometime yesterday.

At the Barrick farm, Deputy James Miller tracked the cattle to where they were loaded on a truck. No further report was available on the Haueter theft.

Question Firm's Ability

Rep. Hays Asks Congress Look Into Shelter Survey

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, — Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, has asked for a congressional investigation of the government award of a $52,600 contract he says was made to an Akron engineering firm for a two - month fallout shelter study, including Columbiana County.

Reached at his Flushing home, Hays said he sent a telegram to Rep. Carl Vinson, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, asking for the investigation and saying that the Pentagon had failed to answer satisfactory how the firm was chosen.

"That's a lot of money for an engineering firm for only two months' work," Hays told a reporter.

Hays said the study would take in Akron and Columbiana and Jefferson Counties. The firm doing the study is Glaus, Pyle & Schomer. Hays represents Ohio's 18th Congressional District, which includes Columbiana and Jefferson Counties.

He said the study would be directed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Hays said he asked the Pentagon how the firm was selected and was told the Pentagon looked through its files

Statements On Taxes Due About Jan. 17

Statements for real estate tax payments due for the first half of 1961 are expected to be mailed about Jan. 17, with a closing date of March 7, County Treasurer Vincent Judge announced today.

Store To Be On Smith St.

Milligan's Will Be Moved From E. 5th St. Location

The Milligan Hardware & Supply Co. will move its business from its E. 5th St. location to the property it owns on Smith St. by March 1.

Plans for the change were announced officially today by Arthur V. Doak, treasurer and general manager of the family-owned corporation, who said the 70-year-old firm will continue to handle industrial, plumbing and hardware supplies in both wholesale and retail divisions.

Crew Still On Strike At Hall China

Kilnmen's Dispute Continues With No Negotiations Set

A dispute at the Hall China Co., which idled some 300 employes, entered its second day today as kilnfiremen apparently refused to return to their jobs despite notice from the international union to go back to work pending settlement of the disagreement over the layoff of kilnfiremen's helpers.

John T. Hall, president of the East End firm, and E. L. Wheatley, president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, both said they knew of no move to return to work.

No negotiations have been set, Hall said, explaining a car bearing a picket sign was parked at the plant this morning.

"They are ignoring our agreement and the IBOP's request," he added.

"We have followed the basic policy of our organization and complied with the terms of the contract. We can't force anyone to go back to work," the international president said.

Wheatley said a meeting may be held next week between international officials and the labor committee of the U. S. Potters Association when he returns from a meeting of the union's executive board in New York City. J. M. Wells Jr. and Hall are co-chairmen of the USPA committee.

The dispute at Hall's may be discussed then along with other matters, Wheatley said.

Both the company and union agreed the dispute concerns the employment of kilnfiremen's helpers.

Hall China employs four kilnfiremen and said the walkout started Thursday when it laid off four helpers. The picket line was honored Friday. The company said it understands the grievance is based on whether the company is required to have a kilnfiremen's helper when production is reduced to two kilns.

The union said all other area plants use a helper for a kilnfiremen when operating two kilns. The international said it attempted to settle the dispute previously and urged the men to continue to work pending a settlement.

Hall said this morning kilnfiremen work on a seven-day week basis and some other departments also operate on Saturday. All were idle this morning, however.

Linda Wherry, who resides with a grandfather, Noah Yost, 111 Kountz Ave., Wellsville, suffered shock and abrasions of the right leg and ankle.

Police said she was bumped by the rear of a car driven by Lloyd Fletcher, 35, of Salineville R.D. 1.

The girl was walking down the medial strip of the highway and had just started to cross when struck. Officers said Fletcher spotted the girl and applied his brakes to avoid hitting her but the rear of the car swerved slightly and brushed her, knocking her to the pavement.

The women — one of Wellsville and the other from East Liverpool — were injured early this morning when their car ran out of control on Market St. and crashed into a city fire hydrant at the intersection of 3rd St.

Weatherman Will Try Again For Cold, Snow

Never one to say "quit," the Ohio weatherman hauled out his colder-with-snow forecast for the third straight day.

But he may hit it this time—a mid - continent storm was spreading eastward and may bring rain, sleet then snow with blustery winds and falling temperatures tonight.

Sunday will be colder with intermittent light snow. The low tonight will be 23 to 28 degrees.

The first major storm of the new year buffeted an area from Texas to New England with snow, sleet and freezing rain today, piling up huge drifts in Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri and glazing roads with packed snow and ice.

Blasts of Canadian air that accompanied the storm spilled into the South as far as Florida.

DiSalle Waits President's Visit Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President Kennedy flies here late today to take part in one of the gaudiest birthday celebrations the Buckeye State has seen in years.

The President's brief stay—approximately four hours—ostensibly will be to honor Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's 54th birthday at a $100-a-plate dinner.

The big rally at the Ohio Fairgrounds is expected also to attract the governors of three neighboring states, members of the Democratic National Committee and some 3,000 other persons.

Kennedy will fly into a political tempest here. DiSalle has been under pressure to retract a declaration he made Oct. 20 that he would not seek re-election.

A considerable number of political observers now say the governor is awaiting word from the President concerning possible appointment to a high post in Washington — maybe even a Cabinet position.

DiSalle, however, has said he thinks the President's visit is primarily out of personal friendship and efforts to give it extensive political overtones are not based on the facts.

Beer Permit Lifted

WEIRTON — A license suspension was ordered Friday by West Virginia Beer Commissioner G. T. Davis Jr. for Mildred Cervanak, doing business as Castle Cafe & Bar, on charges of illegal sale and possession of liquor. It is effective Monday.

City Murder Leads Grand Jury Charges

Bar Association To Convene Monday In New Court Term

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today 17 cases, including one of first degree murder from East Liverpool, await consideration when the Columbiana County Grand Jury is seated Tuesday after the opening of the January term of Common Pleas Court.

Three charge second degree manslaughter in traffic accidents and another with stabbing with intent to kill or wound.

The January term will officially open at noon Monday with the Columbiana County Bar Association dinner at the First Presbyterian Church at Lisbon.

Bar members will then return to the Courthouse for their annual business meeting with Atty. William Moore, president, presiding.

The 15-member panel will be picked Tuesday morning and will be sworn in by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will handle criminal cases in the new term.

The jury's session is expected to last until sometime Thursday, when a report will be made, the prosecutor indicated.

Question Firm's Ability

Rep. Hays Asks Congress Look Into Shelter Survey

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, — Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, has asked for a congressional investigation of the government award of a $52,600 contract he says was made to an Akron engineering firm for a two - monin fallout shelter study, including Columbiana County.

Reached at his Flushing home, Hays said he sent a telegram to Rep. Carl Vinson, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, asking for the investigation and saying that the Pentagon had failed to answer satisfactory how the firm was chosen.

"That's a lot of money for an engineering firm for only two months' work," Hays told a reporter.

Hays said the study would take in Akron and Columbiana and Jefferson Counties. The firm doing the study is Glaus, Pyle & Schomer. Hays represents Ohio's 18th Congressional District, which includes Columbiana and Jefferson Counties.

He said the study would be directed by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Hays said he asked the Pentagon how the firm was selected and was told the Pentagon looked through its files

Amex Cited In Blistering SEC Report

Manifold Abuses Of Safeguards Are Charged By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest stock market scandal in 23 years has hit the American Stock Exchange and further revelations seem certain.

The nation's second largest, fastest growing stock exchange was blistered Friday by federal investigators who cited evidence of "manifold and prolonged abuses" of market safeguards adopted after Wall Street's 1929 debacle.

In a 127-page report, the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission ripped into the American Exchange in terms reminiscent of a similar reform probe of the larger, neighboring New York Stock Exchange in 1938-39.

The American Exchange had no immediate comment on the document.

Three developments were expected to flow from the SEC's action:

1. Increased pressure on the exchange, known to Wall Streeters as the Amex, to adopt reforms more sweeping than those already in the works.

The SEC told the exchange to clean house in a big way or prepare to take orders from Washington.

2. Formal proceedings by the SEC, and perhpas the Justice Department, against some of the Amex members named as wrongdoers.

The SEC is known to be holding back considerable evidence against some of these men—evidence which presumably would be produced in a hearing room. Asked why the report only hinted at market rigging and made no direct charges, an SEC official said, "We can't try these guys in a report."

3. More vigorous policing of exchanges by the SEC.

The Amex investigation, and a broader SEC study of the entire securities business, authorized by Congress and just getting started, grew out of commission proceedings against Jerry and Gerard Re, prominent Amex specialists.

The Res, father and son, were expelled from the exchange last May for multiple stock rigging and illegal transactions involving more than $10 million. They have since been arrested on criminal charges.

The scope of the Re case jarred the SEC because as specialists they held the most important positions in the market, being responsible for the conduct of fair and orderly auctions in assigned stocks.

Shades Of Rawhide; Rustlers Hit County

LISBON — Deputy sheriffs are looking for cattle rustlers who hit two herds in the western part of Columbiana County Friday, according to Sheriff Russell VanFossan.

Lloyd Barrick of Minerva R.D. 2 reported the theft of three white-faced Hereford bulls weighing about 90 pounds each and a Holstein heifer from his barn in West Township sometinte early Friday morning.

Herman Haueter of Hanoverton R.D. 1 said a Hereford bull weighing about 300 pounds was stolen from his barn sometime yesterday.

At the Barrick farm, Deputy James Miller tracked the cattle to where they were loaded on a truck. No further report was available on the Haueter theft.

She died Friday morning at Alliance City Hospital following an illness of about five years.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Sunday afternoon and evening.

Loss Is $12,000 In Trucks Crash

Damage was estimated at $12,000 when two coal trucks collided on Route 152, two and eight tenths miles south of Empire, at 7:40 a. m. Thursday.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a south - bound semi-truck operated by Richard W. Atkins, 42, of Toronto slid left of center on a curve and crashed into the north - bound tandem truck of John E. McLain, 36, of Box 54, Irondale.

The truck driven by Atkins was empty and was en route to the Jensie Mine. It had an aluminum trailer.

The tandem truck of McLain was loaded with coal, some of which spilled on the highway.

Patrolmen estimated $7,500 damage to the Atkins truck and $4,500 damage to McLain's rig.

Yellow Creek Lights Start

The State Highway Department is preparing to move into the second stage of safety improvements at Yellow Creek after placing overhead lighting in operation this week.

E. S. Preston, director of Ohio highways, said 10 new 400-watt mercury vapor lights were turned on Thursday and dual "stop ahead" signs with electric flashers were placed in operation on State Route 213 west of Route 7 to alert motorists approaching the junction.

The second stage of improvements will consist of the installation of dual, red and yellow flashing beacons over the center of the junction, and the erection of 4-x-8-foot overhead directional signs on Route 7, about 500 feet north and south of the junction.

In addition, 48-inch "intersection ahead" warning signs will be installed on Route 7 to warn drivers of the hazardous intersection.

The signs will have yellow electric flashers to attract drivers' attention. Special signs, "Fog Area," will be installed on Route 7 outside on both sides of the area where a pocket of fog normally settles, Preston said.

Planning and engineering of the second stage improvement projects has been completed, and the safety devices will be installed upon delivery.

The additional safety features were ordered added by Director Preston after a meeting in his Columbus office with a committee of Northern Jefferson County residents seeking construction of an underpass or overpass, or an improvement.

The Yellow Creek junction of Routes 7 and 213 has been the scene of a number of mishaps in foggy weather.

Kennel Owner Finds He Lacks Dog License

Unless a city man returns the kennel application he picked up unknowingly this morning at City Hall, he will be without a license for his dogs.

Mrs. Robert Croyle, wife of the city dog warden, who is selling licenses at City Hall, asked the unidentified man to contact her.

Mrs. Croyle said the man paid for the kennel license but picked up the application along with his receipt. Unless it is returned, a license cannot be issued by the county auditor's office, she explained.

Applications are forwarded to the auditor's office and one copy is returned to the owner along with the license.

UOVDC Retains City Man In Post

C. W. Ashbaugh of East Liverpool has been re-elected first vice president of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, which also returned Dr. E. B. Weinman of Steubenville to his second term as president.

Also re-elected to serve during 1962 were Walter A. Durkin, second vice president, Wellsburg, and James M. Flenniken, secretary-treasurer, Weirton.

Dr. Weinman has been active in the UOVDC since its inception in 1954, and has served in a number of key positions with the Council, with headquarters at Steubenville.

Dr. Weinman expressed appreciation to the council's Board of Directors and called for the continued support of the many communities which have made possible the formation of the Council and the success of its efforts.

He said applicants for the position of executive manager, recently vacated by Walter L. Myers, Jr., are being interviewed and that a fully - qualified person would be employed to carry on the work of the council.

65 At Hookstown Grange's Dinner

About 65 attended the annual dues - paying dinner of the Hookstown Grange Thursday evening in the Grange Hall.

Charles Stewart, master, presided for business and plans were made for a public card party Jan. 13 at the Grange Hall.

Mrs. Chester Elliott, lecturer, was in charge of the program, a demonstration of ritual work. Members gave New Year's resolutions and there were games and group singing.

The Juvenile Grange met with Mrs. William Stewart, matron, in charge.

Next meeting is Jan. 18.

Inquest Due Into 2 Deaths

WEIRTON — A coroner's inquest into the deaths of two Weirton rooming house tenants will be held in the office of Squire Thomas Bellanco, acting Hancock County coroner, this afternoon.

Mrs. Dean Allen, 2001 Pennsylvania Ave., reported to police at 4:18 p. m. Friday that a roomer in her house, Frank Zapotoczny, 47, was found dead on the front steps.

Squire Bellanco was called to the scene, along with a local physician, who pronounced him dead. The body was removed to the Schwerha Funeral Home.

Zapotoczny was believed to have died of acute intoxication but police said today they suspect some other cause.

At 12:25 a. m. today, John Grossi, county juvenile and probation officer, advised police that a neighbor had reported one of her roomers was locked in the bathroom and apparently had suffered a heart attack.

Police had to break down the bathroom door and found Gus Londrakis, of 3121 Elm St., lying on the floor. He was rushed to Weirton General Hospital and pronounced dead.

The rooming house operator told police Londrakis had been in the bathroom for a considerable period before she became alarmed.

and sent out notices to engineering firms with 10 or more employes. Hays said the final selection was made in a four-step process.

"I believe Rep. Hays spoke before he had full information." Forrest Bruce Pyle, partner in the architectural engineering firm of Glaus, Pyle & Schomer, said in Akron. The Army Corps of Engineers awarded contracts to 700 firms throughout the nation only after a carefully worked out program.

"Cordell R. Glaus and Robert J. Schomer, of our firm, attended a training program without any hope of getting a contract before our firm was selected."

Pyle said the current program was the most economical method of getting data.

His firm's job is to check all buildings to see which are suitable for use as protective centers against radioactive fallout. They will check not only buildings considered suitable, but those which can be made into shelters with a few alterations.

The data collected will be sent to the Bureau of Census where it will run through computers to determine present potential in fallout centers and what is needed to make other existing buildings good for the purpose.

Lisbon Mayor Plans Office Appointments

LISBON — Plans were completed for the county officers meeting when the Lisbon Grange met Friday night at the Grange Hall. Mrs. Zada Crosser, master, presided.

The Lisbon Grange will be host for the officers' session Tuesday night.

Khrushchev Recovers From Grippe Attack

MOSCOW (AP)—A government spokesman said today that Premier Khrushchev recovered swiftly from an attack of grippe and is back at work.

There was no word on whether he will make his scheduled trip to Byelorussia next week during which he had planned to meet Polish Communist chief Wladislaw Gomulka for a hunting trip.

ed for reckless driving after she and a companion, Mrs. Charlotte Adkins, 46, of 207 Walnut St. were injured in the crash at 1:50 a.m.

Mrs. Adkins was to undergo surgery today at City Hospital for a compound fracture of the right ankle. She also received small but numerous lacerations of the forehead.

Mrs. Beaver was treated for abrasions and contusions of the right knee and released.

Mrs. Beaver told police she was descending Market St. when her brakes failed and the car finally struck the hydrant. Police said they checked the car after the crash and it had no brakes.

The entire front of the 1956 sedan owned by Victor H. Beaver was damaged, officers said.

A collision at 6:40 p.m. Friday at Dresden Ave. and W. 6th St. involved cars operated by Paul R. Lucas, 30, of Darlington R.D. 2 and W. Burton Jack of East Liverpool R.D. 2. Lucas said he stopped for the traffic signal when hit in the rear by Jack. Jack claimed Lucas stopped in the intersection.

Two other motorists told police their cars were damaged by hit-skip drivers.

James E. Martin, 45, of 2213 Ohio Ave. told officers he was headed east on the River Rd. at 5:40 p.m. yesterday when his 1951 car was hit in the rear by a jeep whose driver fled without stopping.

Martin furnished police with the West Virginia license number.

He told police he followed the jeep into Chester but gave up the pursuit when the vehicle pulled into an alley and turned off its lights.

Ben Vaughn of Youngstown told police yesterday the rear end of his car was damaged while parked on Highland St., about 300 feet east of Riverview St., Thursday night or early Friday.

Yellow Creek Grange Honors 8 Juveniles

Exercises honoring eight members of the Juvenile Grange who graduated into the subordinate Grange marked the meeting of the Yellow Creek Grange Thursday night at its Hall.

A certificate and gift from the Juvenile Grange were received by Janet Dunn, Betty Gilmore, Carol Sue Jack, Darla Jean Reight, Judy Lyn Shafer, Bill Forbes, Larry Mick and Delbert Williams.

Russell Reight, master, was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, patron and matron of the Juvenile Grange. A chicken supper was served at 6:15 by Mr. and Mrs. Williams assisted by Grange members. Some 23 members of the juvenile group were present.

Killed By Auto

CLEVELAND (AP) — A man identified tentatively as Halman Hegyi, 83, of Cleveland was hit by a car and killed Friday night at East 90th Street and Buckeye Road SE. It was Cleveland's first traffic fatality of 1962.

Signs Slated For Township

Signs designating the limits of Liverpool Township were ordered at a meeting of the township trustees Friday night in the Council Chambers at City Hall.

The signs will be erected along various roads in the near future. The trustees have received several inquiries as to the area of the township.

George Miller asked permission to close a road right-of-way between Crestview Dr. and Cain St. It never has been officially opened. The trustees informed him they would approve the action if no objections were received.

Leonard Waters of Kountz Ave. applied for a position of police constable when and if there is an opening.

Complaints were received on road conditions and the road crew was instructed to make repairs. The crew also was authorized to purchase rock salt for spreading on icy roads.

The trustees, Guy Digman, Richard Sanford and Frank Gray, along with Simon C. Hall, clerk, will attend the state convention of trustees and clerks Jan. 17-20 at Columbus.

Trustees also approved the purchase of two new fire extinguishers for the township garage to meet state requirements.

Next meeting is Tuesday, Jan. 16, as the trustees will be leaving for the convention.

Services for Mrs. Laura A. Martin of Kensington R. D., a former resident of Wellsville R. D., will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by Daniel R. Duerksen, student pastor of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

She died Friday morning at Alliance City Hospital following an illness of about five years.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Sunday afternoon and evening.

Loss Is $12,000 In Trucks Crash

Damage was estimated at $12,000 when two coal trucks collided on Route 152, two and eight tenths miles south of Empire, at 7:40 a. m. Thursday.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a south - bound semi-truck operated by Richard W. Atkins, 42, of Toronto slid left of center on a curve and crashed into the north - bound tandem truck of John E. McLain, 36, of Box 54, Irondale.

The truck driven by Atkins was empty and was en route to the Jensie Mine. It had an aluminum trailer.

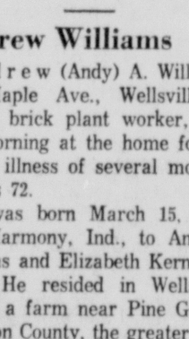

The tandem truck of McLain was loaded with coal, some of which spilled on the highway.

Patrolmen estimated $7,500 damage to the Atkins truck and $4,500 damage to McLain's rig.

Yellow Creek Lights Start

The State Highway Department is preparing to move into the second stage of safety improvements at Yellow Creek after placing overhead lighting in operation this week.

E. S. Preston, director of Ohio highways, said 10 new 400-watt mercury vapor lights were turned on Thursday and dual "stop ahead" signs with electric flashers were placed in operation on State Route 213 west of Route 7 to alert motorists approaching the junction.

The second stage of improvements will consist of the installation of dual, red and yellow flashing beacons over the center of the junction, and the erection of 4-x-8-foot overhead directional signs on Route 7, about 500 feet north and south of the junction.

In addition, 48-inch "intersection ahead" warning signs will be installed on Route 7 to warn drivers of the hazardous intersection.

The signs will have yellow electric flashers to attract drivers' attention. Special signs, "Fog Area," will be installed on Route 7 outside on both sides of the area where a pocket of fog normally settles, Preston said.

Planning and engineering of the second stage improvement projects has been completed, and the safety devices will be installed upon delivery.

The additional safety features were ordered added by Director Preston after a meeting in his Columbus office with a committee of Northern Jefferson County residents seeking construction of an underpass or overpass, or an improvement.

The Yellow Creek junction of Routes 7 and 213 has been the scene of a number of mishaps in foggy weather.

Kennel Owner Finds He Lacks Dog License

Unless a city man returns the kennel application he picked up unknowingly this morning at City Hall, he will be without a license for his dogs.

Mrs. Robert Croyle, wife of the city dog warden, who is selling licenses at City Hall, asked the unidentified man to contact her.

Mrs. Croyle said the man paid for the kennel license but picked up the application along with his receipt. Unless it is returned, a license cannot be issued by the county auditor's office, she explained.

Applications are forwarded to the auditor's office and one copy is returned to the owner along with the license.

UOVDC Retains City Man In Post

C. W. Ashbaugh of East Liverpool has been re-elected first vice president of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, which also returned Dr. E. B. Weinman of Steubenville to his second term as president.

Also re-elected to serve during 1962 were Walter A. Durkin, second vice president, Wellsburg, and James M. Flenniken, secretary-treasurer, Weirton.

Dr. Weinman has been active in the UOVDC since its inception in 1954, and has served in a number of key positions with the Council, with headquarters at Steubenville.

Dr. Weinman expressed appreciation to the council's Board of Directors and called for the continued support of the many communities which have made possible the formation of the Council and the success of its efforts.

He said applicants for the position of executive manager, recently vacated by Walter L. Myers, Jr., are being interviewed and that a fully - qualified person would be employed to carry on the work of the council.

65 At Hookstown Grange's Dinner

About 65 attended the annual dues - paying dinner of the Hookstown Grange Thursday evening in the Grange Hall.

Charles Stewart, master, presided for business and plans were made for a public card party Jan. 13 at the Grange Hall.

Mrs. Chester Elliott, lecturer, was in charge of the program, a demonstration of ritual work. Members gave New Year's resolutions and there were games and group singing.

The Juvenile Grange met with Mrs. William Stewart, matron, in charge.

Next meeting is Jan. 18.

Inquest Due Into 2 Deaths

WEIRTON — A coroner's inquest into the deaths of two Weirton rooming house tenants will be held in the office of Squire Thomas Bellanco, acting Hancock County coroner, this afternoon.

Mrs. Dean Allen, 2001 Pennsylvania Ave., reported to police at 4:18 p. m. Friday that a roomer in her house, Frank Zapotoczny, 47, was found dead on the front steps.

Squire Bellanco was called to the scene, along with a local physician, who pronounced him dead. The body was removed to the Schwerha Funeral Home.

Zapotoczny was believed to have died of acute intoxication but police said today they suspect some other cause.

At 12:25 a. m. today, John Grossi, county juvenile and probation officer, advised police that a neighbor had reported one of her roomers was locked in the bathroom and apparently had suffered a heart attack.

Police had to break down the bathroom door and found Gus Londrakis, of 3121 Elm St., lying on the floor. He was rushed to Weirton General Hospital and pronounced dead.

The rooming house operator told police Londrakis had been in the bathroom for a considerable period before she became alarmed.

and sent out notices to engineering firms with 10 or more employes. Hays said the final selection was made in a four-step process.

"I believe Rep. Hays spoke before he had full information." Forrest Bruce Pyle, partner in the architectural engineering firm of Glaus, Pyle & Schomer, said in Akron. The Army Corps of Engineers awarded contracts to 700 firms throughout the nation only after a carefully worked out program.

"Cordell R. Glaus and Robert J. Schomer, of our firm, attended a training program without any hope of getting a contract before our firm was selected."

Pyle said the current program was the most economical method of getting data.

His firm's job is to check all buildings to see which are suitable for use as protective centers against radioactive fallout. They will check not only buildings considered suitable, but those which can be made into shelters with a few alterations.

The data collected will be sent to the Bureau of Census where it will run through computers to determine present potential in fallout centers and what is needed to make other existing buildings good for the purpose.

Lisbon Mayor Plans Office Appointments

LISBON — Plans were completed for the county officers meeting when the Lisbon Grange met Friday night at the Grange Hall. Mrs. Zada Crosser, master, presided.

The Lisbon Grange will be host for the officers' session Tuesday night.

Khrushchev Recovers From Grippe Attack

MOSCOW (AP)—A government spokesman said today that Premier Khrushchev recovered swiftly from an attack of grippe and is back at work.

There was no word on whether he will make his scheduled trip to Byelorussia next week during which he had planned to meet Polish Communist chief Wladislaw Gomulka for a hunting trip.

ed for reckless driving after she and a companion, Mrs. Charlotte Adkins, 46, of 207 Walnut St. were injured in the crash at 1:50 a.m.

Mrs. Adkins was to undergo surgery today at City Hospital for a compound fracture of the right ankle. She also received small but numerous lacerations of the forehead.

Mrs. Beaver was treated for abrasions and contusions of the right knee and released.

Mrs. Beaver told police she was descending Market St. when her brakes failed and the car finally struck the hydrant. Police said they checked the car after the crash and it had no brakes.

The entire front of the 1956 sedan owned by Victor H. Beaver was damaged, officers said.

A collision at 6:40 p.m. Friday at Dresden Ave. and W. 6th St. involved cars operated by Paul R. Lucas, 30, of Darlington R.D. 2 and W. Burton Jack of East Liverpool R.D. 2. Lucas said he stopped for the traffic signal when hit in the rear by Jack. Jack claimed Lucas stopped in the intersection.

Two other motorists told police their cars were damaged by hit-skip drivers.

James E. Martin, 45, of 2213 Ohio Ave. told officers he was headed east on the River Rd. at 5:40 p.m. yesterday when his 1951 car was hit in the rear by a jeep whose driver fled without stopping.

Martin furnished police with the West Virginia license number.

He told police he followed the jeep into Chester but gave up the pursuit when the vehicle pulled into an alley and turned off its lights.

Ben Vaughn of Youngstown told police yesterday the rear end of his car was damaged while parked on Highland St., about 300 feet east of Riverview St., Thursday night or early Friday.

Yellow Creek Grange Honors 8 Juveniles

Exercises honoring eight members of the Juvenile Grange who graduated into the subordinate Grange marked the meeting of the Yellow Creek Grange Thursday night at its Hall.

A certificate and gift from the Juvenile Grange were received by Janet Dunn, Betty Gilmore, Carol Sue Jack, Darla Jean Reight, Judy Lyn Shafer, Bill Forbes, Larry Mick and Delbert Williams.

Russell Reight, master, was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, patron and matron of the Juvenile Grange. A chicken supper was served at 6:15 by Mr. and Mrs. Williams assisted by Grange members. Some 23 members of the juvenile group were present.

Killed By Auto

CLEVELAND (AP) — A man identified tentatively as Halman Hegyi, 83, of Cleveland was hit by a car and killed Friday night at East 90th Street and Buckeye Road SE. It was Cleveland's first traffic fatality of 1962.

Signs Slated For Township

Signs designating the limits of Liverpool Township were ordered at a meeting of the township trustees Friday night in the Council Chambers at City Hall.

The signs will be erected along various roads in the near future. The trustees have received several inquiries as to the area of the township.

George Miller asked permission to close a road right-of-way between Crestview Dr. and Cain St. It never has been officially opened. The trustees informed him they would approve the action if no objections were received.

Leonard Waters of Kountz Ave. applied for a position of police constable when and if there is an opening.

Complaints were received on road conditions and the road crew was instructed to make repairs. The crew also was authorized to purchase rock salt for spreading on icy roads.

The trustees, Guy Digman, Richard Sanford and Frank Gray, along with Simon C. Hall, clerk, will attend the state convention of trustees and clerks Jan. 17-20 at Columbus.

Trustees also approved the purchase of two new fire extinguishers for the township garage to meet state requirements.

Contractor's Machines Due At Road Job

The contractor for the relocation of 2.5 miles of four - lane Ohio Route 7 at Port Homer in Jefferson County will begin moving equipment to the site next week.

The State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia said today the S. J. Groves Co. of Minneapolis will then begin preliminary clearing work.

Russell DeWitt, district supervisor, and Charles Freeman, project superintendent of the construction firm, said that grading and drainage work will begin the first of February and probably continue into next year.

Dallas Wolford, structures superintendent of the contractor, said that work would begin on footers for the bridges late in February and that the company hopes to have structures completed by the end of this construction season.

First grading will be done near the beginning of the $2,623,976 project at the Ohio Edison Co. plant.

The completion date of the relocation project to link existing sections of four - lane Route 7 is Oct. 31, 1963.

Traffic will be maintained on existing two-lane Route 7 during construction work, the State Highway Department said.

William P. McKenna, Division 11 deputy director, said the project begins at the north end of Stratton near the Ohio Edison plant and will follow the hill to connect with the four - lane pavement near Flagpole Hill south of Wellsville.

Work will involve excavation of nearly 700,000 cubic yards of earth and rock, as well as the construction of three bridges.

Officials of the S. J. Groves Co. outlined the contractor's work plans at a meeting in New Philadelphia. Among those present were Charles Klepak, engineer for Groves Co., Division 11 officials, and others from Ohio Bell Telephone Co., Ohio Power Co., Ohio Edison Co., Manufacturers Light & Heat Co., and the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Jobless Claims Begin '62 Where '61 Ended-High

Unemployment closed out the old year and started the new on a high note in East Liverpool, the Ohio State Employment Service said today.

The old year ended with a total of 791 claims processed during the week ending Dec. 30 and the office handled 793 claims this week, Dinsmore said. For the week ending Dec. 23, 619 claims were filed.

Claims this week included 110 initial and 578 on the continuing basis under the regular program with 13 new and 92 continuing claims filed under the temporary extended compensation act, Dinsmore reported.

A total of 701 regular and 90 extended claims were filed for the week which ended Dec. 30 while in the week preceding Christmas the office handled 468 regular claims and 151 extended.

Plumbing Code Aired In Initial Area Class

LISBON — About 57 attended the first of three sessions on interpretation of the Ohio plumbing code Thursday night at Salem High School.

Aide Elevated At Stevenson

The Stevenson Co. at Wellsville today announced the promotion of E. J. Fitzgerald, 955 Riverside Ave., from plant superintendent to plant manager.

Fitzgerald was promoted by Max Isaacson, president of the firm, because of the increased sales for 1961 over the previous years. The promotion will give Fitzgerald the full responsibility of production on the clay, chemical and deburring equipment, and relieve D. Van Eerden, general manager, of his production duties so he can concentrate more on large projects for complete plants.

The firm has added a new line of equipment for deburring metal and porcelain parts to its standard equipment of crushers, grinding pans and clay pipe presses. This resulted in a nearly double sales volume in 1961, the firm said.

Heating and vulcanizing ovens, paint spray installations and sand blast facilities have been added during the previous year to diversify operations in all fields.

The position of plant superintendent has not been filled. Steps will be taken to hire a capable person, the Stevenson Co. said.

The electrical installation of the deburring machines has been transferred from the parent plant, Globe Industries, Inc., in Dayton, to Wellsville and this will require additional manpower of electricians.

The firm said foreign orders are increasing rapidly, but not additional manpower recruiting is contemplated for the next two months.

3 Autoists Cited After 2 Accidents

Three motorists were cited for traffic violations as the result of two minor accidents Friday in the northern part of the county, according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said cars driven by Helen A. Kemp, 47, of Hanoverton R.D. 1 and Donald E. Kirven, 18, of Minerva collided nearly headon on the Buffalo Rd., a mile northeast of East Rochester, Friday at 11:45 a.m.

Due to the icy condition of the road, both motorists were driving in the center, officers said. Both were cited for driving on the wrong side of the highway.

A car driven by David R. Knoedler, 17, of Salem R.D. 1 struck another being backed out of a driveway by Ellen Blake, 48, of Salem R.D. 1 on Route 534 a half mile north of Route 62 near Damascus yesterday at 6:45 p.m.

Knoedler was arrested for driving without an operator's permit.

Common Pleas Court Keeps Ahead Of Cases

LISBON — Columbiana County Common Pleas Court disposed of 29 more cases than were filed in December, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

The two divisions had 847 cases pending Dec. 1 with 49 more filed, for a total of 896, while 78 were disposed, leaving 818 as of Jan. 1.

Twenty-seven were tried by court, five by jury, eight were cognovit and default judgments and 38 were settled and dismissed.

5,350 Ballots Ordered For Special Vote

The Wilson Printing House of Market St. was awarded a contract Friday afternoon by the County Election Board to supply 5,350 ballots for a special election Tuesday, Feb. 13, in the Southern Local School District.

Wilson's low bid was $64, based on a quotation of $12 per 1,000 ballots. The Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem asked $16.75 per 1,000 and the Wellsville Press bid $20.46 per 1,000.

The Columbus Blank Book Co. was awarded a contract to supply poll books on its bid of $16.50 per precinct. Other bids were: Herr Printing Co., also of Columbus, and Johnson - Watson Printing Co. of Dayton, both $18.75 per precinct.

The district will vote on a question whether part of the area should be permitted to withdraw and unite with Carroll County school districts. The section in question is the former Franklin Local School District, merged with Southern Local by the County Board of Education.

The district has 13 precincts. Exercising a prerogative under state law, the Election Board agreed to conduct the election on the so-called "economy" plan, using four officials in each precinct instead of the usual six and paying them $12 instead of $16 for the day's work.

The board decided against assigning voters in two precincts to vote in adjoining polling places. They are East Precinct of Yellow Creek Township, where no Southern Local votes were cast last November, and South Precinct of Center Township, where two school district votes were cast.

Because of the legal involvements that might arise in the reassignment, the board decided the voters in the two precincts would use their usual polling places at the special election.

Supplies for the special election will be packed at the board's office in East Liverpool. Presiding judges will pick them up here prior to the election and return them following the voting.

Water Crew Hunts For Broadway Leak

A water department crew was called late Friday to excavate a section of Broadway to locate a leak believed to be in an abandoned service line.

Donald T. Duke, department superintendent, said he believes the break developed in a service line at Broadway and Dry Alley, which formerly served the Potters Lumber Co.

City firemen set up a portable lighting system and generator at 6 p. m. to aid the workmen and then returned at 9 p. m. to pump out the excavation.

Playboy Quizzed In 1935 Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—International playboy Porfirio Rubirosa was questioned by an assistant district attorney for almost three hours Friday about a 1935 slaying here. He left the session with a subpoena to appear before a grand jury on Tuesday.

The questioning by Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Herman, head of the homicide bureau, dealt with the murder of Sergio Bencosme, an anti-Trujillo exile from the Dominican Republic shot to death April 28, 1935.

A grand jury in 1936 indicted a first cousin of Rubirosa for the slaying, but he never was apprehended.

Rubirosa, stripped of his diplomatic immunity when he was ousted as a Dominican diplomat last Tuesday, appeared voluntarily at the district attorney's office.

"I know nothing about this," the onetime son-in-law of the assassinated Dominican dictator, Rafael L. Trujillo, told newsmen as he entered.

Legislative Message Of Barron To Be Brief

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. Barron's address to the 1962 West Virginia legislature convening next Wednesday is expected to be brief.

It probably will take him only 12 to 14 minutes to outline to a joint session of the Senate and House what legislation he wants enacted.

Columbiana Motorist Fined $100, Jailed

LISBON — Robert J. Tullis, 40, of Columbiana was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in the County Jail by County Judge James L. MacDonald Friday when found guilty of driving while intoxicated. Others fined were:

William C. Dickson, 27, of Lisbon R.D. 5, Arnold F. McCall, 53, of Lisbon R.D. 3, and Victor M. Pshnishniak, 27, of Niles, $5 for speeding and $15 for driving with an expired license.

Fred A. Farina, 20, of Wellsville forfeited a $20 appearance bond for speeding. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Contractor's Machines Due At Road Job

The contractor for the relocation of 2.5 miles of four - lane Ohio Route 7 at Port Homer in Jefferson County will begin moving equipment to the site next week.

The State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia said today the S. J. Groves Co. of Minneapolis will then begin preliminary clearing work.

Russell DeWitt, district supervisor, and Charles Freeman, project superintendent of the construction firm, said that grading and drainage work will begin the first of February and probably continue into next year.

Dallas Wolford, structures superintendent of the contractor, said that work would begin on footers for the bridges late in February and that the company hopes to have structures completed by the end of this construction season.

First grading will be done near the beginning of the $2,623,976 project at the Ohio Edison Co. plant.

The completion date of the relocation project to link existing sections of four - lane Route 7 is Oct. 31, 1963.

Traffic will be maintained on existing two-lane Route 7 during construction work, the State Highway Department said.

William P. McKenna, Division 11 deputy director, said the project begins at the north end of Stratton near the Ohio Edison plant and will follow the hill to connect with the four - lane pavement near Flagpole Hill south of Wellsville.

Work will involve excavation of nearly 700,000 cubic yards of earth and rock, as well as the construction of three bridges.

Officials of the S. J. Groves Co. outlined the contractor's work plans at a meeting in New Philadelphia. Among those present were Charles Klepak, engineer for Groves Co., Division 11 officials, and others from Ohio Bell Telephone Co., Ohio Power Co., Ohio Edison Co., Manufacturers Light & Heat Co., and the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Jobless Claims Begin '62 Where '61 Ended–High

Unemployment closed out the old year and started the new on a high note in East Liverpool, the Ohio State Employment Service said today.

The old year ended with a total of 791 claims processed during the week ending Dec. 30 and the office handled 793 claims this week, Dinsmore said. For the week ending Dec. 23, 619 claims were filed.

Claims this week included 110 initial and 578 on the continuing basis under the regular program with 13 new and 92 continuing claims filed under the temporary extended compensation act, Dinsmore reported.

A total of 701 regular and 90 extended claims were filed for the week which ended Dec. 30 while in the week preceding Christmas the office handled 468 regular claims and 151 extended.

Aide Elevated At Stevenson

The Stevenson Co. at Wellsville today announced the promotion of E. J. Fitzgerald, 955 Riverside Ave., from plant superintendent to plant manager.

Fitzgerald was promoted by Max Isaacson, president of the firm, because of the increased sales for 1961 over the previous years. The promotion will give Fitzgerald the full responsibility of production on the clay, chemical and deburring equipment, and relieve D. Van Eerden, general manager, of his production duties so he can concentrate more on large projects for complete plants.

The firm has added a new line of equipment for deburring metal and porcelain parts to its standard equipment of crushers, grinding pans and clay pipe presses. This resulted in a nearly double sales volume in 1961, the firm said.

Playboy Quizzed In 1935 Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—International playboy Porfirio Rubirosa was questioned by an assistant district attorney for almost three hours Friday about a 1935 slaying here. He left the session with a subpoena to appear before a grand jury on Tuesday.

The questioning by Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Herman, head of the homicide bureau, dealt with the murder of Sergio Bencosme, an anti-Trujillo exile from the Dominican Republic shot to death April 28, 1935.

A grand jury in 1936 indicted a first cousin of Rubirosa for the slaying, but he never was apprehended.

Rubirosa, stripped of his diplomatic immunity when he was ousted as a Dominican diplomat last Tuesday, appeared voluntarily at the district attorney's office.

"I know nothing about this," the onetime son-in-law of the assassinated Dominican dictator, Rafael L. Trujillo, told newsmen as he entered.

Not Even A Temporary Improvement

If the Kennedy administration has sent up a trial balloon to test popular opinion on executive authority to raise and lower income taxes, subject to legislative approval, it should be shot down.

It is attractive to think about an overnight tax decrease by executive order; not attractive at all to think about an overnight increase by the same method. But there undeniably are times when it would be advantageous to make quick tax adjustments in this manner.

Tax adjustments should not be at the mercy of self-serving politicians in Congress. All tax questions should be settled on a basis of what is good for all people, not what is good for minority blocs with strong legislative representation.

Right now, for example, it would be a multi-billion-dollar idea if depreciation allowances could be revised drastically, with a view to giving business concerns a faster tax writeoff on new machinery and thereby encouraging them to improve their competitive position.

In event of a wartime crisis it would be a multi-billion-dollar idea if income tax rates could be increased rapidly enough to put a crimp in profiteering. There are many situations in which an objective decision on taxes would be preferable to a political decision. But it wouldn't be even a temporary improvement to take the taxing power away from Congress.

Where does the idea come from that the White House would be more objective and less political than Congress? Where does the idea come from that overnight decisions on taxes would be influenced less by pressure blocs than delayed decisions?

The president of the United States and his tax advisers are as vulnerable to pressure blocs as U.S. representatives and senators.

Within a few years after Congress had delegated its power to make its political decisions on taxation, pressure blocs would have perfected a tchnique for handling the White House. There would be the same kind of politics, but by executive decree instead of legislative log-rolling.

If it's really a trial balloon that has been sent aloft in the report that President Kennedy is considering asking for such an arrangement, ready — aim — fire!

Otherwise, Two Weeks In Paris

Beginning soon after Jan. 8 news reports from Paris will describe the success or lack of it in a meeting called the Atlantic Convention.

Twenty U.S. citizens, 10 from each major political party, will make up the delegation from this country. There will be 98 delegates altogether.

Their purpose will be to explore problems holding members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at arm's length and see what they can suggest for replacing discord with harmony.

The convention stems from congressional action in 1960 establishing a U.S. Citizens Commission on NATO. This group was instructed to meet with delegates from other NATO countries. Congress gave it $277,000 to pay for a staff and other expenses. The 20 members of the commission are giving their services free.

But Congress did not authorize the delegates to speak for the United States. Congress did not spell out what they represented in any respect, other than to give them a mandate to "achieve more effective and democratic unity." The convention could be a flop if the delegates have no reason to save it.

There is one thing they may find interesting that was not foreseen in 1960, when the idea of the Atlantic Convention first with the NATO Parliamentarians Conference and an organization known as the Atlantic Congress, which met in 1959.

One article of the NATO treaty pledges member nations to develop "peaceful and friendly relations . . . to eliminate conflicts in their international economic policies . . . and to encourage economic collaboration between any or all of them."

The biggest idea in the Atlantic community is economic collaboration, specifically the kind of collaboration represented by the common market.

There will be, first, a two-week session in Paris, then a recess, then another session. If the common market gets into the discussion, the Atlantic Convention could turn into one of the newsworthy events of 1962.

All The Cards On The Table

The State Department "white paper" on Cuba lays the cards on the table.

It signifies that the United States officially views Communist domination of Cuba as a threat to hemispheric security.

It comes to grips with the solid menace of a Communist outpost manned by active and efficient agents of an international conspiracy 90 miles from the coastline of the United States.

It makes clear to all other countries in this hemisphere that the United States is not taking a live-and-let-live attitude about an unfriendly puppet government in Cuba.

It signifies to all nations of the earth that modern circumstances have not taken the significance out of the Monroe Doctrine; that the United States regards Communists as being just as truly agents of foreign power as it would regard a colonizing expedition from Russia, China and Czechoslovakia, principal sources of the Communist agents who have been busy in Cuba.

And most of all it amounts to a declaration to the people of the United States that their government's long-term policy calls for resisting development of Cuba as an economic, military and revolutionizing outpost of the Communist Conspiracy.

The groundwork has been put in place for a growing structure of official resistance to the trend of events in Cuba. Withdrawal of diplomatic recognition one year ago now has been followed by what amounts to a withdrawal of confidence in Cuba's ability to rid itself of the domination that makes it dangerous to hemispheric security.

Speculation about the next overt move in the stiffening resistance to the Cuban threat now becomes timely. Fidel Castro and his associates and their backers will be the most anxious speculators. Another major tension is developing in international relations, but this time the Communist bloc holds the untenable position. This is Berlin in reverse, with Cuba at the end of the overextended supply line.

The Castro regime has been screaming a long time about invasion. It could be right. The United Nations shortly may have something of more immediate concern to discuss than whether or not Nehru and Menon should have given the order to drive the Portuguese out of Goa.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The new arrival in psychiatric ward was especially disturbed, almost to the point of violence. "You'll be okay," said an interne. "Yeah? With what pills, capsules, powders, hair tonics and cake mixes?" he responded wildly.

"Relax," urged the interne. "Relax with which cigarette?" asked the patient.

The interne left as a nurse entered and stood over him smilingly. "Wipe off that grin. I recognize you. You're about to go into a salespitch for sleeping pills. One tablet and it's morning. Get out!" snapped the man.

"I'm your nurse. Just came in for a chat on your condition," she said. "You can't fool me. Three other gals will get into the act and go into quartette number on what kind of beer I need," insisted the patient.

"Let me take your temperature," urged the nurse. "You look feverish." "Sure I'm feverish. It's those razor blades, shaving soaps, toothpastes, pizza pies, vermouths, cigars, floor waxes and detergents. They pursue me everywhere, play by play and climax by climax."

Now the doctor came in. The patient looked at his white coat and screamed, "Ah, now I understand! I didn't hear the 'wanted in surgery' part of it but this is a soap opera interrupted as usual by an order to see my dentist twice a year, build my body five ways and be sure to have plenty of soda at the ski party. Scram!"

The doctor and nurses came closer and cleared their throats. "Fair warning. Don't you break into a jingle or I'll tear this place apart," the patient barked.

"I've got it," said the doctor. "You're suffering from televisionitis aggravated by a clear case of advanced madness due to overexposure to commercials interrupting TV programs far too often."

"Who isn't?" groaned the patient, falling back exhausted.

IN NEW YORK, cemetery workers have gained the five-day week, with overtime for weekend burials. We're in an age when the dead can be victims of desire for better living conditions!

Cemetery workers have tough life, devoid of cheer, and are as entitled to the breaks so general among other workers but the high cost of dying is up there close to high cost of living. Let's hope cemetery gates will be spared picket lines and banners reading, "This final departure unfair."

Gotham has also had a fight over hospital workers' demands, with several cops injured in battle. (Things are tough all over.)

Yonkers woman climbed into a taxi in share-the-ride movement during N.Y. bus strike and found other occupant had kangaroo with him. She wound up jumpier than the animal.

As many nations in U.N. might put it these days:

Look to us to boost the snafu,
Watch us tear each hope apart,
As we toss the monkey wrenches
And upset the applecart;
Let us flaunt each U.N. purpose
And a warlike method choose —
But we warn you don't expect us
To come through and PAY OUR DUES!

Listen while we vote against you
And withhold the firehose,
Turning from the global blazes,
Just to sock you in the nose;
Gangway while we cause more trouble
Grinning as each fight you lose!
(And please don't exasperate us
With: "Hey, how about your dues?")

Two men, who later became presidents of the U. S., opposed each other earlier for the office of vice president. These were Calvin Coolidge, who ran with Harding, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, who ran with James Cox in 1920.

Better Make It Good!

New Law Needed To Fight Rackets

By Victor Riesel

Only the terrorized—and some national and regional enforcement agencies—have noticed but now there are more than 1,000 dummy, charter - it - yourself unions operating across the United States, brutalizing, threatening, window smashing, extorting small shop keepers and business firms from Long Island to sections of the West Coast.

Victor Riesel

The dummy union take is in the tens of millions and most of these self-chartered outfits are the personal property of criminals so vicious they'd make Caligula appear more a gentle social worker than a Roman emperor specializing in sadism.

They go after beauty parlors, restaurants, bars, small laundries, bowling alleys, entertainment centers and hundreds of small factories now heavily dotting big city suburbs.

SPECIAL POLICE units have been set up in some communities and Robert Kennedy's Department of Justice quietly has special probes scalpeling into the dummy union field.

This is but one of the many over-all national methodical drives the attorney general has so carefully devised.

These campaigns will become the battle strategy for a federal operation which could take the Justice Department a decade. So much time has gone by, another decade is worth the spending.

But there is a limit to federal manpower—and Bob Kennedy has 45 lawyers now assigned to the organized crime section of his department.

Its tactical theory is to funnel all federal data from all agencies into the division's new intelligence unit. Then attack the organized crime operation as the government once did the Communist party in the hope the underworld will go the way of the underground.

This takes time—especially when suddenly the Attorney General needs to peel off some men to hit a gambling operation such as the big bookies at a Sunday afternoon professional football game. As much as $50 million has been wagered, Mr. Kennedy has said, on a pro game. Now this has been cut to three or four million because of the special division's work under the new anti-crime laws Congress passed last year.

IT'S ALL interlocked—gamblers and industrial racketeers and the crime syndicate—and Bob Kennedy needs another law to give the Justice Department a chance to hit the labor racketeers without thinning out his legal troops and investigators on all fronts.

The AG wants a law which would give his department the power to grant immunity to persons involved in the operations the federals are probing. Then Bob Kennedy can get witnesses to talk. This would give him the chance to send his prosecutors into court with solid evidence.

What he would do with such power would be to grant immunity to the least culpable in any operation. If there is a bribe, the bribe giver would be most guilty, therefore the bribe taker might talk if he got immunity.

If there is extortion under terror and the Hobbs Act is applicable, the official of the union, whether it's a dummy outfit involved or some of the regular unions still under mob control, would be most guilty.

THUS, THE MAN who has been terrorized into becoming part of the operation could be given immunity. He would talk and incriminate the mobster if he would not incriminate himself in the process. In effect, this could rip holes in the Fifth Amendment umbrella used by the mob as a cover.

Just why Congress did not give Bob Kennedy this legal weapon is one of those strange stories of strange pressure on the Hill. Last spring the Senate did pass a bill granting the Justice Department the power to grant a witness immunity.

Bob Kennedy appeared on his way to getting the big stick to crack the industrial rackets. Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg supported the move. Then the Senate bill went on over to the House. There it was given to a subcommittee of Congressman Emanuel Celler's Committee on the Judiciary. Witnesses, of course, were called.

And of all the witnesses to attack the immunity provisions, the most surprising was Albert Woll, attorney for the AFL-CIO. He assailed it as "anti-labor" despite Goldberg's endorsement of the immunity move.

The subcommittee listened, heeded and did not even bother to pass it onto the House floor though it was no more anti-labor than a Franklin Roosevelt speech. But it got beaten.

Now Robert Kennedy is fighting for it again. And why should the House committee not give him the new law and make it easier to fight back against the rackets?

Letters To The Editor

May I, through the columns of The Review, express the appreciation of the Salvation Army to all those residents of the Tri-State area who helped us bring a happy Christmas to many who otherwise would have been neglected at this season?

The Salvation Army, in addition to its many year-round activities, carries on an extensive program to bring something of Christmas to the poor, the homeless, the hungry; to people in prisons and those on military duty. It provides toys for children. Salvationists also visit invalids and aged, lonely shut-ins who might be forgotten at this joyful season. It's terribly important to be remembered at Christmas time.

I wish that all who drop a coin or a bill into a Salvation Army Christmas kettle could see the delighted faces of children at a Salvation Army Christmas party; that they could see contentment that a Salvation Army dinner brings to less privileged families, or to homeless men, down of their luck and discouraged; that they could observe firsthand the happiness of the sick in hospitals when a Salvation Army visitor comes to see them, or when a Salvation Army choral group sings for them.

It would be wonderful if those who give to the Salvation Army could see a blue-uniformed officer reading the Christmas Scripture to a blind patient, or bringing Christmas gifts to men in prison. Sometimes the greatest service the Salvation Army can render at Christmas time is aid in locating missing relatives or friends.

These and the many other programs of the Salvation Army mean that people care for their fellow man; that the less fortunate among us are remembered by millions of persons throughout the United States and the 85 other countries in which the Salvation Army operates.

It is this thoughtfulness, this truly Christian spirit, that makes possible all that the Salvation Army does, both at Christmas time and throughout the year.

In heartfelt gratitude, I extend the deepest thanks of the Salvation Army to all whose generous support makes our work possible. God bless you!

What Next For Cuba?

By David Lawrence

Action Needed On Red Foothold In Americas

The United States government has just made public a document telling, in effect, how Communist Russia has taken over Cuba.

David Lawrence

The facts disclosed shown clearly that the Soviet government has completely disregarded the Monroe Doctrine, which for nearly 140 years has warned that no European power will be permitted to establish a new foothold in this hemisphere.

The Monroe Doctrine is no longer just a policy of this country but has been embodied in resolutions passed by the Organization of American States, which is to meet Jan. 22 to consider the whole Cuban problem.

The State Department's 23-page report, issued just a year after the United States severed diplomatic relations with the Havana government, reveals that upwards of $100 million of military aid has come from the Soviet-bloc countries to the Castro regime.

Castro today, therefore, has the second largest ground army in this hemisphere — exceeded only by that of the United States. The military force is estimated at from 260,000 to 400,000, including militia. This is ten times what any previous government in Cuba ever had.

Approximately 300 Russian and Czechoslovakian military technicians are in Cuba today training local forces. Russia has agreed, moreover, to train new pilots, artillrymen, ground crews and other personnel.

What will the United States government do about all this?

Will it wait for the Organization of American States to adopt meaningless resolutions, or will this country insist on a complete economic blockade of Cuba by all countries of this hemisphere?

LIKEWISE, will the United States warn the Soviet Union to get out of Cuba at once or risk the severance of diplomatic relations by the United States with all Communist-bloc countries that are today aiding Castro with arms and money?

There has been a kind of indifference to the Cuban problem ever since last April's ill-fated expedition of counter - revolutionists was deprived of air support by the United States at the last minute but the military build-up in Cuba by the Soviet Union during the past year can no longer be ignored.

It means that, unless this is checked immediately, every country in Central America can be threatened with invasion.

Already infiltration has been going on in Mexico, Argentina, Brazil and other countries. Many of these governments abstain from voting in the Organization of American States ever, on resolutions merely to take up the Cuban question.

The United States, however, can no longer pursue a drifting policy. The planned "Alliance for Progress" promises about $20 billion in the next 10 years for aid to Latin America, about half of which the United States is supposed to furnish.

There hardly can be any support in Congress for this plan if the major countries in Latin America adopt a standoffish attitude toward the Cuban problem.

MEXICO is right next door to the United States, and there is considerable concern now about the inroads made there by the Communists, particularly in the press and among private organizations.

Announcement that President Kennedy is soon to confer with President Lopez Mateos of Mexico is a good sign but such conferences will be of little avail unless the Mexican government is ready to get rid of the Communists and to checkmate the Castro agents who operate inside Mexico today.

The State Department's latest revelations will certainly emphasize to Latin - American countries that they face a real crisis. If the Russians can build an army of 400,000 in Cuba, they can certainly plan today the overthrow of any government in Latin America and back their chosen regimes inside those countries with military force.

THE UNITED STATES, for its part, can wait only a certain length of time now while the Latin - American countries make up their minds as to whether they want to stand by the Monroe Doctrine. If they falter, then this country will be challenged to do it alone to emancipate Cuba from Communist rule.

If the Monroe Doctrine is to be abandoned, the future of the "Alliance for Progress" plan will be dark indeed. Latin America will not be attractive for the investment of private capital, and there will be little use in sending funds derived from the taxpayers of the United States if nothing is to be done to challenge — by arms, if necessary— the Communist takeover of Cuba which now has been officially revealed.

An Uncertain Future

By Bert Quint

MEXICO CITY

Economically and politically, the outlook for 1962 in Mexico is uncertain.

Despite optimistic statements by the government, there persists a grim feeling that this year may be one of the most difficult in recent Mexican history.

As the year begins, the country finds itself with business and industry lagging, its reserves dangerously low and an economic policy that has bred more mistrust than confidence.

On the political scene an intense subsurface struggle between forces of the right and the left is being waged and, to add to the confusion, there is even speculation — disquieting even though unsubstantiated — that the president may resign for personal reasons.

Oddly enough in this nation which is so proud of its independence from the great blocs of the world and which is trying desperately to end its traditional economic dependence on its neighbor to the north, the greatest hope for a solution to the problems that beset it is increased aid from the United States. The Alliance for Progress is the key to what happens in Mexico in 1962.

TO UNDERSTAND what is happening today one must go back a bit in history.

In the months prior to Mr. Lopez Mateos' taking office in December 1958, there was a minor slump in the economy—one, it was felt, that did not mean much but was rather a reflection of the uncertainty that always exists here until a President shows which way his government is going. By early 1959, most people thought, things would pick up again.

They still have not, and there is little reason to hope they will in the near future.

American and other foreign companies today are not sure just what is required of them in order to set up business here or what they have to do in order to stay in business once they have become established.

Nevertheless, the feeling exists that there is nothing wrong with Mexico that a strong injection of dollars will not cure.

Turning from the global blazes,
Just to sock you in the nose;
Gangway while we cause more trouble
Grinning as each fight you lose!
(And please don't exasperate us
With: "Hey, how about your dues?")

Two men, who later became presidents of the U. S., opposed each other earlier for the office of vice president. These were Calvin Coolidge, who ran with Harding, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, who ran with James Cox in 1920.

New Law Needed To Fight Rackets

By Victor Riesel

Only the terrorized—and some national and regional enforcement agencies—have noticed but now there are more than 1,000 dummy, charter - it - yourself unions operating across the United States, brutalizing, threatening, window smashing, extorting small shop keepers and business firms from Long Island to sections of the West Coast.

Victor Riesel

The dummy union take is in the tens of millions and most of these self-chartered outfits are the personal property of criminals so vicious they'd make Caligula appear more a gentle social worker than a Roman emperor specializing in sadism.

They go after beauty parlors, restaurants, bars, small laundries, bowling alleys, entertainment centers and hundreds of small factories now heavily dotting big city suburbs.

SPECIAL POLICE units have been set up in some communities and Robert Kennedy's Department of Justice quietly has special probes scalpeling into the dummy union field.

This is but one of the many over-all national methodical drives the attorney general has so carefully devised.

These campaigns will become the battle strategy for a federal operation which could take the Justice Department a decade. So much time has gone by, another decade is worth the spending.

But there is a limit to federal manpower—and Bob Kennedy has 45 lawyers now assigned to the organized crime section of his department.

Its tactical theory is to funnel all federal data from all agencies into the division's new intelligence unit. Then attack the organized crime operation as the government once did the Communist party in the hope the underworld will go the way of the underground.

This takes time—especially when suddenly the Attorney General needs to peel off some men to hit a gambling operation such as the big bookies at a Sunday afternoon professional football game. As much as $50 million has been wagered, Mr. Kennedy has said, on a pro game. Now this has been cut to three or four million because of the special division's work under the new anti-crime laws Congress passed last year.

IT'S ALL interlocked—gamblers and industrial racketeers and the crime syndicate—and Bob Kennedy needs another law to give the Justice Department a chance to hit the labor racketeers without thinning out his legal troops and investigators on all fronts.

The AG wants a law which would give his department the power to grant immunity to persons involved in the operations the federals are probing. Then Bob Kennedy can get witnesses to talk. This would give him the chance to send his prosecutors into court with solid evidence.

What he would do with such power would be to grant immunity to the least culpable in any operation. If there is a bribe, the bribe giver would be most guilty, therefore the bribe taker might talk if he got immunity.

If there is extortion under terror and the Hobbs Act is applicable, the official of the union, whether it's a dummy outfit involved or some of the regular unions still under mob control, would be most guilty.

THUS, THE MAN who has been terrorized into becoming part of the operation could be given immunity. He would talk and incriminate the mobster if he would not incriminate himself in the process. In effect, this could rip holes in the Fifth Amendment umbrella used by the mob as a cover.

Just why Congress did not give Bob Kennedy this legal weapon is one of those strange stories of strange pressure on the Hill. Last spring the Senate did pass a bill granting the Justice Department the power to grant a witness immunity.

Bob Kennedy appeared on his way to getting the big stick to crack the industrial rackets. Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg supported the move. Then the Senate bill went on over to the House. There it was given to a subcommittee of Congressman Emanuel Celler's Committee on the Judiciary. Witnesses, of course, were called.

And of all the witnesses to attack the immunity provisions, the most surprising was Albert Woll, attorney for the AFL-CIO. He assailed it as "anti-labor" despite Goldberg's endorsement of the immunity move.

The subcommittee listened, heeded and did not even bother to pass it onto the House floor though it was no more anti-labor than a Franklin Roosevelt speech. But it got beaten.

Now Robert Kennedy is fighting for it again. And why should the House committee not give him the new law and make it easier to fight back against the rackets?

Letters To The Editor

May I, through the columns of The Review, express the appreciation of the Salvation Army to all those residents of the Tri-State area who helped us bring a happy Christmas to many who otherwise would have been neglected at this season?

The Salvation Army, in addition to its many year-round activities, carries on an extensive program to bring something of Christmas to the poor, the homeless, the hungry; to people in prisons and those on military duty. It provides toys for children. Salvationists also visit invalids and aged, lonely shut-ins who might be forgotten at this joyful season. It's terribly important to be remembered at Christmas time.

I wish that all who drop a coin or a bill into a Salvation Army Christmas kettle could see the delighted faces of children at a Salvation Army Christmas party; that they could see contentment that a Salvation Army dinner brings to less privileged families, or to homeless men, down of their luck and discouraged; that they could observe firsthand the happiness of the sick in hospitals when a Salvation Army visitor comes to see them, or when a Salvation Army choral group sings for them.

It would be wonderful if those who give to the Salvation Army could see a blue-uniformed officer reading the Christmas Scripture to a blind patient, or bringing Christmas gifts to men in prison. Sometimes the greatest service the Salvation Army can render at Christmas time is aid in locating missing relatives or friends.

These and the many other programs of the Salvation Army mean that people care for their fellow man; that the less fortunate among us are remembered by millions of persons throughout the United States and the 85 other countries in which the Salvation Army operates.

It is this thoughtfulness, this truly Christian spirit, that makes possible all that the Salvation Army does, both at Christmas time and throughout the year.

In heartfelt gratitude, I extend the deepest thanks of the Salvation Army to all whose generous support makes our work possible. God bless you!

What Next For Cuba?

By David Lawrence

Action Needed On Red Foothold In Americas

David Lawrence

The facts disclosed shown clearly that the Soviet government has completely disregarded the Monroe Doctrine, which for nearly 140 years has warned that no European power will be permitted to establish a new foothold in this hemisphere.

The Monroe Doctrine is no longer just a policy of this country but has been embodied in resolutions passed by the Organization of American States, which is to meet Jan. 22 to consider the whole Cuban problem.

The State Department's 23-page report, issued just a year after the United States severed diplomatic relations with the Havana government, reveals that upwards of $100 million of military aid has come from the Soviet-bloc countries to the Castro regime.

Castro today, therefore, has the second largest ground army in this hemisphere — exceeded only by that of the United States. The military force is estimated at from 260,000 to 400,000, including militia. This is ten times what any previous government in Cuba ever had.

Approximately 300 Russian and Czechoslovakian military technicians are in Cuba today training local forces. Russia has agreed, moreover, to train new pilots, artillrymen, ground crews and other personnel.

What will the United States government do about all this?

Will it wait for the Organization of American States to adopt meaningless resolutions, or will this country insist on a complete economic blockade of Cuba by all countries of this hemisphere?

LIKEWISE, will the United States warn the Soviet Union to get out of Cuba at once or risk the severance of diplomatic relations by the United States with all Communist-bloc countries that are today aiding Castro with arms and money?

There has been a kind of indifference to the Cuban problem ever since last April's ill-fated expedition of counter - revolutionists was deprived of air support by the United States at the last minute but the military build-up in Cuba by the Soviet Union during the past year can no longer be ignored.

It means that, unless this is checked immediately, every country in Central America can be threatened with invasion.

Already infiltration has been going on in Mexico, Argentina, Brazil and other countries. Many of these governments abstain from voting in the Organization of American States even on resolutions merely to take up the Cuban question.

The United States, however, can no longer pursue a drifting policy. The planned "Alliance for Progress" promises about $20 billion in the next 10 years for aid to Latin America, about half of which the United States is supposed to furnish.

There hardly can be any support in Congress for this plan if the major countries in Latin America adopt a standoffish attitude toward the Cuban problem.

MEXICO is right next door to the United States, and there is considerable concern now about the inroads made there by the Communists, particularly in the press and among private organizations.

Announcement that President Kennedy is soon to confer with President Lopez Mateos of Mexico is a good sign but such conferences will be of little avail unless the Mexican government is ready to get rid of the Communists and to checkmate the Castro agents who operate inside Mexico today.

The State Department's latest revelations will certainly emphasize to Latin - American countries that they face a real crisis. If the Russians can build an army of 400,000 in Cuba, they can certainly plan today the overthrow of any government in Latin America and back their chosen regimes inside those countries with military force.

THE UNITED STATES, for its part, can wait only a certain length of time now while the Latin - American countries make up their minds as to whether they want to stand by the Monroe Doctrine. If they falter, then this country will be challenged to do it alone to emancipate Cuba from Communist rule.

If the Monroe Doctrine is to be abandoned, the future of the "Alliance for Progress" plan will be dark indeed. Latin America will not be attractive for the investment of private capital, and there will be little use in sending funds derived from the taxpayers of the United States if nothing is to be done to challenge — by arms, if necessary— the Communist takeover of Cuba which now has been officially revealed.

An Uncertain Future

By Bert Quint

MEXICO CITY

Economically and politically, the outlook for 1962 in Mexico is uncertain.

Despite optimistic statements by the government, there persists a grim feeling that this year may be one of the most difficult in recent Mexican history.

As the year begins, the country finds itself with business and industry lagging, its reserves dangerously low and an economic policy that has bred more mistrust than confidence.

On the political scene an intense subsurface struggle between forces of the right and the left is being waged and, to add to the confusion, there is even speculation — disquieting even though unsubstantiated — that the president may resign for personal reasons.

Oddly enough in this nation which is so proud of its independence from the great blocs of the world and which is trying desperately to end its traditional economic dependence on its neighbor to the north, the greatest hope for a solution to the problems that beset it is increased aid from the United States. The Alliance for Progress is the key to what happens in Mexico in 1962.

TO UNDERSTAND what is happening today one must go back a bit in history.

In the months prior to Mr. Lopez Mateos' taking office in December 1958, there was a minor slump in the economy—one, it was felt, that did not mean much but was rather a reflection of the uncertainty that always exists here until a President shows which way his government is going. By early 1959, most people thought, things would pick up again.

They still have not, and there is little reason to hope they will in the near future.

American and other foreign companies today are not sure just what is required of them in order to set up business here or what they have to do in order to stay in business once they have become established.

The Power Of Faith

by Howard Brodie

The faith of Brigham Young empowered him to lead the Mormons away from persecution into the desert and transform it into the thriving community of Salt Lake City. 86,000 men, women and children endured privation, weariness and storms as they followed after their modern "Moses" into Utah from the Mid-West, West, East and overseas between 1847 and '69.

Strengthened by their leader, who believed, "I do not feel disposed to ask the Lord to do for me what I can do for myself," the Mormons established the first large scale irrigation project in America. Their faith inspired them to denounce slavery and to contribute money to build a Jewish Synagogue and a Catholic Church, for these members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, allowed "all men" their "same privilege" to "worship how, where, or what they may."

City Church Ranks 16th

The First Church of the Nazarene in 1961 ranked 16th in the denomination in its number of members.

A study just completed by Dr. S. T. Ludwig of Kansas City, Mo., general secretary, showed the East Liverpool congregation has 501 members.

The city church also ranked among the top 30 in total giving, contributing $68,594 during the year. Canton First church, with fewer members, had a slightly higher contribution total.

The largest Nazarene church was Bethany, Okla., First church with 1,375 members and contributions totaling $219,105.

The Nazarene denomination in 1961 reached an all-time record total of $47,122,000 given for all purposes. This was an increase of $1,772,000 over the previous year's total of $45,350,000.

Per capita giving was $144 in 1961. This was an increase of nearly $2 a person over the preceding year when the denomination ranked first in the nation in per capita giving among Protestant churches with 100,000 or more members.

The Church of the Nazarene has become one of the larger holiness denominations, Wesleyan in doctrine and distinctly an American Protestant body.

Founded in 1908, when several small holiness groups merged at Pilot Point, Tex., it has grown to a denomination with a domestic membership totaling 326,870 in 4,775 churches at the close of 1961.

The church is strongly evangelistic.

At present, the Nazarenes maintain about 500 full-time missionaries in 40 world areas.

Evangelist Lawrence Sandy of Wintersville will conduct worship services tonight, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at 7:30 in the Gospel Temple. The public may attend.

Tomlinson Park 2nd In State Attendance

Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughtown rated second in attendance among West Virginia's 22 state parks in 1961, with a total of 248,845 visitors.

Only Hawk's Nest State Park on Route 60 drew more visitors, but the majority came to view a scenic gorge.

Tomlinson rated first in the number of persons using the outdoor facilities of the 1,383-acre recreation area.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

Don't Let Anything Scare You

Making an overnight train trip, I was busily catching up with paper work in the seclusion of a Pullman bedroom. A conductor, seeing my door ajar, stopped to chat. This man turned out to be a very interesting person. In no time at all we were deep in conversation about how his religious ideas had been of great help to him. Presently he asked, "What's that you're working on, if I may ask?"

DR. PEALE

I told him I was making notes for a talk on overcoming fear.

"Well," he said, "Believe me I know how that is done — for I've done it. In fact, in all honesty I can tell you I'm not afraid of anything anymore, not even death. And that is because I had my big fear years ago, and God saw me through it. What happened then took away my fear of fear."

THIS BIG claim did not sound bizarre nor did it seem braggadocio. Indeed, this man seemed to have an unusual serenity and I was fascinated to hear more of his story.

"I was 29 years old and really sick," he explained. "I'd been ill quite a while and knew I was getting worse. One day the doctor let me have it straight: he didn't think I was going to get well. Said he was sorry to tell me this sad fact, but he thought I ought to know the score.

"In deep distress I told my wife what the doctor had said. She listened quietly. 'Bill,' she said, 'you haven't yet tried God.' I had to confess that up to then my faith in God was the half-hearted sort. But then I started praying for real. I prayed to God for courage to meet whatever was ahead of me. I promised that from then on I would live by His Holy Word and do my humble best to serve Him. I didn't think I was offering Him much since the doctor had said I was going to die, but all that I had I gave to God. After that prayer I felt very different in my mind.

"The next time the doctor examined me he seemed surprised and said, 'You are improved.' Later he told me there was no sign of disease. I told him about my prayers. He simply said, 'Yes, it sometimes happens that way.'

"That was 30 years ago. Naturally I am still going to die some day, like everybody else, but when my time comes I won't be afraid. I'm not afraid of anything that I may still have to go through before then either — because I know that God will help me. Tell people," he concluded, "to find God personally and they won't let anything scare them anymore."

MOST PEOPLE are fearful of many things. We are afraid of sickness. We live in dread of economic insecurity. We are fearful of being different from the crowd. The list could go on and on. And now sinister new fears of atomic war and fallout are haunting people.

No attack has been made on our land and homes since the British left in defeat many years ago. In our isolated position of security we developed the feeling that we were impregnable.

But this sinecure, this achievement, safety without effort, is no more. For the first time in our national life the fear of destruction gnaws at our indifference and apathy. Maybe we can make this very normal fear work for us. In normal fear adrenalin shoots through the human system and often serves the good purpose of alerting one to danger and this is a valuable protection against an enemy.

So, how can we make this present normal fear work for us? Fear is an enormous power but strong as it is faith is stronger.

With faith we, like our forefathers, will become clear thinkers and be able to protect and defend our country and our freedom. But this must begin with you and me as individuals. Don't let anything scare you, but put your trust in God. And as the Bible says: "Quit you like men, be strong."

The Power Of Faith by Howard Brodie

The faith of Brigham Young empowered him to lead the Mormons away from persecution into the desert and transform it into the thriving community of Salt Lake City. 86,000 men, women and children endured privation, weariness and storms as they followed after their modern "Moses" into Utah from the Mid-West, West, East and overseas between 1847 and '69.

Strengthened by their leader, who believed, "I do not feel disposed to ask the Lord to do for me what I can do for myself," the Mormons established the first large scale irrigation project in America. Their faith inspired them to denounce slavery and to contribute money to build a Jewish Synagogue and a Catholic Church, for these members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, allowed "all men" their "same privilege" to "worship how, where, or what they may."

City Church Ranks 16th

The First Church of the Nazarene in 1961 ranked 16th in the denomination in its number of members.

A study just completed by Dr. S. T. Ludwig of Kansas City, Mo., general secretary, showed the East Liverpool congregation has 501 members.

The city church also ranked among the top 30 in total giving, contributing $68,594 during the year. Canton First church, with fewer members, had a slightly higher contribution total.

The largest Nazarene church was Bethany, Okla., First church with 1,375 members and contributions totaling $219,105.

The Nazarene denomination in 1961 reached an all-time record total of $47,122,000 given for all purposes. This was an increase of $1,772,000 over the previous year's total of $45,350,000.

Per capita giving was $144 in 1961. This was an increase of nearly $2 a person over the preceding year when the denomination ranked first in the nation in per capita giving among Protestant churches with 100,000 or more members.

The Church of the Nazarene has become one of the larger holiness denominations, Wesleyan in doctrine and distinctly an American Protestant body.

Founded in 1908, when several small holiness groups merged at Pilot Point, Tex., it has grown to a denomination with a domestic membership totaling 326,870 in 4,775 churches at the close of 1961.

The church is strongly evangelistic.

Events Set In Churches Of District

A council meeting of the Presniks youth group will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Covenant Presbyterian Church in Wellsville. The regular meeting will be Jan. 21 at the Wellsville church.

A program of slides of a visit to the Holy Land last April will be presented by Simon Hall Sunday night at 7:30 in the Second Church of Christ. The scenes include Syria, Jordan and Jerusalem. The public is invited.

Evangelist Lawrence Sandy of Wintersville will conduct worship services tonight, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at 7:30 in the Gospel Temple. The public may attend.

Tomlinson Park 2nd In State Attendance

Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughtown rated second in attendance among West Virginia's 22 state parks in 1961, with a total of 248,845 visitors.

Only Hawk's Nest State Park on Route 60 drew more visitors, but the majority came to view a scenic gorge.

Tomlinson rated first in the number of persons using the outdoor facilities of the 1,383-acre recreation area.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

Don't Let Anything Scare You

Making an overnight train trip, I was busily catching up with paper work in the seclusion of a Pullman bedroom. A conductor, seeing my door ajar, stopped to chat. This man turned out to be a very interesting person. In no time at all we were deep in conversation about how his religious ideas had been of great help to him. Presently he asked, "What's that you're working on, if I may ask?"

DR. PEALE

I told him I was making notes for a talk on overcoming fear.

"Well," he said, "Believe me I know how that is done — for I've done it. In fact, in all honesty I can tell you I'm not afraid of anything anymore, not even death. And that is because I had my big fear years ago, and God saw me through it. What happened then took away my fear of fear."

THIS BIG claim did not sound bizarre nor did it seem braggadocio. Indeed, this man seemed to have an unusual serenity and I was fascinated to hear more of his story.

"I was 29 years old and really sick," he explained. "I'd been ill quite a while and knew I was getting worse. One day the doctor let me have it straight: he didn't think I was going to get well. Said he was sorry to tell me this sad fact, but he thought I ought to know the score.

"In deep distress I told my wife what the doctor had said. She listened quietly. 'Bill,' she said, 'you haven't yet tried God.' I had to confess that up to then my faith in God was the half-hearted sort. But then I started praying for real. I prayed to God for courage to meet whatever was ahead of me. I promised that from then on I would live by His Holy Word and do my humble best to serve Him. I didn't think I was offering Him much since the doctor had said I was going to die, but all that I had I gave to God. After that prayer I felt very different in my mind.

"The next time the doctor examined me he seemed surprised and said, 'You are improved.' Later he told me there was no sign of disease. I told him about my prayers. He simply said, 'Yes, it sometimes happens that way.'

"That was 30 years ago. Naturally I am still going to die some day, like everybody else, but when my time comes I won't be afraid. I'm not afraid of anything that I may still have to go through before then either — because I know that God will help me. Tell people," he concluded, "to find God personally and they won't let anything scare them anymore."

Dr. Rich Honored By Lions For Aid With Sightsaving

Dr. Samuel Rich, who retired Dec. 31 after 50 years practice as a physician and eye specialist, was honored for "invaluable service and co-operation" by the Lions Club at its meeting Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

A certificate of appreciation for "a marvelous job" in aiding the club in carrying out its sightsaving work among needy children was presented to Dr. Rich by John T. Smith, second vice president.

In accepting the certificate, Dr. Rich commended the club for its work. "If it hadn't been for your club, I wouldn't have been able to do the work. I don't deserve the certificate; I only did what I was supposed to do."

James Boyd of the Boyd Lumber Co. was introduced as a new mmeber.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Changing Homes Can Confuse Children

The Bureau of Census reports that one person in five, over a year of age, changed his residence between April 1, 1956 and April 1, 1957.

A more recent report by the National Education Association says that 40,000 families, one family out of four, changes homes every year. Some, of course, move several times in a year. Farm families move least often. Families of children in the one-to-four age group move more often than familes of school-agers. One study reports that incidence of emotional disorders parallels mobility. At least there tends to be decreased capacity to cope with life situations after moving. This decreased capacity, plus feelings of helplessness, loss, abandonment, isolation and fear of the unknown, may become more than temporary if the child already is anxious about his relationship with his parents or is low in self-reliance.

FAVORABLE TO a child's comfortable adaptation in his new home after moving are these factors:

He should feel secure and worthy in the family, have learned in his former home to cooperate in family routines, have acquired self-reliance physically and emotionally, be able to amuse himself and find abundant fun with other children of his age; easily find new friends, enjoy successes at work and play, get along well with the adults of the neighborhood and be learning to assume normal responsibilities.

It is favorable, too, if his parents have mingled satisfactorily with the other parents and neighbors in the old home area and participated in the activities of that community.

The child should learn about the projected move first from his parents and, if old enough to understand, the reason for the move, in an honest, straightforward manner. Obviously, he should be told of the move as far in advance as possible.

IF POSSIBLE, too, the child, especially the preschool child, should take with him his favorite pets and playthings — anything very precious to him, however evaluated by his parents.

The school child, especially in the grades, moving to a new school district, may feel overwhelmed and confused — new school building, new teacher, new and strange classmates, different books, different methods and rules.

Great may be the child's ordeal if in his grade the reading, words to spell and problems in arithmetic are harder. If the moving child had been slow in some subjects in the old school he will surely feel discouraged in the new one.

Important as it is to help a child at home to do well at school when learning in the old familiar school, how much more imperative is such help in the new school!

Whether in the middle grades or high school the child who had learned good habits of school-homework where he used to live has much to help him succeed in the new.

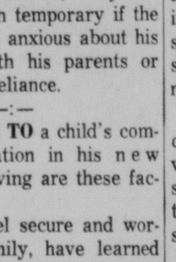

My bulletins, "Self - Reliance," "Your Child and His Playmates" and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Take The Brakes Off Your Will Power

Grab hold of this morale-boosting promise. . .you can be a size slimmer by St. Valentine's Day. To slip into a dress a size smaller you will have to lose 10 to 16 pounds, or possibly as many as 20. But what's 10 or 20 pounds once you've made up your mind.

Ida Jean Kain

Expect to reach your goal. If you just go ahead and act as if success were certain, it will be! Never dwell on the mistaken idea that you lack will power. The very thought is defeating, for it amounts to trying to go ahead with the brakes on.

—:—

SHIFT INTO high gear. The technique is to associate will power with willingness instead of self-denial. Are you wholehearted in your desire to be a size slimmer by Feb. 14? Are you enthusiastic about applying the science of nutrition to build slimness? If you are, then you've got the will power. You will to do what you want to do.

Another thing, the number of pounds that stand between you and ideal weight is not of paramount importance. It's your attitude toward modifying your food habits that makes all the difference.

Reducing is a mental triumph. When your mind is made up all the forces of your personality are focused on your goal. You begin to visualize yourself zipping into that smaller size, easily. Creative picturing is a strong ally of the will.

HAVE DONE with wishful thinking. This is your chance for a fresh start. Get excited about what you can do for yourself. Excitement, effort and enthusiasm restore vigor.

In your mind's eye create the picture of what you want . . . dream on it. Tonight as you drift to sleep flash onto the screen of your mind a picture of yourself, slim and trim. This is a graphic way of impressing upon your mind what you want.

When you awaken in the morning, stretch, relax and play your mental movie again. Then get up and stretch, bend and pull . . . you'll even feel slimmer.

Birdwatchers Report Grosbeak 'Invasion'

A number of area bird watchers have reported an "invasion" of the evening grosbeak, a bird with black and white wings and yellow body, who has pushed down from Canada and the northern districts.

At least 11 of the birds, with the typical large beak like that of a cardinal, were seen in the northern part of the city last month, and have been spotted in Chester and elsewhere in past weeks.

The grosbeak periodically push south in droves, one watcher commented, and love sunflower seeds.

19 Arrested In Raid

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cuyahoga County sheriff's deputies raided what they described as an elaborate dice room in a private home in Linndale early today, arresting 11 men and eight women.

Hancock 4-H Adds 7 Clubs

The organization of seven new clubs and enrollment of 129 members marked 4-H activity in Hancock County in 1961, Mrs. Ruth McPherson, club agent, said in her yearend report.

The county now has 22 clubs and 436 boys and girls participating, she said, compared to only 15 clubs and 307 members last year.

New clubs organized and leaders include the Apache of Shepard Valley near Pughtown, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glenn; Glendale near Joetown in Newell, Mrs. Glenn Galloway; Merry Mixers of Weirton, Mrs. Kenneth Timberlake.

Mountaineers of Hardins Run near New Cumberland, Miss Marcella Ewing; Polaris of State Route 2, Miss Kathryn Minesinger; Ridgerunners of Allison Community, Mrs. Frank Lawton, and Starlite of Pughtown, Curtis Stanley and William McPherson.

The other county clubs set for 1962 activities are Cameron, Cherokee, Elwood, Fort Jefferson, Hilltop Ramblers, Hudson Hilltoppers, New Cumberland Nature, Pioneer, Town & Country, Weircrest, Wide Awake, Willing Workers, Woodland Estates and Wylie Ridge.

The first countywide activity will be a program Jan. 25 in Swaney Memorial Library in New Cumberland when an International Farm Youth Exchange student who studied in Germany will speak and screen slides.

Mrs. McPherson will leave Monday morning for a week at West Virginia University in Morgantown to attend a training conference for new 4-H agents.

Dr. Rich Honored By Lions For Aid With Sightsaving

Dr. Samuel Rich, who retired Dec. 31 after 50 years practice as a physician and eye specialist, was honored for "invaluable service and co-operation" by the Lions Club at its meeting Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

A certificate of appreciation for "a marvelous job" in aiding the club in carrying out its sightsaving work among needy children was presented to Dr. Rich by John T. Smith, second vice president.

In accepting the certificate, Dr. Rich commended the club for its work. "If it hadn't been for your club, I wouldn't have been able to do the work. I don't deserve the certificate; I only did what I was supposed to do."

James Boyd of the Boyd Lumber Co. was introduced as a new mmeber.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Changing Homes Can Confuse Children

The Bureau of Census reports that one person in five, over a year of age, changed his residence between April 1, 1956 and April 1, 1957.

Dr. Garry Meyers

A more recent report by the National Education Association says that 40,000 families, one family out of four, changes homes every year. Some, of course, move several times in a year. Farm families move least often. Families of children in the one-to-four age group move more often than familes of school-agers. One study reports that incidence of emotional disorders parallels mobility. At least there tends to be decreased capacity to cope with life situations after moving. This decreased capacity, plus feelings of helplessness, loss, abandonment, isolation and fear of the unknown, may become more than temporary if the child already is anxious about his relationship with his parents or is low in self-reliance.

FAVORABLE TO a child's comfortable adaptation in his new home after moving are these factors:

He should feel secure and worthy in the family, have learned in his former home to cooperate in family routines, have acquired self-reliance physically and emotionally, be able to amuse himself and find abundant fun with other children of his age; easily find new friends, enjoy successes at work and play, get along well with the adults of the neighborhood and be learning to assume normal responsibilities.

It is favorable, too, if his parents have mingled satisfactorily with the other parents and neighbors in the old home area and participated in the activities of that community.

The child should learn about the projected move first from his parents and, if old enough to understand, the reason for the move, in an honest, straightforward manner. Obviously, he should be told of the move as far in advance as possible.

IF POSSIBLE, too, the child, especially the preschool child, should take with him his favorite pets and playthings — anything very precious to him, however evaluated by his parents.

The school child, especially in the grades, moving to a new school district, may feel overwhelmed and confused — new school building, new teacher, new and strange classmates, different books, different methods and rules.

Great may be the child's ordeal if in his grade the reading, words to spell and problems in arithmetic are harder. If the moving child had been slow in some subjects in the old school he will surely feel discouraged in the new one.

Important as it is to help a child at home to do well at school when learning in the old familiar school, how much more imperative is such help in the new school!

Whether in the middle grades or high school the child who had learned good habits of school-homework where he used to live has much to help him succeed in the new.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Take The Brakes Off Your Will Power

Grab hold of this morale-boosting promise. . .you can be a size slimmer by St. Valentine's Day. To slip into a dress a size smaller you will have to lose 10 to 16 pounds, or possibly as many as 20. But what's 10 or 20 pounds once you've made up your mind.

Ida Jean Kain

Expect to reach your goal. If you just go ahead and act as if success were certain, it will be! Never dwell on the mistaken idea that you lack will power. The very thought is defeating, for it amounts to trying to go ahead with the brakes on.

SHIFT INTO high gear. The technique is to associate will power with willingness instead of self-denial. Are you wholehearted in your desire to be a size slimmer by Feb. 14? Are you enthusiastic about applying the science of nutrition to build slimness? If you are, then you've got the will power. You will to do what you want to do.

Another thing, the number of pounds that stand between you and ideal weight is not of paramount importance. It's your attitude toward modifying your food habits that makes all the difference.

Reducing is a mental triumph. When your mind is made up all the forces of your personality are focused on your goal. You begin to visualize yourself zipping into that smaller size, easily. Creative picturing is a strong ally of the will.

HAVE DONE with wishful thinking. This is your chance for a fresh start. Get excited about what you can do for yourself. Excitement, effort and enthusiasm restore vigor.

In your mind's eye create the picture of what you want . . . dream on it. Tonight as you drift to sleep flash onto the screen of your mind a picture of yourself, slim and trim. This is a graphic way of impressing upon your mind what you want.

When you awaken in the morning, stretch, relax and play your mental movie again. Then get up and stretch, bend and pull . . . you'll even feel slimmer.

Birdwatchers Report Grosbeak 'Invasion'

A number of area bird watchers have reported an "invasion" of the evening grosbeak, a bird with black and white wings and yellow body, who has pushed down from Canada and the northern districts.

At least 11 of the birds, with the typical large beak like that of a cardinal, were seen in the northern part of the city last month, and have been spotted in Chester and elsewhere in past weeks.

The grosbeak periodically push south in droves, one watcher commented, and love sunflower seeds.

Miss Grace A. Bise Weds Lt. Allen L. McCormick

Miss Grace Ann Bise became the bride of Lt. Allen Leslie McCormick in the first military wedding of the First Church of the Nazarene Friday evening, Dec. 29, at 7:30 o'clock before an altar setting of white gladiolus, Fuji mums, palms and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Bise of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McCormick II of Ravenna.

Mrs. Hobart Bowlby, church organist, gave a half - hour of wedding music. Edward Rice sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "O Promise Me." The violin selection by Bowlby was "Ah Sweet Myster of Life." The Rev. James H. Hunton officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white reversed brocade, designed with a fitted bodice with bateau neckline and long, tapered sleeves, outlined in seed pearls. The semi-bell shape skirt was accented in the front with three cabbage roses, which highlighted a scalloped opening. The back of the skirt fell into a chapel train.

Her bouffant butterfly veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a headdress of open-work tracery trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible topped with a cascade arrangement of white, yellow-lipped orchids, white, yellow and sweetheart roses, encircled with lily-of-the-valley and satin streamers. She wore a diamond pendant, the gift of the bridegroom, and observed the traditions.

Mrs. James M. Lewis of Columbus was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Anthony Yanni, Miss Jean Braho of Sharon, and Miss Karen Lee Maylone of Wellsville, cousin of the bride.

They wore intermission - length dresses of gold brocade, fashioned with three-quarter - length sleeves and semi - bell shaped skirts. Their headpieces were matching cabbage roses featuring theater veils. They carried cascade bouquets of white carnations and yellow tearoses tied with satin streamers. They wore gold color shoes. Gifts from the bride were gold color, American beauty rose pins.

Anita and Carol Heisler of Ravenna, cousins of the bridegroom, were flower girls. They wore white organdy dresses, fashioned with puff sleeves and gold brocade weskits. Miniature cabbage roses and veiling formed their headpieces. They carried white baskets of pompons, roses and snapdragons.

The four branches of the service were represented by the men attendants. Ens. Dan Cummings of Norfolk, Va., best man. Ushers were Lt. William Yoder of the Air Force at Waco, Tex., Lt. Paul Vallely, with the Army, at Ft. Benning, Ga., Lt. Robert Yoder with the Marine Corps at Quantico, Va.; James Bise, brother of the bride, and Michael McCormick, brother of the bridegroom.

MRS. A. L. McCORMICK
Bride Of Ravenna Officer.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of rose beige embroidered silk with brown and avacado accessories and a corsage of perfection yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a blue brocade dress with matching pillbox hat and accessories. Her corsage featured briarcliff roses.

A reception for 250 was held at the Mary Patterson Memorial. The buffet table, covered with a white cloth, was centered with a three-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Gold tapers in silver candelabra completed the setting. The bridal table was highlighted with gold maline.

Aides were Miss Lynn Boyd of Alliance, Miss Peggy Kinsey and Mrs. Rallie Brown Jr. Miss Eileen George presided at the guest register.

Out - of - town guests were from Cleveland, Alliance, Canton, Ravenna, Wellsville, Columbus, Sharon, Hollidaysburg, Weirton and Clarksburg.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School and was graduated in September from the Akron City Hospital School of Nursing Education.

Her husband was graduated in 1957 from the Douglas (Ariz.) High School and from the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington in 1961, where he received a degree in history and his commission in the Regular Army. He completed the infantry officer's and the orientation course, was graduated from Ranger School and is currently attending Airborne School at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The newlyweds will reside at Columbus, Ga., until Jan. 27, when they will leave for a honeymoon at Las Vegas and in California. They will leave Feb. 12 for Ft. Kobbe in the Canal Zone, where he has been assigned to the 1st Battle Group of the 20th Infantry.

The rehearsal dinner party was given by the bridegroom's parents at the Travelers Hotel. Several pre-nuptial showers were given by her attendants.

Ethel Chambers, Lydia Service Groups Convene

The Ethel Chambers Missionary Society of the Second United Presbyterian Church and the Lydia Service group met Thursday evening in the social rooms.

Mrs. Jean Russell, program chairman, introduced the study of Romans by reading Chapters 1 and 2. She also announced the missionary work for the group for this year.

Mrs. Florence Ensinger led devotions, using Scripture from Heb. 4:1-11, gave the devotion talk and read a New Year's poem.

Mrs. Hattie Powell spoke on ecumenical mission and relations and Mrs. Grayce Chambers read an article, "Knowing Our Neighbor from the West Indies." Mrs. Jane McDaniel spoke on the topic, "Alaska."

Each member gave a Bible verse with Mrs. Eva McBride giving the closing prayer.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Russell when Mrs. Barbara Talbott was appointed World Service chairman and Mrs. Mary Strobel, greeting card chairman.

A card was received from Ethel Chambers of Daytona Beach, Fla.

The Social -:- -:- Notebook

A reading, "Do You Remember?", by Mrs. James T. Fortiner, guest speaker, highlighted the program of the annual joint meeting of the Martha and Susannah Wesley Circles of the First Methodist Church WSCS Thursday evening in the social rooms. About 36 were present for the dessert-lunch.

Attired in a costume belonging to her mother, Mrs. Fortiner gave her reading, by candlelight while seated in a rocking chair. The article pertained to the city of 50 years ago.

Mrs. Charles R. Waggoner presented the program, with group singing of old-fashioned songs, including "Softly and Tenderly," composed by the late Will Thompson.

Prayer was offered by Miss Maude Baum.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ted Scheffer and Mrs. Septimus Cook of the Martha Circle and Mrs. James Hassell and Mrs. William Shenton of the Susannah group.

Mrs. John Shawke led devotions, offered prayer and read a poem.

Following a reading of a New Year's prayer by Mrs. Harry T. Logan, the program closed with the group repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Other guests included Mrs. W. N. Birkett, Mrs. W. O. Bloor, Mrs. Earl Cochrane and Mrs. John L. Clark, wife of the minister, and Mrs. H. O. Johnson Wellsville.

The presidents, Mrs. James Hassell, Susannah, and Mrs. Frank Dawson, Martha, conducted brief business.

Cards were signed for the sick and reports were heard. Next meetings are Feb. 1.

The Susannah group will meet at the church with Mrs. Helen Risinger in charge of the program and devotions, and Mrs. Victoria Willis and Mrs. C. R. Boyce hostesses.

Miss Grace A. Bise Weds Lt. Allen L. McCormick

Miss Grace Ann Bise became the bride of Lt. Allen Leslie McCormick in the first military wedding of the First Church of the Nazarene Friday evening, Dec. 29, at 7:30 o'clock before an altar setting of white gladiolus, Fuji mums, palms and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Bise of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McCormick II of Ravenna.

Mrs. Hobart Bowlby, church organist, gave a half - hour of wedding music. Edward Rice sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "O Promise Me." The violin selection by Bowlby was "Ah Sweet Myster of Life." The Rev. James H. Hunton officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white reversed brocade, designed with a fitted bodice with bateau neckline and long, tapered sleeves, outlined in seed pearls. The semi-bell shape skirt was accented in the front with three cabbage roses, which highlighted a scalloped opening. The back of the skirt fell into a chapel train.

Her bouffant butterfly veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a headdress of openwork tracery trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible topped with a cascade arrangement of white, yellow-lipped orchids, white, yellow and sweetheart roses, encircled with lily-of-the-valley and satin streamers. She wore a diamond pendant, the gift of the bridegroom, and observed the traditions.

Mrs. James M. Lewis of Columbus was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Anthony Yanni, Miss Jean Braho of Sharon, and Miss Karen Lee Maylone of Wellsville, cousin of the bride.

They wore intermission - length dresses of gold brocade, fashioned with three-quarter - length sleeves and semi - bell shaped skirts. Their headpieces were matching cabbage roses featuring theater veils. They carried cascade bouquets of white carnations and yellow tearoses tied with satin streamers. They wore gold color shoes. Gifts from the bride were gold color, American beauty rose pins.

Anita and Carol Heisler of Ravenna, cousins of the bridegroom, were flower girls. They wore white organdy dresses, fashioned with puff sleeves and gold brocade weskits. Miniature cabbage roses and veiling formed their headpieces. They carried white baskets of pompons, roses and snapdragons.

The four branches of the service were represented by the men attendants. Ens. Dan Cummings of Norfolk, Va., best man. Ushers were Lt. William Yoder of the Air Force at Waco, Tex., Lt. Paul Vallely, with the Army, at Ft. Benning, Ga., Lt. Robert Yoder with the Marine Corps at Quantico, Va.; James Bise, brother of the bride, and Michael McCormick, brother of the bridegroom.

MRS. A. L. McCORMICK
Bride Of Ravenna Officer.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of rose beige embroidered silk with brown and avacado accessories and a corsage of perfection yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a blue brocade dress with matching pillbox hat and accessories. Her corsage featured briarcliff roses.

A reception for 250 was held at the Mary Patterson Memorial. The buffet table, covered with a white cloth, was centered with a three-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Gold tapers in silver candelabra completed the setting. The bridal table was highlighted with gold maline.

Aides were Miss Lynn Boyd of Alliance, Miss Peggy Kinsey and Mrs. Rallie Brown Jr. Miss Eileen George presided at the guest register.

Out - of - town guests were from Cleveland, Alliance, Canton, Ravenna, Wellsville, Columbus, Sharon, Hollidaysburg, Weirton and Clarksburg.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School and was graduated in September from the Akron City Hospital School of Nursing Education.

Her husband was graduated in 1957 from the Douglas (Ariz.) High School and from the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington in 1961, where he received a degree in history and his commission in the Regular Army. He completed the infantry officer's and the orientation course, was graduated from Ranger School and is currently attending Airborne School at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The newlyweds will reside at Columbus, Ga., until Jan. 27, when they will leave for a honeymoon at Las Vegas and in California. They will leave Feb. 12 for Ft. Kobbe in the Canal Zone, where he has been assigned to the 1st Battle Group of the 20th Infantry.

The rehearsal dinner party was given by the bridegroom's parents at the Travelers Hotel. Several pre-nuptial showers were given by her attendants.

City Youth Defeated In Tie

Chester Boy, 12, Wins Train Derby

Twenty - five youngsters from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell competed for the title, including Jerry Canne, the defending champion, who bowed to Tuttle in the semi-finals.

The derby also had a first when Pam Chisler, 930 St. Clair Ave. entered. But Pam was derailed in the opening round by John Hales.

It also marked the first time that all of the contestants who registered appeared.

West Virginia Revenue Runs $3.3 Million Under Estimate

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The state's general revenue continued to run about $3,350,000 behind estimates at the end of the first six months on the current fiscal year on Dec. 31.

Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore said Friday the trend substantiated Board of Public Works action of several months ago. The board directed state spending units to withhold 3 per cent of appropriations from general revenue.

This step, setting up a reserve of about $4.6 million in legislative appropriations for the current fiscal year, was designed as a cushion against possibilities that income would not come up to estimates on which appropriations were based.

Gore's office said that net general revenue income for July through December totaled $67,732,813.

The gross sales tax accounted for $25,532,068 of the total. Income from that source was estimated at $54 million for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The consumer's sales tax produced a net of $21,337,668, close to the estimate of $21.5 million for the first six months.

Net receipts from the state income tax of $9,779,278 also compared favorably with the six month estimate of $8.5 million, when the refund aspect of the tax is taken into account.

Racing revenue of $3,649,979 was short of a July-December estimate of $4,420,000. Also down as compared to estimates were liquor profit transfers of $1,875,000. The estimate was $3.5 million.

California U. Professors Eye Arms Race End

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) —A group of University of California faculty members, including a Nobel Prize winner, have banded together to work for what they call a realistic, gradual end to the nuclear arms race.

The council's excutive committee, which includes Owen Chamberlain, a Nobel Prize-winning physicist, said in a statement Friday: "No nation's security need be undermined nor its ultimate values sacrificed for peace to be gained and maintained.

"The gradualist approach advocated a synchronized treatment of the cold war, the arms race and the interbloc conflicts."

Etzioni said similar faculty councils are being organized at Harvard, Cornell, Columbia and New York University. He said organizing meetings will be held at Stanford Jan. 11 and at UCLA Jan. 17.

Democratic Leaders Wait Meeting Tonight

The Columbiana County Democratic Executive Committee will hold a dinner meeting tonight at the Valley Golf Club near Columbiana.

One of the principal items of business will concern the committee's recommendation to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus for reappointment of Don R. Gosney of Columbiana as a member of the County Election Board.

Gosney's current term ends Feb. 28. The secretary of state's appointments are based on recommendations from county party committees.

Gosney will preside. He is county chairman and also a member of the Democratic State Central Committee from the 18th Congressional District. The committee also will consider a number of prospective office-seekers' petitions for ballot places to run for state offices.

South Side Group Will Sponsor Dance

A round and square dance will be sponsored tonight from 9 to 12 at the Southside Sportsmen's Club building on Route 168 near Hookstown with Parsons and the Pioneers providing music. Proceeds will be used for club projects.

Members screened four sports films for youths at the Raccoon Creek Park detention camp Wednesday. Next meeting will be Tuesday night at 8 at the clubhouse.

Clay Expected To Press Rusk On Berlin Matter

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin, is expected to urge Washington officials this weekend to grant greater authority to the U.S. commander in West Berlin to deal with unexpected emergencies.

Clay, who flew into Washington Friday, was scheduled to meet with Secretary of State Dean Rusk today. He will confer with President Kennedy and perhaps other administration officials Sunday.

At the airport, Clay denied to newsmen that he is involved in any dispute with Rusk over the degree of latitude allowed the Berlin commander, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson. There have been published reports that Clay had registered a strong protest with Rusk against instructions unofficially described as sharply limiting Watson's power to act.

"I'm not conscious of any difference of opinion between the secretary of state and myself," Clay declared. He said it was Rusk who had suggested when they met in Paris last month that Clay come to Washington to report on the Berlin situation.

When he was asked how much freedom the commander on the spot should have for meeting emergencies, Clay told newsmen:

"I think if the crisis is serious enough we have got to let the local commander make the decision on the spot—I do not know of any case where the local commander has not had the responsibility."

What reportedly worries Clay is that advance instructions, based on Allied contingency planning, do not always anticipate the specific problems with which the U.S. commander in Berlin may be confronted. In spite of many weeks of consultation, the United States, Britain, France and West Germany failed to anticipate East Germany's action last August in building a wall to seal off East Berlin from West Berlin.

One possible future danger reported to have been raised by Clay in a recent message to Washington is an uprising in East Berlin which would create a dangerous situation along the border dividing the city.

If Watson lacked precise instructions for dealing with these problems and if he failed to get immediate orders from Washington, he might be virtually paralyzed at a time when actions was necessary.

Clay plans to leave Washington late Monday to return to Berlin. As Kennedy's personal representative he is the chief American authority normally stationed in West Berlin.

In 1646 a scythe manufacturer, Joseph Jenkes, received this country's first machine patent, for equipment used in his water-driven mill.

Soils-Crop Institute Set

LISBON — The Columbiana-Mahoning Soils and Crops Institute will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Masonic Temple in Salem and the program will concern topics of interest to all producers.

They will cover crop varieties, soil drainage and hay and grain drying and storage.

The importance of proper soil drainage is becoming more apparent to area farmers, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture. The program follows:

10 a.m.—Film, "Hay In a Day."

10:30 — Soil drainage applied to soil types and systems of soil drainage for cropland and pasture, both internal and external, by Melville Palmer, agricultural engineer at Ohio State University.

11:15 — Methods of hay drying and storage by H. M. Marks of Agtrace, Inc., Indianapolis.

Noon — Lunch served at the hall.

1 p.m. — Soil conservation service report.

1:15 — Recommended crop varieties by W. W. Brookins of the Ohio Seed Improvement Association.

2:45 — Drainage by Palmer.

3:30 — Adjournment.

Group Given Bid To Hear Preston At Warren Event

Members of the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce have been invited to a dinner meeting of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Association Jan. 18 at Warren, at which the principal speaker will be State Highway Director Everett S. Preston.

Preston will discuss developments in the construction of the road, which eventually will link East Liverpool and Ashtabula, and also will comment on future plans and the state highway program in general as it relates to Northeastern Ohio.

J. Paul Mossman of Youngstown, president, said a report of recent association activities also will be presented. Guests will include members of the General Assembly and engineers and commissioners from the four-county area served by the association —Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula.

The 6:30 dinner will be held at the banquet room of the Astoria Restaurant in Warren. Atty. Francis H. Lang and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, represent Columbiana County on the association's Board of Directors, along with A. P. Morris of Salem.

City Youth Defeated In Tie

Chester Boy, 12, Wins Train Derby

Twenty-five youngsters from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell competed for the title, including Jerry Canne, the defending champion, who bowed to Tuttle in the semi-finals.

The derby also had a first when Pam Chisler, 930 St. Clair Ave. entered. But Pam was derailed in the opening round by John Hales.

It also marked the first time that all of the contestants who registered appeared.

West Virginia Revenue Runs $3.3 Million Under Estimate

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The state's general revenue continued to run about $3,350,000 behind estimates at the end of the first six months on the current fiscal year on Dec. 31.

Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore said Friday the trend substantiated Board of Public Works action of several months ago. The board directed state spending units to withhold 3 per cent of appropriations from general revenue.

This step, setting up a reserve of about $4.6 million in legislative appropriations for the current fiscal year, was designed as a cushion against possibilities that income would not come up to estimates on which appropriations were based.

Gore's office said that net general revenue income for July through December totaled $67,732,813.

The gross sales tax accounted for $25,532,068 of the total. Income from that source was estimated at $54 million for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The consumer's sales tax produced a net of $21,337,668, close to the estimate of $21.5 million for the first six months.

Net receipts from the state income tax of $9,779,278 also compared favorably with the six month estimate of $8.5 million, when the refund aspect of the tax is taken into account.

Racing revenue of $3,649,979 was short of a July-December estimate of $4,420,000. Also down as compared to estimates were liquor profit transfers of $1,875,000. The estimate was $3.5 million.

California U. Professors Eye Arms Race End

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) —A group of University of California faculty members, including a Nobel Prize winner, have banded together to work for what they call a realistic, gradual end to the nuclear arms race.

Amitai Etzioni, a sociology professor is the spokesman for the Berkeley Council for the Gradualist Way to Peace.

The council's excutive committee, which includes Owen Chamberlain, a Nobel Prize-winning physicist, said in a statement Friday: "No nation's security need be undermined nor its ultimate values sacrificed for peace to be gained and maintained.

"The gradualist approach advocated a synchronized treatment of the cold war, the arms race and the interbloc conflicts."

Etzioni said similar faculty councils are being organized at Harvard, Cornell, Columbia and New York University. He said organizing meetings will be held at Stanford Jan. 11 and at UCLA Jan. 17.

Democratic Leaders Wait Meeting Tonight

The Columbiana County Democratic Executive Committee will hold a dinner meeting tonight at the Valley Golf Club near Columbiana.

One of the principal items of business will concern the committee's recommendation to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus for reappointment of Don R. Gosney of Columbiana as a member of the County Election Board.

Gosney's current term ends Feb. 28. The secretary of state's appointments are based on recommendations from county party committees.

Gosney will preside. He is county chairman and also a member of the Democratic State Central Committee from the 18th Congressional District. The committee also will consider a number of prospective office-seekers' petitions for ballot places to run for state offices.

South Side Group Will Sponsor Dance

A round and square dance will be sponsored tonight from 9 to 12 at the Southside Sportsmen's Club building on Route 168 near Hookstown with Parsons and the Pioneers providing music. Proceeds will be used for club projects.

Members screened four sports films for youths at the Raccoon Creek Park detention camp Wednesday. Next meeting will be Tuesday night at 8 at the clubhouse.

Wellsville Comes From Behind To Beat Toronto, 56-51

2nd Half Spurt Nets Newell 52-43 Win Over Chester

Rally Ends Losing Streak

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

The sluggish play which marked Wellsville High's first half-dozen starts finally wore off in the second half of their game Friday night at Toronto.

The Tigers pulled from behind to hustle past the Red Knights, 56-51, in a tight finish and snapped a four-game losing streak.

Scoring their first Sectional AA victory, the Tigers came through with a much improved team effort in the second half to overcome their ragged play in the first.

Behind nine points at halftime, 30-21, Coach Jack McDevitt's quint made a determined effort to whittle away the deficit and rolled in front to a lead they maintained the rest of the way.

A balanced attack and the rebounding of Forrest Harris, 6-2 junior, gave the squad a big lift toward a more respectable record after six games of disappointing play.

Three starters hit for double figures for Wellsville, while Harris checked Toronto's Tom Coulter with eight points in the second two quarters.

Coulter, 5-8 sophomore, poured in 14 in the first half to spearhead the Knights to a 10-point spread. He finished with 22 for the night, but the balanced attack of the Tigers proved enough to offset his sparkling shooting performance.

Topping Wellsville's attack was Steve Baldwin, 6-6 center, who worked hard under the boards despite an injured, heavily-taped ankle. Baldwin hit for 15 points, including three important field goals in the close fourth quarter when it was nip and tuck.

Also in the double figures were Jim Powell, 5-8 junior, with 14 points, and Ed Nelson, 6-2 junior, with 12. Roger Ours turned in a steady game for the Tigers and accounted for nine.

Harris, looking better with each start, chipped in with six points and a bundle of rebounds. He was far and away the scrappiest cager on the floor.

The squads got off slowly in the first period, with Wellsville moving to a 3-0 lead and Toronto knotting the score with 4:35 left. Following tie scores of 10-10 and 12-12, Toronto moved in front at the quarter buzzer on a jump shot by Fred Sciance, 6-foot center, 14-12.

The second period found Wellsville continuing to play ragged ball and Toronto's Coulter hitting jump shots from the keyhole area. The Knights broke a 16-16 tie on Sciance's jump shot with 6:31 left and moved in front, to 31-20 at halftime.

The Tigers began shaving the lead as the third quarter started as Nelson converted a foul and Baldwin hit on a tip to make it 30-24.

Wellsville kept finding the range consistently and finally tied the score at 37-37 with 1:27 left. Then Ours connected on a long push shot, Nelson hit from the side and followed with a pair of free throws, and Wellsville moved in front to stay, 43-37.

Toronto came within three points of tying the score with 41 seconds left in the game on Coulter's pair of foul shots to cut Wellsville's lead to 54-51.

Sinking 19 of 57 shots for the game, Wellsville averaged 33 per cent — a big improvement from the 18 per cent against Sectional rival East Liverpool. The squad wasn't sharp at the foul stripe, however, making only 18 of 39.

Toronto hit 34 per cent (20 of 58) and made 11 of 17 free throws. The Knights (2-3) out goaled the Tigers by one from the field.

Toronto lost three players by the personal foul route. Pellior left at 1:13 of the third quarter, while Graubner and Carnahan fouled out in the fourth.

Andy Dash and Jack Cataldo led Coach Chick McMillan's Tiger reserves (4-2) with six points each. Hughes's 12 points led the Toronto reserves, now 5-0.

Spires' 26 Leads Irondale To 8th

All-Ohio center Don Spires, 6-6, poured in 26 points in the eighth triumph in a row for Coach Harry Diehl's Raiders.

An easy winner over Wayne earlier this year, the Raiders had to settle for an unimpressive victory the second time around.

Spires found the range for 10 field goals and six free throws for 26 points to boost his average to 22.3 with 179 for the season.

Teammate Bob Mills, a classy shooter, accounted for 15, while Marlon McCuen hit for eight and Jim Leedy seven. Starters Curt Rose, 6-2 senior, and Stan Wickham, 5-8 senior, failed to score.

The game drew a large crowd to Wayne High's gymnasium with Stanton Local making a bid for state-wide honors, being one of the two Class A schools in Jefferson County presently unbeaten.

Kohout scored 14 points to lead Wayne's attack. The Wolves are now 2-5 for the season.

Vikings' Balance Pays Off

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

An eight - point spurt to start the second half broke Chester's back and sent the Newell High Vikings to a 52-43 victory over its arch rival before a packed house Friday night at Chester.

Leading by only two points at halftime, 19-17, Newell zoomed to a 27-17 lead in the early minutes of the third quarter and held a 41-27 margin by the time the period ended.

Coach Max Tuttle's Chester forces fought gamely to get back into the game during the fourth quarter but Newell's lead was too much to overcome.

The victory was the fourth in seven games for Coach John Robison's team, which has won two straight this week. The Panthers dropped their fourth contest against three wins.

While Newell relied on an all-around team effort, Chester depended mainly on the scoring of veteran Blaine Pinney, who had one of his best nights in two seasons.

Pinney led all scorers with 20 points on seven fielders and six out of seven foul attempts. He was almost unstoppable the first half, proving to be a one - man gang.

The 6-foot-2 star fired in 13 of his team's 17 markers during the first half.

NEWELL HAD several stars and performances given by two players must have been very satisfying to Coach Robison.

Mick Staley, the four - year veteran who was coming off a 38-point rampage at Bethany on Wednesday night, and Dave Bell tied for honors with 15 each. Staley and Bell are among the top three scorers in the district.

The surprises, however, sophomore Jim Johnson and Jim Reed. Johnson scored 10 points and helped spark the early third-quarter rally.

Reed, who wasn't a starter when the season opened, seems to have found a spot on the Newell squad. He was a big help in the rebounding department and flipped in 11 points along the way.

CHESTER, still playing without the services of regular Jim Tridico, found Jim Conkle adding eight points to the attack, while Jerry Smith came off the bench to drop in seven markers, all coming in the fourth period.

Newell fired a game shooting average of 41 per cent, while the Panthers hit 31.

Both teams played deliberate basketball for the first half. The opening quarter ended with Newell on top, 10-5, then Pinney's 10 points in the second quarter carried the Panthers within two points when the half ended.

—:—

CHESTER'S doom was sounded immediately following the tipoff to start the second half. The Green and White Vikings hit four straight shots, with Reed scoring two buckets and Bell and Johnson one each.

When the smoke had cleared from the burning nets Newell had broken the game wide open to lead by 10 points. Staley and Bell went on to score seven points each in the third quarter.

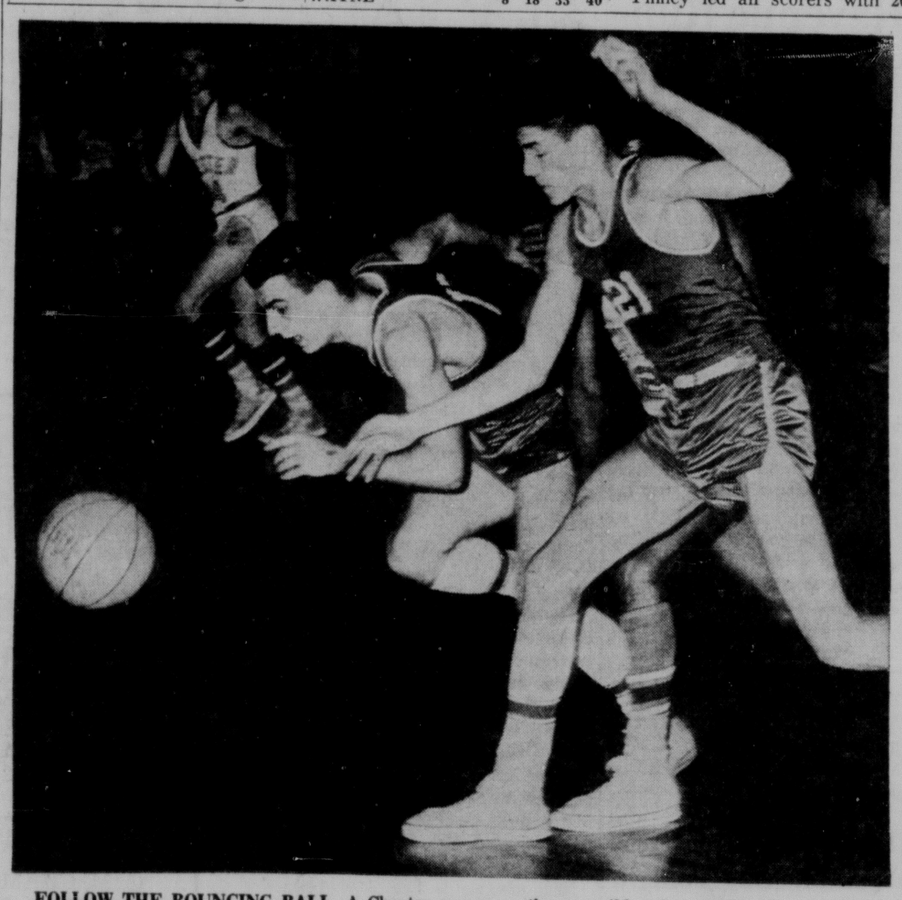

The Panthers got within seven points three times during the fourth quarter but that was the best they could do.

Beery's 26 Tops Salem In 4th Win At Girard

GIRARD — Salem's all - state candidate junior Bill Berry flipped in 26 points as the Quakers had little trouble gaining their fourth win in five games with an 81-49 rout of Girard Friday night.

Following a 14-7 first quarter lead, the Quakers advanced the margin to 38-18 at halftime and 58-32 after three periods of play.

John Borrelli added 15 to the attack and Gary Jeffries 12.

Broadbent, Gaydos Pace Attack

Beavers Pull Mild Upset, Nudge Carrollton, 63-62

Beaver Local pulled a mild upset by squeezing out a 63-62 victory over Carrollton Friday night at Williamsport.

The victory was the second in five games for the Beavers under the guidance of Tom McCall, who is in his first year as head coach at Beaver Local.

A tight contest all the way, the score see-sawed back and forth, but once Beaver Local took a 46-44 lead into the fourth quarter, Carrollton never got back into the lead, but did make it exciting at the end. The Beavers also had to overcome a 32-29 deficit at halftime.

The thriller saw Beaver Local put four cagers in the double figures as a well-rounded attack paid dividends.

John Broadbent led the way as he split his scoring evenly between the first and second halves in winding up with 16 points. Next in line was George Gaydos who led a second half charge. He totaled 15 points for the evening, but 10 came in the all-important second half.

John Baker, Beaver Local's only letterman, fired in 13 points and Rich Aliulis chipped in with 11. The Beavers lost Aliulis on fouls in the fourth quarter.

Salineville Drops Sixth Straight Tilt

SALINEVILLE — The infant year of 1962 hasn't changed things for Salineville which dropped its sixth straight of the season in losing 65-42 to Greenford here Friday night.

The visitors took a 22-10 lead at the first quarter and continued to build a wider margin for the next three periods.

Arcaro Finishes 3rd In Australia Race

BRISBANE, Australia, (AP) — Eddie Arcaro, America's Premier Stakes jockey, finished third in the mile and one-quarter International Stakes over the rain-soaked Brisbane Doomben race track today.

Victory went to Brother Mac, a 7-to-1 shot ridden by Neville Selwood, ace Australia jockey. Three lengths behind was Jour Dor, a 40-to-1 long shot. Arcaro, astride Intrigued, a 6½-to-1 hazard, was another half length behind and a nose ahead of Wave On in the 15-horse field.

Kress Nets 21 Points As Crestview Wins 7th

Big Jim Kress, 6-6 center, poured in 21 points to lead unbeaten Crestview to a 68-46 victory at Malvern High Friday night.

Sporting a 7-0 record, the Rebels take the floor before the home fans tonight to battle McDonald.

Kress hit nine fielders and three foul shots for 21, giving him 126 for the season and an 18.0 average.

Bill Tucci led Malvern with 17 points.

Frazier, Ashcroft Spark Rams

South Side Downs Avella For First Section Victory

Cecil Frazier, bothered with ankle trouble, didn't come off the bench until the second quarter, but then went on to score 16 points and lead South Side to a 49-39 win over Avella Friday night at Hookstown.

Joining Frazier in the scoring department was Dale Ashcroft who dropped in 15 points to give the Rams a strong 1-2 punch.

The victory gives South Side a 1-1 record in the Section 15 wars. Avella is 0-2.

Palestine Claims 2nd Loop Win At Leetonia

LEETONIA — East Palestine gained its second straight Tri-County win at the expense of Leetonia, 50-44, here Friday night.

Fred Hoaglin led three Bulldog starters into the double figures with 16 points. The game marked Hoaglin's first of the season after recovering from a blood clot in his arm. He had been hospitalized for several weeks.

Dave Guy added 11 points and Neil Winterburn 10 to spark the Bulldogs. Russ Lehman of Leetonia took game honors with 22.

A close contest most of the way, East Palestine took a 21-18 edge at halftime only to lose it and trailed 31-30 going into the fourth quarter.

Education Committee Lauds OHSAA Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio High School Athletic Association should be "congratulated for their 54 years of excellent service to the schools of the state of Ohio," the executive committee of the Ohio Education Association declared Friday.

The group thus threw its support behind the OHSAA, which is involved in a battle over its legality in regulating interscholastic sports.

According to one estimate, there is only one chance in 4,165 of being dealt four cards of one kind in a five-card game of poker.

Grid Coach Arrested In Robbery Attempt

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 35-year-old East Side man who listed his occupation as football coach at Marion Correctional Institution appeared in a different lineup Friday night.

Detectives said the man, Nathaniel Marizette, was picked from a police lineup by witnesses as one of two men who tried to hold up an East Side drug store Dec. 15. Police shot and killed one man after the robbery attempt.

Police said Marizette was arrested Thursday night when he went to see his probation officer at Central Police Station. He is on parole for robbery and is being held for investigation, police said.

Sturgeon And Hanna Pace United To Victory

Jim Sturgeon and John Hanna bagged 35 points between them in leading United Local to a 61-39 romp over Warren St. Mary's Friday night at the Hanoverton area school.

High - scoring Jerry Sheaffer missed the game because of a sprained ankle and is a doubtful starter tonight at Canfield.

United shot 40 per cent from the field and made 17 of 35 free throws in posting the decisive victory. The visitors shot only 17 per cent and made 19 of 38 foul shots.

The United Local reserves won 30, over the St. Mary's jayvees.

2nd Half Spurt Nets Newell 52-43 Win Over Chester

Rally Ends Losing Streak

Review Sports Writer

The sluggish play which marked Wellsville High's first half-dozen starts finally wore off in the second half of their game Friday night at Toronto.

The Tigers pulled from behind to hustle past the Red Knights, 56-51, in a tight finish and snapped a four-game losing streak.

Scoring their first Sectional AA victory, the Tigers came through with a much improved team effort in the second half to overcome their ragged play in the first.

Behind nine points at halftime, 30-21, Coach Jack McDevitt's quint made a determined effort to whittle away the deficit and rolled in front to a lead they maintained the rest of the way.

A balanced attack and the rebounding of Forrest Harris, 6-2 junior, gave the squad a big lift toward a more respectable record after six games of disappointing play.

Three starters hit for double figures for Wellsville, while Harris checked Toronto's Tom Coulter with eight points in the second two quarters.

Coulter, 5-8 sophomore, poured in 14 in the first half to spearhead the Knights to a 10-point spread. He finished with 22 for the night, but the balanced attack of the Tigers proved enough to offset his sparkling shooting performance.

Topping Wellsville's attack was Steve Baldwin, 6-6 center, who worked hard under the boards despite an injured, heavily-taped ankle. Baldwin hit for 15 points, including three important field goals in the close fourth quarter when it was nip and tuck.

Also in the double figures were Jim Powell, 5-8 junior, with 14 points, and Ed Nelson, 6-2 junior, with 12. Roger Ours turned in a steady game for the Tigers and accounted for nine.

Harris, looking better with each start, chipped in with six points and a bundle of rebounds. He was far and away the scrappiest cager on the floor.

The squads got off slowly in the first period, with Wellsville moving to a 3-0 lead and Toronto knotting the score with 4:35 left. Following tie scores of 10-10 and 12-12, Toronto moved in front at the quarter buzzer on a jump shot by Fred Sciance, 6-foot center, 14-12.

The second period found Wellsville continuing to play ragged ball and Toronto's Coulter hitting jump shots from the keyhole area. The Knights broke a 16-16 tie on Sciance's jump shot with 6:31 left and moved in front, to 31-20 at halftime.

The Tigers began shaving the lead as the third quarter started as Nelson converted a foul and Baldwin hit on a tip to make it 30-24.

Wellsville kept finding the range consistently and finally tied the score at 37-37 with 1:27 left. Then Ours connected on a long push shot, Nelson hit from the side and followed with a pair of free throws, and Wellsville moved in front to stay, 43-37.

Toronto came within three points of tying the score with 41 seconds left in the game on Coulter's pair of foul shots to cut Wellsville's lead to 54-51.

Sinking 19 of 57 shots for the game, Wellsville averaged 33 per cent — a big improvement from the 18 per cent against Sectional rival East Liverpool. The squad wasn't sharp at the foul stripe, however, making only 18 of 39.

Toronto hit 34 per cent (20 of 58) and made 11 of 17 free throws. The Knights (2-3) out goaled the Tigers by one from the field.

Toronto lost three players by the personal foul route. Pellior left at 1:13 of the third quarter, while Graubner and Carnahan fouled out in the fourth.

Andy Dash and Jack Cataldo led Coach Chick McMillan's Tiger reserves (4-2) with six points each. Hughes's 12 points led the Toronto reserves, now 5-0.

Spires' 26 Leads Irondale To 8th

All-Ohio center Don Spires, 6-6, poured in 26 points in the eighth triumph in a row for Coach Harry Diehl's Raiders.

An easy winner over Wayne earlier this year, the Raiders had to settle for an unimpressive victory the second time around.

Playing one of their weaker defensive games, the Raiders held only a 10 point lead throughout the last two quarters.

Spires found the range for 10 field goals and six free throws for 26 points to boost his average to 22.3 with 179 for the season.

Teammate Bob Mills, a classy shooter, accounted for 15, while Marlon McCuen hit for eight and Jim Leedy seven. Starters Curt Rose, 6-2 senior, and Stan Wickham, 5-8 senior, failed to score.

The game drew a large crowd to Wayne High's gymnasium with Stanton Local making a bid for state-wide honors, being one of the two Class A schools in Jefferson County presently unbeaten.

Kohout scored 14 points to lead Wayne's attack. The Wolves are now 2-5 for the season.

Vikings' Balance Pays Off

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

An eight - point spurt to start the second half broke Chester's back and sent the Newell High Vikings to a 52-43 victory over its arch rival before a packed house Friday night at Chester.

Leading by only two points at halftime, 19-17, Newell zoomed to a 27-17 lead in the early minutes of the third quarter and held a 41-27 margin by the time the period ended.

Coach Max Tuttle's Chester forces fought gamely to get back into the game during the fourth quarter but Newell's lead was too much to overcome.

The victory was the fourth in seven games for Coach John Robison's team, which has won two straight this week. The Panthers dropped their fourth contest against three wins.

NEWELL proved the better ball club with its balanced scoring, which showed four starters in the double figures.

While Newell relied on an all-around team effort, Chester depended mainly on the scoring of veteran Blaine Pinney, who had one of his best nights in two seasons.

Pinney led all scorers with 20 points on seven fielders and six out of seven foul attempts. He was almost unstoppable the first half, proving to be a one - man gang.

The 6-foot-2 star fired in 13 of his team's 17 markers during the first half.

NEWELL HAD several stars and performances given by two players must have been very satisfying to Coach Robison.

Mick Staley, the four - year veteran who was coming off a 38-point rampage at Bethany on Wednesday night, and Dave Bell tied for honors with 15 each. Staley and Bell are among the top three scorers in the district.

The surprises, however, sophomore Jim Johnson and Jim Reed. Johnson scored 10 points and helped spark the early third-quarter rally.

Reed, who wasn't a starter when the season opened, seems to have found a spot on the Newell squad. He was a big help in the rebounding department and flipped in 11 points along the way.

CHESTER, still playing without the services of regular Jim Tridico, found Jim Conkle adding eight points to the attack, while Jerry Smith came off the bench to drop in seven markers, all coming in the fourth period.

Newell fired a game shooting average of 41 per cent, while the Panthers hit 31.

Both teams played deliberate basketball for the first half. The opening quarter ended with Newell on top, 10-5, then Pinney's 10 points in the second quarter carried the Panthers within two points when the half ended.

—:—

CHESTER'S doom was sounded immediately following the tipoff to start the second half. The Green and White Vikings hit four straight shots, with Reed scoring two buckets and Bell and Johnson one each.

When the smoke had cleared from the burning nets Newell had broken the game wide open to lead by 10 points. Staley and Bell went on to score seven points each in the third quarter.

The Panthers got within seven points three times during the fourth quarter but that was the best they could do.

Broadbent, Gaydos Pace Attack

Beavers Pull Mild Upset, Nudge Carrollton, 63-62

Beaver Local pulled a mild upset by squeezing out a 63-62 victory over Carrollton Friday night at Williamsport.

The victory was the second in five games for the Beavers under the guidance of Tom McCall, who is in his first year as head coach at Beaver Local.

A tight contest all the way, the score see-sawed back and forth, but once Beaver Local took a 46-44 lead into the fourth quarter, Carrollton never got back into the lead, but did make it exciting at the end. The Beavers also had to overcome a 32-29 deficit at halftime.

The thriller saw Beaver Local put four cagers in the double figures as a well-rounded attack paid dividends.

John Broadbent led the way as he split his scoring evenly between the first and second halves in winding up with 16 points. Next in line was George Gaydos who led a second half charge. He totaled 15 points for the evening, but 10 came in the all-important second half.

John Baker, Beaver Local's only letterman, fired in 13 points and Rich Aliulis chipped in with 11. The Beavers lost Aliulis on fouls in the fourth quarter.

Education Committee Lauds OHSAA Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio High School Athletic Association should be "congratulated for their 54 years of excellent service to the schools of the state of Ohio," the executive committee of the Ohio Education Association declared Friday.

The group thus threw its support behind the OHSAA, which is involved in a battle over its legality in regulating interscholastic sports.

According to one estimate, there is only one chance in 4,165 of being dealt four cards of one kind in a five-card game of poker.

Frazier, Ashcroft Spark Rams

South Side Downs Avella For First Section Victory

Cecil Frazier, bothered with ankle trouble, didn't come off the bench until the second quarter, but then went on to score 16 points and lead South Side to a 49-39 win over Avella Friday night at Hookstown.

Joining Frazier in the scoring department was Dale Ashcroft who dropped in 15 points to give the Rams a strong 1-2 punch.

The victory gives South Side a 1-1 record in the Section 15 wars. Avella is 0-2.

A brother combination of Mike Danna and Ron Danna fired in 13 and 10 points respectively for the visitors.

Grid Coach Arrested In Robbery Attempt

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 35-year-old East Side man who listed his occupation as football coach at Marion Correctional Institution appeared in a different lineup Friday night.

Detectives said the man, Nathaniel Marizette, was picked from a police lineup by witnesses as one of two men who tried to hold up an East Side drug store Dec. 15. Police shot and killed one man after the robbery attempt.

Police said Marizette was arrested Thursday night when he went to see his probation officer at Central Police Station. He is on parole for robbery and is being held for investigation, police said.

Midland Whips Beaver, 51-38, For 2nd Section 8 Win

Aloi Held To 2; Sallis Tallies 21

By ANDY NUZZO

Hank Kuzma's Midland High School Leopards rolled to their second consecutive win in Section 8 play and their 11th consecutive win of the season by defeating the Beaver High School Bobcats, 51-38, before a full house at Midland Friday night.

Spearheading the Leopard victory was Bill Sallis and Sam Forester, who whipped in 21 and 11 points respectively.

Beaver became the first team this season to hold down the Leopard's scoring ace, Al Aloi. They limited him to only two free throws, those coming early in the first quarter.

Aloi was constantly trailed by Jim Sanford and when Aloi got the ball two other Beaver defenders came to assist Sanford.

But while Beaver was busy with Aloi, Sallis and Forester took up the slack. Aloi was only able to get off eight shots, always with Sanford or another Bobcat on him.

Midland experienced its worst night from the field, canning only 16 of 53 shots for 30 per cent. Beaver made only 15 of 59 shots for 25 per cent.

Actually the Leopard victory margin came at the foul line. Midland had only one more field goal than Beaver but outscored them 19-8 from the free throw line.

In the rebounding department, Midland had a big edge, 69-28. Aloi did a yeoman job on the boards for the Leopards pulling in down 17 strays, the most collected by a Midland player in a single game this season. Behind Aloi was Sallis with 15 and Forester with 11. Harry Petrosky added nine.

Sanford led the Bobcats in rebounding, pulling down eight strays. Dave Noll pulled in six.

Beaver scored first and it marked the only time they had the lead. Midland moved to a 17-8 advantage at the quarter.

Midland started the second quarter as if they were going to run away with the game.

After Noll sank a jumper from the side, the Leopards reeled off nine consecutive points to grab a 26-10 lead midway through the second quarter.

But Beaver put on a rally of their own and cut the Leopard lead in half at halftime, 28-20.

Midland increased its lead in the third stanza, outscoring Beaver, 12-8, and took a 40-28 bulge into the final period.

A seven-point scoring spree, five of them by Sallis, moved the Leopards out to a comfortable 47-30 lead and Beaver never threatened again.

In the JV game, Ed Olkowski's Midland JV's jumped off to an early 11-0 lead, but then bowed to the Beaver JV's, 44-34. Henry Slappy and Bill Haggerty led Midland with eight points apiece.

Next Tuesday night Midland will play host to the Freedom Bulldogs in another Section 8 contest.

Wins Release From LSU

Dietzel Takes Army Post

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Paul Dietzel—who left the banks of the Hudson River seven years ago to become one of football's most glamorous coaches on the banks of the Mississippi at Louisiana State—returns to West Point today to become Army's head football coach.

"Deep in my heart, I have always wanted to be head coach at West Point," said Dietzel Friday. Only two months ago he said he'd never leave LSU.

The 37-year-old coach, once a butcher's helper in his native Ohio, won release of his contract at LSU Friday. The pact, which called for $18,500 annually, had four years remaining.

The LSU Board of Supervisors put up a stiff fight to keep Dietzel, a stern drillmaster on the football field who gave the Tigers a national championship and three bowl appearances in four years.

In a two-hour closed session, the board voted 8-5 to accept Dietzel's request for release from his contract. Then the meeting was opened and the board voted unanimously to release Dietzel.

Dietzel takes four of his assistants to West Point, where he reportedly will sign a five-year contract at $20,000 a year. He will replace Dale Hall, whom Army dismissed at the end of the regular season after the Cadets lost their third straight game to arch-rival Navy.

Dietzel was an assistant under Col. Earl (Red) Blaik—now retired—at West Point for two years before coming to LSU.

When Blaik quit at the end of the 1958 season—the same year that Dietzel's Tigers won the national championship—the young coach said he wouldn't consider the Army job.

"I think it would be very presumptuous of me to even discuss it, inasmuch as I have just signed a new five-year contract (since extended) with LSU," Dietzel said then.

In discussing the situation Friday, Dietzel said that in 1959 he didn't feel he had "fulfilled my obligation to LSU."

OSU, Villanova Risk Perfect Slates Tonight

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State, Villanova and Mississippi State, the nation's only three major unbeaten teams, risk their perfect records tonight as college basketball moves back into full swing.

All the teams in The Associated Press top 10 poll see action.

Top-ranked Ohio State puts its 10-0 slate on the line at Northwestern (5-4) in a Big Ten game, fifth-ranked Villanova (12-0 visits West Virginia (8-3) and ninth-ranked Mississippi State (9-0) entertains Auburn (6-3) in a Southeastern Conference fray.

Only one of the top 10 clubs, Southern California, played Friday night and the sixth-pegged Trojans disposed of California 68-41 in the first game of a doubleheader at Los Angeles. The victory was USC's 10th as against two losses. The two teams meet again tonight.

John Rudometkin paved the way for the Trojans with 22 points and Ken Stanley contributed 20. Denny Lewis' 11 points were high for California, which has a 6-7 record.

In the second game, UCLA turned back Washington 72-57.

In a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden, Memphis State ripped Seton Hall 101-84 and LaSalle trimmed Manhattan 76-69.

Memphis State unleashed a second-half surge to post its 10th victory in 13 outings. Seton Hall, which had been undefeated, lost its second straight.

Bob McAteer and Frank Corace were LaSalle's big guns in the Explorers' sixth success as against three setbacks. Each tallied 21 points as did Manhattan's Ron Petro.

Other games involving top 10 teams tonight include: Second-ranked Cincinnati (10-1) vs. Tulsa, third-ranked Kentucky (9-1) vs. Georgia Tech, fourth-ranked Kansas State (10-1) vs. Colorado, seventh-ranked Duquesne (8-1) vs. St. Bonaventure, Duke (9-1) ranked eight, vs. North Carolina State and tenth-ranked Bowling Green (9-1) vs. Ohio University.

5 More Bowl Games Slated This Weekend

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Think the five postseason games over the current weekend finally spell finis to the football season?

The real, honest-to-goodness, guaranteed end doesn't come until Jan. 14 when the National Football League's Eastern and Western All-Stars do battle in Los Angeles.

The American Football League is beating the NFL to its All-Star game by a week. The AFL East-West stars meet in San Diego, Calif., Sunday starting at 3:30 p.m. EST—ABC-TV.

The other two games on Sunday's schedule are the U.S. Bowl at Washington, D.C.—NBC-TV, 2 p.m. EST—and the Hula Bowl in Honolulu—7 p.m. EST.

On tap today were the National Football League runner-up bowl in Miami, pitting the Philadelphia Eagles against the Detroit Lions—2 p.m. EST CBS-TV—and the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala.—3 p.m. EST NBC-TV.

The East squad, headed by George Blanda of Houston and Al Dorow of New York, probably will rule the slight favorite over the West in the AFL All-Star game. Jack Kemp of San Diego and Cotton Davidson of Dallas are the mainstays of the West.

The U.S. Bowl also is an East-West affair. Only in this one the players are the draft choices of the two sections of the National Football League.

There is loads of quality on the two teams, but the coaches, Bill McPeak of the East and Red Hickey of the West, agreed that they would depend pretty much on passing because they haven't had the time to get a good running offensive organized.

This is a new post-season game and will be played in Washington's new, 50,000-seat stadium.

Some competition developed between the U.S. Bowl and the Hula Bowl. The Honolulu game also is an East-West affair and skimmed off some of the top draft choices from the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco.

Potters' Opponent Wins In Rout, 64-44

Youngstown South, East Liverpool's opponent tonight, upped its record to 4-1 with a 64-44 trouncing of Youngstown Rayen Friday night. The Potters meet South at the South High Fieldhouse. Game time will be about 8:45.

Blue And White Club To Elect Tuesday At 8

Officers will be elected when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club meets Tuesday night at 8 in the YMCA.

Russell E. Hall, retiring president, has asked that all members attend.

Coach Pulls Players Off Floor, Protests

He claimed the use of Terry Forgacs by Southeast in both the reserve and varsity game violated Portage County League rules.

Commission Favors New Racing Dates

CLARKSBURG, W. VA. (AP)—The State Racing Commission suggested new 1962 racing dates Friday to West Virginia's Northern Panhandle tracks because their proposed seasons overlapped.

The commission, at a reorganization session here, did not disclose the dates they had suggested to operators of Waterford Park and Wheeling Downs.

Waterford had asked for a 64-day season between June 20 and Sept. 9 and a 37-day fall meeting between Oct. 27 and Dec. 8, for a total of 101 days.

Wheeling Downs asked for a 44-day flat racing session May 5-July 14 and a 26-day fall program Nov. 2-Dec. 1, for a total of 68 days.

The Wheeling track requested 64 days of harness racing, with a April 6-May 12 session and a fall meet Sept. 14-Oct. 20.

The operators were asked to submit their replies to the commission at a meeting to be arranged later.

E. M. Frederick of Clarksburg, who had been serving as commission secretary, was named chairman to succeed W. P. C. Perry of Charles Town. Perry was chosen secretary. The other commissioner, James A. Wilverding of Elkins, remains as vice chairman.

Wilt 'Dunks' 53 In Warriors' Win Celtics Breeze

By The Associated Press

Watch the Philadelphia Warriors in a National Basketball Association game and chances are better than 50-50 you'll see Wilt Chamberlain score 50 or more points.

The 7-1 coordinated stick topped the 50 mark for the 22nd time in 40 games Friday night, firing in 53 as the Warriors routed the St. Louis Hawks 134-116 in the windup of a doubleheader at Philadelphia.

All the victory did was keep the Warriors from falling more than 8½ games behind the mighty Boston Celtics in the Eastern Division race. The runaway Celts, pushing their record to 31-6, whipped the Cincinnati Royals 124-103 at Cincinnati. Detroit went into overtime for a 138-135 victory over Syracuse in the opener at Philadelphia in the only other league activity.

Chamberlain, averaging just under 50 points for the season, hit 20 field goals and 13 of 21 free throws.

Chiefs Nip Rens On Cohen Tip-In In Final Minute

By The Associated Press

Last minute baskets by Tony Jackson and Jeff Cohen gave the underdog Chicago Majors and Hawaii Chiefs victories in the American Basketball League Friday night.

Jackson, former star for St. Johns (NY), hit a high jump shot from 35 feet out for a 3-pointer that gave the Majors a 106-103 overtime victory over the Los Angeles Jets at Wichita, Kan.

Cohen, former star for William and Mary, tapped in a rebound with 52 seconds left to give the Chiefs a 107-105 triumph over the Pittsburgh Rens at Honolulu.

Cohen's goal ended a four-game losing streak for the Chiefs, tailenders in the Western Division, and knocked the Rens out of first place in the Eastern Division. Cleveland took over the top rung by three percentage points over the Rens.

New York was scheduled to play at Kansas City, but snow forced a postponement until tonight. The San Francisco at Cleveland game, also originally slated for Friday night, was put over until Sunday at Columbus, Ohio.

Midland Whips Beaver, 51-38, For 2nd Section 8 Win

By ANDY NUZZO

Hank Kuzma's Midland High School Leopards rolled to their second consecutive win in Section 8 play and their 11th consecutive win of the season by defeating the Beaver High School Bobcats, 51-38, before a full house at Midland Friday night.

Spearheading the Leopard victory was Bill Sallis and Sam Forester, who whipped in 21 and 11 points respectively.

Beaver became the first team this season to hold down the Leopard's scoring ace, Al Aloi. They limited him to only two free throws, those coming early in the first quarter.

Aloi was constantly trailed by Jim Sanford and when Aloi got the ball two other Beaver defenders came to assist Sanford.

But while Beaver was busy with Aloi, Sallis and Forester took up the slack. Aloi was only able to get off eight shots, always with Sanford or another Bobcat on him.

Midland experienced its worst night from the field, canning only 16 of 53 shots for 30 per cent. Beaver made only 15 of 59 shots for 25 per cent.

Actually the Leopard victory margin came at the foul line. Midland had only one more field goal than Beaver but outscored them 19-8 from the free throw line.

In the rebounding department, Midland had a big edge, 69-28. Aloi did a yeoman job on the boards for the Leopards pulling in down 17 strays, the most collected by a Midland player in a single game this season. Behind Aloi was Sallis with 15 and Forester with 11. Harry Petrosky added nine.

Sanford led the Bobcats in rebounding, pulling down eight strays. Dave Noll pulled in six.

Beaver scored first and it marked the only time they had the lead. Midland moved to a 17-8 advantage at the quarter.

Midland started the second quarter as if they were going to run away with the game.

After Noll sank a jumper from the side, the Leopards reeled off nine consecutive points to grab a 26-10 lead midway through the second quarter.

But Beaver put on a rally of their own and cut the Leopard lead in half at halftime, 28-20.

Midland increased its lead in the third stanza, outscoring Beaver, 12-8, and took a 40-28 bulge into the final period.

A seven - point scoring spree, five of them by Sallis, moved the Leopards out to a comfortable 47-30 lead and Beaver never threatened again.

In the JV game, Ed Olkowski's Midland JV's jumped off to an early 11-0 lead, but then bowed to the Beaver JV's, 44-34. Henry Slappy and Bill Haggerty led Midland with eight points apiece.

Next Tuesday night Midland will play host to the Freedom Bulldogs in another Section 8 contest.

Wins Release From LSU

Dietzel Takes Army Post

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Paul Dietzel—who left the banks of the Hudson River seven years ago to become one of football's most glamorous coaches on the banks of the Mississippi at Louisiana State—returns to West Point today to become Army's head football coach.

"Deep in my heart, I have always wanted to be head coach at West Point," said Dietzel Friday. Only two months ago he said he'd never leave LSU.

The 37-year-old coach, once a butcher's helper in his native Ohio, won release of his contract at LSU Friday. The pact, which called for $18,500 annually, had four years remaining.

The LSU Board of Supervisors put up a stiff fight to keep Dietzel, a stern drillmaster on the football field who gave the Tigers a national championship and three bowl appearances in four years.

In a two-hour closed session, the board voted 8-5 to accept Dietzel's request for release from his contract. Then the meeting was opened and the board voted unanimously to release Dietzel.

Dietzel takes four of his assistants to West Point, where he reportedly will sign a five-year contract at $20,000 a year. He will replace Dale Hall, whom Army dismissed at the end of the regular season after the Cadets lost their third straight game to arch-rival Navy.

The four assistants going with Dietzel are defensive line coaches George Terry and Larry Charles and offensive aides Charles Peevy and Bill Shalowsky.

Dietzel was an assistant under Col. Earl (Red) Blaik—now retired—at West Point for two years before coming to LSU.

When Blaik quit at the end of the 1958 season—the same year that Dietzel's Tigers won the national championship—the young coach said he wouldn't consider the Army job.

"I think it would be very presumptuous of me to even discuss it, inasmuch as I have just signed a new five-year contract (since extended) with LSU," Dietzel said then.

In discussing the situation Friday, Dietzel said that in 1959 he didn't feel he had "fulfilled my obligation to LSU."

OSU, Villanova Risk Perfect Slates Tonight

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State, Villanova and Mississippi State, the nation's only three major unbeaten teams, risk their perfect records tonight as college basketball moves back into full swing.

All the teams in The Associated Press top 10 poll see action.

Top-ranked Ohio State puts its 10-0 slate on the line at Northwestern (5-4) in a Big Ten game, fifth-ranked Villanova (12-0 visits West Virginia (8-3) and ninth-ranked Mississippi State (9-0) entertains Auburn (6-3) in a Southeastern Conference fray.

Only one of the top 10 clubs, Southern California, played Friday night and the sixth-pegged Trojans disposed of California 68-41 in the first game of a doubleheader at Los Angeles. The victory was USC's 10th as against two losses. The two teams meet again tonight.

John Rudometkin paved the way for the Trojans with 22 points and Ken Stanley contributed 20. Denny Lewis' 11 points were high for California, which has a 6-7 record.

In the second game, UCLA turned back Washington 72-57.

In a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden, Memphis State ripped Seton Hall 101-84 and LaSalle trimmed Manhattan 76-69.

Memphis State unleashed a second-half surge to post its 10th victory in 13 outings. Seton Hall, which had been undefeated, lost its second straight.

Bob McAteer and Frank Corace were LaSalle's big guns in the Explorers' sixth success as against three setbacks. Each tallied 21 points as did Manhattan's Ron Petro.

Other games involving top 10 teams tonight include: Second-ranked Cincinnati (10-1) vs. Tulsa, third-ranked Kentucky (9-1) vs. Georgia Tech, fourth-ranked Kansas State (10-1) vs. Colorado, seventh-ranked Duquesne (8-1) vs. St. Bonaventure, Duke (9-1) ranked eight, vs. North Carolina State and tenth-ranked Bowling Green (9-1) vs. Ohio University.

5 More Bowl Games Slated This Weekend

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Think the five postseason games over the current weekend finally spell finis to the football season?

The real, honest-to-goodness, guaranteed end doesn't come until Jan. 14 when the National Football League's Eastern and Western All-Stars do battle in Los Angeles.

The American Football League is beating the NFL to its All-Star game by a week. The AFL East-West stars meet in San Diego, Calif., Sunday starting at 3:30 p.m. EST—ABC-TV.

The other two games on Sunday's schedule are the U.S. Bowl at Washington, D.C.—NBC-TV, 2 p.m. EST—and the Hula Bowl in Honolulu—7 p.m. EST.

On tap today were the National Football League runner-up bowl in Miami, pitting the Philadelphia Eagles against the Detroit Lions—2 p.m. EST CBS-TV—and the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala.—3 p.m. EST NBC-TV.

The East squad, headed by George Blanda of Houston and Al Dorow of New York, probably will rule the slight favorite over the West in the AFL All-Star game. Jack Kemp of San Diego and Cotton Davidson of Dallas are the mainstays of the West.

The U.S. Bowl also is an East-West affair. Only in this one the players are the draft choices of the two sections of the National Football League.

There is loads of quality on the two teams, but the coaches, Bill McPeak of the East and Red Hickey of the West, agreed that they would depend pretty much on passing because they haven't had the time to get a good running offensive organized.

This is a new post-season game and will be played in Washington's new, 50,000-seat stadium.

Some competition developed between the U.S. Bowl and the Hula Bowl. The Honolulu game also is an East-West affair and skimmed off some of the top draft choices from the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco.

The Eagles were narrow favorites over the Lions in the NFL runnerup bowl.

Blue And White Club To Elect Tuesday At 8

Officers will be elected when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club meets Tuesday night at 8 in the YMCA.

Russell E. Hall, retiring president, has asked that all members attend.

Coach Pulls Players Off Floor, Protests

He claimed the use of Terry Forgacs by Southeast in both the reserve and varsity game violated Portage County League rules.

Commission Favors New Racing Dates

CLARKSBURG, W. VA. (AP)—The State Racing Commission suggested new 1962 racing dates Friday to West Virginia's Northern Panhandle tracks because their proposed seasons overlapped.

The commission, at a reorganization session here, did not disclose the dates they had suggested to operators of Waterford Park and Wheeling Downs.

Waterford had asked for a 64-day season between June 20 and Sept. 9 and a 37-day fall meeting between Oct. 27 and Dec. 8, for a total of 101 days.

Wheeling Downs asked for a 44-day flat racing session May 5-July 14 and a 26-day fall program Nov. 2-Dec. 1, for a total of 68 days.

The Wheeling track requested 64 days of harness racing, with a April 6-May 12 session and a fall meet Sept. 14-Oct. 20.

The operators were asked to submit their replies to the commission at a meeting to be arranged later.

E. M. Frederick of Clarksburg, who had been serving as commission secretary, was named chairman to succeed W. P. C. Perry of Charles Town. Perry was chosen secretary. The other commissioner, James A. Wilverding of Elkins, remains as vice chairman.

Wilt 'Dunks' 53 In Warriors' Win Celtics Breeze

By The Associated Press

Watch the Philadelphia Warriors in a National Basketball Association game and chances are better than 50-50 you'll see Wilt Chamberlain score 50 or more points.

The 7-1 coordinated stick topped the 50 mark for the 22nd time in 40 games Friday night, firing in 53 as the Warriors routed the St. Louis Hawks 134-116 in the windup of a doubleheader at Philadelphia.

All the victory did was keep the Warriors from falling more than 8½ games behind the mighty Boston Celtics in the Eastern Division race. The runaway Celts, pushing their record to 31-6, whipped the Cincinnati Royals 124-103 at Cincinnati. Detroit went into overtime for a 138-135 victory over Syracuse in the opener at Philadelphia in the only other league activity.

Chamberlain, averaging just under 50 points for the season, hit 20 field goals and 13 of 21 free throws.

Chiefs Nip Rens On Cohen Tip-In In Final Minute

By The Associated Press

Last minute baskets by Tony Jackson and Jeff Cohen gave the underdog Chicago Majors and Hawaii Chiefs victories in the American Basketball League Friday night.

Jackson, former star for St. Johns (NY), hit a high jump shot from 35 feet out for a 3-pointer that gave the Majors a 106-103 overtime victory over the Los Angeles Jets at Wichita, Kan.

Cohen, former star for William and Mary, tapped in a rebound with 52 seconds left to give the Chiefs a 107-105 triumph over the Pittsburgh Rens at Honolulu.

Cohen's goal ended a four-game losing streak for the Chiefs, tailenders in the Western Division, and knocked the Rens out of first place in the Eastern Division. Cleveland took over the top rung by three percentage points over the Rens.

New York was scheduled to play at Kansas City, but snow forced a postponement until tonight. The San Francisco at Cleveland game, also originally slated for Friday night, was put over until Sunday at Columbus, Ohio.

Council Waits Voting To Fill Post Of Clerk

Election of a new clerk from a field of six or more applicants will highlight the organization meeting of the new City Council Monday night at 8.

At least a half a dozen already have filed written applications for the $1,200-a-year post held in the last biennium under an all-Democratic Council by Owen D. Kountz of Erie St.

With the balance of power now in favor of the Republicans, 4-3, Council is expected to name a clerk from the GOP ranks.

Council also will elect a president pro tem, to serve in the president's absence, and an assistant clerk. It will act on a temporary appropriation ordinance to provide funds for routine operations while the fiscal picture for the full year is worked out by the finance committee.

Council President Robert Owen will be in the chair, but the organization session is the only meeting he expects to conduct. Owen is scheduled to resign following Monday's meeting and return to the job as safety-service director which he left on Dec. 31.

That will leave appointment of a new Council president up to Mayor Bert H. Goodballet.

As president, Owen will announce Council's new standing committees at the organization meeting.

The new ward councilmen are: Floyd Murray, Democrat, First; Kenneth C. Berg, Republican, Second; S. James Welch, Republican, Third, and Edward B. Massey, Democrat, Fourth.

Owen has been acting mayor since assuming the Council presidency on New Year's Day, as Mayor Goodballet has been out of town on a holiday vacation. The mayor is expected to return late tonight or Sunday.

The assistant clerk's position is held now by Mrs. Edna Sweeney. As she has served for years under both Democratic and Republican control, she is expected to be named to a new term. Mrs. Sweeney is clerk of the city Civil Defense organization.

The temporary appropriation provides funds with which to operate the city through March. The appropriation for the full year generally is ready for enactment by late March.

Taxpayer Suits Filed In Warren Sewer Projects

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Two taxpayer suits alleging that two sewer construction projects here were procured by fraud or corruption have been filed in Trumbull County Common Pleas Court. A hearing is set for Feb. 19.

The suits, filed Friday, ask that the city be enjoined from making further payments to the contracting firms. Involved are the Rocco Ferrera Co., Detroit, and Boam Co., Inc., Livonia, Mich., which hold a $4.5 million sewer contract, and the John S. Durig Co., Warren, in connection with the $149,000 Hoyt Street Run sewer project.

Officials of all three firms testified for the state in the bribery trial of a former councilman who was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary. Two other councilmen also charged with bribery in the sewer scandal were sent to the penitentiary.

The new suits were filed by attorneys Allen R. Larmi and Mark J. Williams.

1 Killed, 1 Wounded By Drink Companions

CLEVELAND (AP)—One man was shot to death and another wounded critically Friday night by two drinking companions who suddenly turned robbers, police reported. Killed was Earl White, 47. Collin Underwood, 67, was wounded after being robbed of $80.

Police said the victims had been drinking with two unidentified men at Underwood's house on Kinsman Road when one of the two assailants jumped up and demanded money. White and Underwood were forced to lie on the floor, and after Underwood was robbed the victims were shot in the head.

February Draft Call Dips In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — State Selective Service headquarters announced Friday that West Virginia's draft call for February totals 117 men, compared with 260 for January and 337 for last December.

The drop is in line with a Defense Department announcement in Washington that draft calls for the next two months had been cut sharply because the Army had reached its buildup goal.

Chester Woman Asks $10,000 For Stair Fall

Mrs. Gladys McCoy, 612 3rd St., Chester, filed suit for $10,000 in Common Pleas Court Friday, claiming she said she broke a leg when she fell down a flight of stairs at the City Market Building on St. Clair Ave. while visiting friends in an upstairs apartment Jan. 8, 1960.

The defendants, Bernard F. Midler, Merle M. Midler, Robert Z. Midler, Sanford A. Midler and Lillie Midler, owners, and Harold S. Harris and Fannie Harris, operators of the market, were accused of negligence in that the stairs were insufficiently lighted and not marked.

Hoblitzell, Former U.S. Senator, Dies

CLARKSBURG (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. John D. Hoblitzell Jr., R-W. Va., died here early today of a heart attack. Hoblitzell also was a former State Republican chairman.

Hoblitzell, who was 49 last Saturday, died at his home about 3 a.m. The family said there was no previous history of a heart condition.

The former senator first became ill shortly after midnight, and was treated by a physician. The doctor was on his way back to the Hoblitzel home, after a second call by Mrs. Hoblitzell, when death occurred.

A native of Wood County and holder of an A.B. degree from West Virginia University in 1934, Hoblitzell was appointed to the U.S. Senate by former Gov. Cecil H. Underwood in January 1957.

That interim appointment followed the death of Sen. Matthew M. Neely, D-W. Va. Hoblitzell then was defeated by Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., in 1958 for the remaining two years of the Neely term.

Four Injured As Bus Skids Into Bridge

DELAWARE, N.J. (AP) —A Greyhound bus carrying 28 persons hit a concrete highway divider on rain-slicked Rt. 46 today, skidded and smashed into a railroad bridge abutment. Four persons were injured, none seriously.

Police said the bus was en route from New York to Scranton, Pa., when the accident occurred near this Warren County community.

The bus driver, Lance Ladin, 37, New York City, told police he was heading west toward Stroudsburg, Pa., when he saw a parked car projecting onto the road. He said the car driver was cleaning his windshield.

Police said Ladin was attempting to pass the car when he struck the highway divider. The bus straddled the divider and began skidding.

The driver managed to get the front wheels off the divider but the rear section of the vehicle smashed into the abutment supporting the center of the railroad bridge.

State police said the road was extremely slippery at the time and the bus was traveling in fog and drizzle.

The injured, all taken to Warren Hospital, Phillipsburg, in satisfactory condition, are Glen Jenkins, 18, and John Fritzges, 18, both Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Joseph Sady, 42, Ithaca, N.Y., and Bertha Morgan, 45, Worcester, Mass.

Vendors To Receive Data On Sales Tax Law

LISBON — Information on the new sales tax rules, laws and forms will be given Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Memorial Building in Salem, according to Leo T. Taucher, state examiner. The legislation has abolished the sales tax stamps.

All vendors are invited and anyone else interested in the sales tax changes may attend.

Slides will be shown and a question - and - answer period will follow, Taucher said.

Pay Boost Provided In New 2-Year Pact

CINCINNATI (AP) — Union employes at Fernald Atomic Plant of the National Lead Co. of Ohio have approved a new two-year contract providing a wage increase totaling 16 cents hourly. The contract, approved in voting Friday by members of the AFL-CIO Atomic Trades and Labor Council, covers about 1,400 employees at the plant in northwest Hamilton County.

Workers under the old contract earned an average of $2.93 hourly.

Los Angeles To Have Only Two Papers

That leaves two—in a city of 2½ million.

First to go was the evening Los Angeles Mirror. It published its last edition Friday.

The Los Angeles Examiner, a morning paper, publishes its last edition today.

Surviving are the morning Los Angeles Times, the rich and venerable older sister to the Mirror, and the evening Herald-Express, a sister-publication to the Examiner.

In Washington, D. C., Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said that the House Antitrust subcommittee —of which he is chairman—would examine the facts of the newspaper closings here to "see whether or not there was concerted action."

The statements from both papers' top executives gave the same reasons for the closings—the fact that they were losing money. Neither paper mentioned the other.

GOP Dinner Set

WHEELING (AP) — State GOP members will hear top national Republican figures via closed circuit television during a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner here Feb. 1. The dinner is being held to help raise money for senatorial and congressional campaigns later this year. Television speakers will include former President Dwight Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard Nixon.

Council Waits Voting To Fill Post Of Clerk

Election of a new clerk from a field of six or more applicants will highlight the organization meeting of the new City Council Monday night at 8.

At least a half a dozen already have filed written applications for the $1,200-a-year post held in the last biennium under an all-Democratic Council by Owen D. Kountz of Erie St.

With the balance of power now in favor of the Republicans, 4-3, Council is expected to name a clerk from the GOP ranks.

Council also will elect a president pro tem, to serve in the president's absence, and an assistant clerk. It will act on a temporary appropriation ordinance to provide funds for routine operations while the fiscal picture for the full year is worked out by the finance committee.

Council President Robert Owen will be in the chair, but the organization session is the only meeting he expects to conduct. Owen is scheduled to resign following Monday's meeting and return to the job as safety-service director which he left on Dec. 31.

That will leave appointment of a new Council president up to Mayor Bert H. Goodballet.

As president, Owen will announce Council's new standing committees at the organization meeting.

The new ward councilmen are: Floyd Murray, Democrat, First; Kenneth C. Berg, Republican, Second; S. James Welch, Republican, Third, and Edward B. Massey, Democrat, Fourth.

Owen has been acting mayor since assuming the Council presidency on New Year's Day, as Mayor Goodballet has been out of town on a holiday vacation. The mayor is expected to return late tonight or Sunday.

The assistant clerk's position is held now by Mrs. Edna Sweeney. As she has served for years under both Democratic and Republican control, she is expected to be named to a new term. Mrs. Sweeney is clerk of the city Civil Defense organization.

The temporary appropriation provides funds with which to operate the city through March. The appropriation for the full year generally is ready for enactment by late March.

Taxpayer Suits Filed In Warren Sewer Projects

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Two taxpayer suits alleging that two sewer construction projects here were procured by fraud or corruption have been filed in Trumbull County Common Pleas Court. A hearing is set for Feb. 19.

The suits, filed Friday, ask that the city be enjoined from making further payments to the contracting firms. Involved are the Rocco Ferrera Co., Detroit, and Boam Co., Inc., Livonia, Mich., which hold a $4.5 million sewer contract, and the John S. Durig Co., Warren, in connection with the $149,000 Hoyt Street Run sewer project.

Officials of all three firms testified for the state in the bribery trial of a former councilman who was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary. Two other councilmen also charged with bribery in the sewer scandal were sent to the penitentiary.

The new suits were filed by attorneys Allen R. Larmi and Mark J. Williams.

1 Killed, 1 Wounded By Drink Companions

CLEVELAND (AP)—One man was shot to death and another wounded critically Friday night by two drinking companions who suddenly turned robbers, police reported. Killed was Earl White, 47. Collin Underwood, 67, was wounded after being robbed of $80.

Police said the victims had been drinking with two unidentified men at Underwood's house on Kinsman Road when one of the two assailants jumped up and demanded money. White and Underwood were forced to lie on the floor, and after Underwood was robbed the victims were shot in the head.

February Draft Call Dips In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — State Selective Service headquarters announced Friday that West Virginia's draft call for February totals 117 men, compared with 260 for January and 337 for last December.

The drop is in line with a Defense Department announcement in Washington that draft calls for the next two months had been cut sharply because the Army had reached its buildup goal.

Chester Woman Asks $10,000 For Stair Fall

Mrs. Gladys McCoy, 612 3rd St., Chester, filed suit for $10,000 in Common Pleas Court Friday, claiming she said she broke a leg when she fell down a flight of stairs at the City Market Building on St. Clair Ave. while visiting friends in an upstairs apartment Jan. 8, 1960.

The defendants, Bernard F. Midler, Merle M. Midler, Robert Z. Midler, Sanford A. Midler and Lillie Midler, owners, and Harold S. Harris and Fannie Harris, operators of the market, were accused of negligence in that the stairs were insufficiently lighted and not marked.

Hoblitzell, Former U.S. Senator, Dies

CLARKSBURG (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. John D. Hoblitzell Jr., R-W. Va., died here early today of a heart attack. Hoblitzell also was a former State Republican chairman.

Hoblitzell, who was 49 last Saturday, died at his home about 3 a.m. The family said there was no previous history of a heart condition.

The former senator first became ill shortly after midnight, and was treated by a physician. The doctor was on his way back to the Hoblitzel home, after a second call by Mrs. Hoblitzell, when death occurred.

A native of Wood County and holder of an A.B. degree from West Virginia University in 1934, Hoblitzell was appointed to the U.S. Senate by former Gov. Cecil H. Underwood in January 1957.

That interim appointment followed the death of Sen. Matthew M. Neely, D-W. Va. Hoblitzell then was defeated by Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., in 1958 for the remaining two years of the Neely term.

Four Injured As Bus Skids Into Bridge

DELAWARE, N.J. (AP) —A Greyhound bus carrying 28 persons hit a concrete highway divider on rain-slicked Rt. 46 today, skidded and smashed into a railroad bridge abutment. Four persons were injured, none seriously.

Police said the bus was en route from New York to Scranton, Pa., when the accident occurred near this Warren County community.

The bus driver, Lance Ladin, 37, New York City, told police he was heading west toward Stroudsburg, Pa., when he saw a parked car projecting onto the road. He said the car driver was cleaning his windshield.

Police said Ladin was attempting to pass the car when he struck the highway divider. The bus straddled the divider and began skidding.

The driver managed to get the front wheels off the divider but the rear section of the vehicle smashed into the abutment supporting the center of the railroad bridge.

State police said the road was extremely slippery at the time and the bus was traveling in fog and drizzle.

The injured, all taken to Warren Hospital, Phillipsburg, in satisfactory condition, are Glen Jenkins, 18, and John Fritzges, 18, both Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Joseph Sady, 42, Ithaca, N.Y., and Bertha Morgan, 45, Worcester, Mass.

Vendors To Receive Data On Sales Tax Law

LISBON — Information on the new sales tax rules, laws and forms will be given Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Memorial Building in Salem, according to Leo T. Taucher, state examiner. The legislation has abolished the sales tax stamps.

All vendors are invited and anyone else interested in the sales tax changes may attend.

Slides will be shown and a question - and - answer period will follow, Taucher said.

Pay Boost Provided In New 2-Year Pact

CINCINNATI (AP) — Union employes at Fernald Atomic Plant of the National Lead Co. of Ohio have approved a new two-year contract providing a wage increase totaling 16 cents hourly. The contract, approved in voting Friday by members of the AFL-CIO Atomic Trades and Labor Council, covers about 1,400 employees at the plant in northwest Hamilton County.

Workers under the old contract earned an average of $2.93 hourly.

Macmillan Has Cold

LONDON (AP)--Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was in bed with a bad cold today but aides said he was expected to be well enough to go to Bonn next Tuesday for talks with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Los Angeles To Have Only Two Papers

That leaves two—in a city of 2½ million.

First to go was the evening Los Angeles Mirror. It published its last edition Friday.

The Los Angeles Examiner, a morning paper, publishes its last edition today.

Surviving are the morning Los Angeles Times, the rich and venerable older sister to the Mirror, and the evening Herald-Express, a sister-publication to the Examiner.

In Washington, D. C., Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said that the House Antitrust subcommittee —of which he is chairman—would examine the facts of the newspaper closings here to "see whether or not there was concerted action."

The statements from both papers' top executives gave the same reasons for the closings—the fact that they were losing money. Neither paper mentioned the other.

GOP Dinner Set

WHEELING (AP) — State GOP members will hear top national Republican figures via closed circuit television during a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner here Feb. 1. The dinner is being held to help raise money for senatorial and congressional campaigns later this year. Television speakers will include former President Dwight Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard Nixon.

ELKTON LIVESTOCK MARKET
Elkton, Ohio
Report December 30, 1961

Due to the bad weather and the roads, we had a light run. The prices was quite a lot higher on all stock, the demand was strong on all stock. The prices will get a little stronger each week from now on for a while. If you have any stock to sell we would be glad to handle them for you. Your business will be highly appreciated.

The Elkton live stock market and it's employees want to thank you for your wonderful business that you have given us for the past two years. We hope we can serve you in the future. We all wish you a Happy New Year.

Cattle sale every Saturday at 12 noon, horse pony and equipment every Wednesday at 7 P. M.

58 SUBURBAN PROPERTY

Instead of Buying and Selling . . . . Let Us Arrange an EXCHANGE!

One of the problems you face when selling one home and buying another is:
"Should I SELL first or BUY first?"
If you sell first, and then do not find what you want, you may be temporarily homeless!
If you buy first, and then find it takes time to sell the old home, you may get into a "bind."
We may be able to help you on both aspects. Perhaps we can arrange an EXCHANGE, so that the entire transaction and timing can be simplified, possibly with tax benefits thrown in for good measure!
Come in and discuss it with

ELKTON LIVESTOCK MARKET
Elkton, Ohio

Report December 30, 1961

Due to the bad weather and the roads, we had a light run. The prices was quite a lot higher on all stock, the demand was strong on all stock. The prices will get a little stronger each week from now on for a while. If you have any stock to sell we would be glad to handle them for you. Your business will be highly appreciated.

The Elkton live stock market and it's employees want to thank you for your wonderful business that you have given us for the past two years. We hope we can serve you in the future. We all wish you a Happy New Year.

Instead of Buying and Selling . . . . Let Us Arrange an EXCHANGE!

One of the problems you face when selling one home and buying another is:
"Should I SELL first or BUY first?"
If you sell first, and then do not find what you want, you may be temporarily homeless!
If you buy first, and then find it takes time to sell the old home, you may get into a "bind."
We may be able to help you on both aspects. Perhaps we can arrange an EXCHANGE, so that the entire transaction and timing can be simplified, possibly with tax benefits thrown in for good measure!
Come in and discuss it with

OFF THE RECORD

"He's telephoning her mother to see what shade of dungarees his girl is wearing to the dance."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove grease or oil stains from wallpaper?

A. Make a paste of cornstarch and water, apply, let remain on until dry, then brush off. If this doesn't work to your satisfaction, try a paste of fuller's earth and carbon tetrachloride. Use in the same manner.

Q. How can I recondition some of my furs?

A. Try this: Wet the fur with a hair brush, then brush against the nap. Hang in the air until dry, then beat lightly on the right side with a rattan. Finally, comb the hair out carefully into place.

Q. How can I clean varnished furniture?

A. Varnished furniture, whether light or dark, will clean beautifully if washed with a solution of three tablespoons of linseed oil and three tablespoons of turpentine in a gallon of very warm water. And this solution does not hurt your hands, either — in fact, it leaves them nice and soft.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLOWERS

QUESTION: What makes flowers fragrant?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: We sometimes think of flowers as being beautiful rather than useful, but actually, without flowers we would not exist at all, since almost all plants have flowers and we live by eating plants or animals that eat plants. The bright colors and sweet perfumes of the flowers attract birds and bees who pollinate them as they gather nectar, making certain that new seeds will be formed. The fragrance comes from what are called "essential oils". These oils are said to first originate in the green leaves of a plant and are then stored, in little sacks until needed. While fragrance may be in the leaves, bark and fruit of a plant as well as in the flower, it is mostly transported to the petals of a flower. There are tiny hairs on the skin of the petals which distribute the oil into the air in the form of very minute particles so fine that the fragrance goes out as a gas or vapor. When this reaches the smelling organs of animals or insects it becomes moistened and turns into a liquid which makes it easier for the animal or insects to smell it.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: An apple is good to look at, but did you ever smell it and realize it has a delicious perfume? Tie a cloth around your friends' eyes and see how many objects they can tell just by the smell.

Draft Calls Cut Sharply For 2 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Friday a sharp cut in draft calls for the next two months because the Army has reached its buildup goal.

The February draft call was set at 8,000 men and the March call at 6,000, all for the Army.

This was the lowest since last July, just before the U.S. began building up its military strength in the face of Russian threats to push the West out of Berlin.

The January call was 15,000.

The Pentagon said that as a result of higher draft calls and other actions the "strength objective of the Army, including provisions for manning the two new Army divisions, has now been reached."

Since the start of the buildup, the announcement said, there has been more than a 20 per cent improvement in enlistments. Half of the total manpower gains during the buildup have been from inductions, it said.

This did not include the call to active service of 119,000 Army National Guardsmen and reservists.

The draft call for August, the first month of the buildup, totaled 13,000 men. In September it reached its high point of 25,000, followed by 20,000 in October, 20,000 in November, 16,000 in December and January's 15,000.

The average draft call during the year preceding the buildup was about 5,000 a month.

Bing Crosby 'Fine' Following Surgery

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's doctor says the 57-year-old crooner is doing fine after a two-hour, 20-minute operation for removal of two kidney stones.

The surgery Friday was the third such operation performed on Crosby. The others were in 1952 and 1955.

Dr. Frederick Schlumberger denied a report that the operation was necessary because of a passed kidney stone—"the stones just shifted position," he said.

Crosby's wife, actress Kathy Grant, said Bing was in good spirits going into the operating room and gave her detailed instructions on how to decorate a new home they are building in Mexico.

Bing will be in the hospital for a week or 10 days.

1 Killed, 7 Injured In 2-Car Collision

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — An 18-year-old youth was killed and seven other Cambridge young people were injured when two autos collided a mile and a half south of here on Ohio 209 early today.

The Highway Patrol reported Larry W. Seins of Cambridge dead in the wreck. He was in a car driven by 17-year - old John Cronin.

Injured were Cronin; Trent Hanes, 21, driver of the other vehicle, and Hanes' five passengers; Mark Coss, 21; Stephen Dinkins, 19; Donna Webb, 17; Mahala Anker, 14, and Jack Morrison, 21.

Doctor Delayed, Road To Hell Has Ice Coat

HELL, Mich. (AP)—Dr. Morris Chelsky couldn't get to an expectant mother's bedside because the road to Hell was coated with ice Friday.

But he called from his office in Howell, 15 miles away, and coached three neighbor women by telephone.

They delivered Mrs. John Aldrich of a nine-pound son.

Mother and son were reported doing well.

Lima Safety Record Marred By Fatality

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — A head-on auto collision early today killed one driver and critically injured the other in this city which went through 1961 without a traffic fatality.

George J. Reshetylo, 23, perished. Gerald M. Smith, 47, is in St. Rita's Hospital. Both Lima residents, each was alone in his auto on North Main Street.

Louisiana Segregation Law On Bus, Train Hit By Court

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — A three-judge federal court has ruled unconstitutional Louisiana laws requiring segregation of bus and train terminal facilities. However the laws will stand for 10 days.

The decision Friday was based on the court's finding that the state laws interfere with interstate commerce and deny equal protection of the law guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

The court asked the Justice Department and the Interstate Commerce Commission to file suggestions for a decree—which the court said it would file in 10 days.

The Justice Department had filed three consolidated suits taking in Lincoln, Ouachita and Rapids Parishes. State judges in each of the parishes granted had injunctions that kept terminals segregated, despite an ICC order prohibiting segregated terminal facilities.

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion indicated the state would appeal the federal ruling. The appeal would go directly to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Presiding Judge John R. Brown of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Houston, Tex., said Louisiana segregation laws in transportation terminals would "remain status quo until the decree is issued."

Earlier in the hearing the court dismissed Gremillion's motion to make the Louisiana Public Service Commission a party to the government suit. He contended the commission was the sole agency regulating intrastate commerce.

Gremillion said if the court ordered segregation signs removed from the terminals, the companies involved would be caught in the middle. The commission has an order requiring maintenance of segregated facilities. The commission order, he said, was not connected with any law involved in the hearing.

A ground hog seldom ventures far from home. On sensing an enemy he whistles a warning, chatters his teeth and quickly disappears under the sod.

2 Boys Admit Igniting Fires That Killed 3

NEW YORK (AP) — Two New York State boys—one in Brooklyn and the other in Newburgh—are reported by police to have confessed setting fires that took three lives.

A fire blamed on a 16-year-old Newburgh boy, Lawton Day, killed his mother and stepfather. The boy apparently acted on a sudden impulse after his stepfather scolded him, Police Chief John Tirney said.

One of a series of fires blamed on an 8-year-old Brooklyn boy, whose name was not made public, killed a 2-year-old boy and badly burned his 10-month-old sister in their family's basement apartment.

Police said the accused boy told them he saw the children through the open door of the apartment while playing in the basement and —"just to be funny" — tossed a lighted match on their bed. He was held as a juvenile delinquent Friday.

In Newburgh—60 miles north of here—Day was arrested on a first degree murder charge Friday. He was accused of the deaths of Harold Kennedy, 40, an unemployed laborer, and his wife, Clara, 44, a hospital nurse's aide, in a fire in the family apartment Dec. 30.

The boy was quoted by police as saying that as he walked out of the apartment he noted a store of kerosene in the corridor outside and set it afire with a cigarette butt.

The boy's mother threw his half-brother, Russell Dayton, 6, to safety from a third-floor window. But she and her husband were trapped by intense flames that swept the third-floor corridor.

The fatal Brooklyn fire occurred New Year's night in the apartment of Josanne Williams, who had gone to a store to buy milk. In the apartment were Maurice Williams, 4; Lawrence, 2, and Shelanda, 10 months. Lawrence died the following day of burns.

IRS Delays Decision On New Tax Data Site

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has put off until the week of Jan. 15 a decision where to build a new tax data center in this area.

That's the report from Ernest Vaughn, IRS regional chief, who said the service wants to hear all voices before deciding.

Ohio and Kentucky community and county groups in a 50-mile radius from Cincinnati have campaigned briskly to get the center.

Kentucky officials said Friday the state would build access roads to any site chosen in northern Kentucky. A couple in Clermont County, Ohio, meanwhile offered to donate 15 acres as a site.

The IRS planned the center originally for a suburban spot east of Cincinnati. It will cost about $12 million and will have about 1,500 employes with an annual $6 million payroll.

To Fight Starlings

CINCINNATI (AP)—Safety Director Cris Hamilton has decided on a new offensive against starlings which infest the downtown Cincinnati area. He has 50 volunteer marksmen ready to start later this month in roving squads of four, armed with shotguns, in nighttime forays. Workhouse prisoners would go along to pick up the dead birds.

Woman Killed, 3 Companions Hurt In Wreck

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A group that left a Buckeye Lake tavern and headed for a friend's house in two automobiles met tragedy early today when the car collided. A young Newark woman was killed and three of her companions are in Newark Hospital.

Mrs. Thelma Caldwell Crawmer, about 22, perished. In fair condition with injuries are Joseph Brown Jr., 19, of Newark, a marine home on leave; his uncle George Brown, 28, and George's wife, Jo Ann, 22, of Buckeye Lake.

The Licking County Sheriff's Department, investigating the mishap on Ohio 79 a mile west of Buckeye Lake, got this narrative from David Glover of Millersport, driver of one of the cars who escaped unhurt:

The Browns and Mrs. Crawmer, with George Brown driving, were following Glover along the road in Licking County near the Fairfield County line. Glover turned at the end of a concrete bridge over the Licking River to go into a private driveway. The Brown car smashed into Glover's vehicle as the turn apparently caught the driver by surprise. Mrs. Crawmer was thrown out by the impact.

Charges Of Murder Filed Against Woman

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — First degree murder charges have been filed against Mrs. Sarah Layman, 34, of Rt. 1, South Point, in the shooting of her mother-in - law, Mrs. Eva Layman, 54, Thursday night.

Mrs. Layman was held in Lawrence County jail awaiting a preliminary hearing. Prosecutor Dennis Callahan said the complaint was brought by Mrs. Layman's husband, Edward Jr., 32. Sheriff's deputies said the victim was shot in the chest with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Seven flags have flown over St. Croix in the Virgin Islands — Holland, England, Spain, France, the Knights of Malta, Denmark and the United States.

Draft Calls Cut Sharply For 2 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Friday a sharp cut in draft calls for the next two months because the Army has reached its buildup goal.

The February draft call was set at 8,000 men and the March call at 6,000, all for the Army.

This was the lowest since last July, just before the U.S. began building up its military strength in the face of Russian threats to push the West out of Berlin.

The January call was 15,000.

The Pentagon said that as a result of higher draft calls and other actions the "strength objective of the Army, including provisions for manning the two new Army divisions, has now been reached."

Since the start of the buildup, the announcement said, there has been more than a 20 per cent improvement in enlistments. Half of the total manpower gains during the buildup have been from inductions, it said.

This did not include the call to active service of 119,000 Army National Guardsmen and reservists.

The draft call for August, the first month of the buildup, totaled 13,000 men. In September it reached its high point of 25,000, followed by 20,000 in October, 20,000 in November, 16,000 in December and January's 15,000.

The average draft call during the year preceding the buildup was about 5,000 a month.

Bing Crosby 'Fine' Following Surgery

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's doctor says the 57-year-old crooner is doing fine after a two-hour, 20-minute operation for removal of two kidney stones.

The surgery Friday was the third such operation performed on Crosby. The others were in 1952 and 1955.

Dr. Frederick Schlumberger denied a report that the operation was necessary because of a passed kidney stone—"the stones just shifted position," he said.

Crosby's wife, actress Kathy Grant, said Bing was in good spirits going into the operating room and gave her detailed instructions on how to decorate a new home they are building in Mexico.

Bing will be in the hospital for a week or 10 days.

1 Killed, 7 Injured In 2-Car Collision

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — An 18-year-old youth was killed and seven other Cambridge young people were injured when two autos collided a mile and a half south of here on Ohio 209 early today.

The Highway Patrol reported Larry W. Seins of Cambridge dead in the wreck. He was in a car driven by 17-year - old John Cronin.

Injured were Cronin; Trent Hanes, 21, driver of the other vehicle, and Hanes' five passengers; Mark Coss, 21; Stephen Dinkins, 19; Donna Webb, 17; Mahala Anker, 14, and Jack Morrison, 21.

Doctor Delayed, Road To Hell Has Ice Coat

HELL, Mich. (AP)—Dr. Morris Chelsky couldn't get to an expectant mother's bedside because the road to Hell was coated with ice Friday.

But he called from his office in Howell, 15 miles away, and coached three neighbor women by telephone.

They delivered Mrs. John Aldrich of a nine-pound son.

Mother and son were reported doing well.

Lima Safety Record Marred By Fatality

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — A head-on auto collision early today killed one driver and critically injured the other in this city which went through 1961 without a traffic fatality.

George J. Reshetylo, 23, perished. Gerald M. Smith, 47, is in St. Rita's Hospital. Both Lima residents, each was alone in his auto on North Main Street.

Louisiana Segregation Law On Bus, Train Hit By Court

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — A three-judge federal court has ruled unconstitutional Louisiana laws requiring segregation of bus and train terminal facilities. However the laws will stand for 10 days.

The decision Friday was based on the court's finding that the state laws interfere with interstate commerce and deny equal protection of the law guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

The court asked the Justice Department and the Interstate Commerce Commission to file suggestions for a decree—which the court said it would file in 10 days.

The Justice Department had filed three consolidated suits taking in Lincoln, Ouachita and Rapids Parishes. State judges in each of the parishes granted had injunctions that kept terminals segregated, despite an ICC order prohibiting segregated terminal facilities.

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion indicated the state would appeal the federal ruling. The appeal would go directly to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Presiding Judge John R. Brown of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Houston, Tex., said Louisiana segregation laws in transportation terminals would "remain status quo until the decree is issued."

Earlier in the hearing the court dismissed Gremillion's motion to make the Louisiana Public Service Commission a party to the government suit. He contended the commission was the sole agency regulating intrastate commerce.

Gremillion said if the court ordered segregation signs removed from the terminals, the companies involved would be caught in the middle. The commission has an order requiring maintenance of segregated facilities. The commission order, he said, was not connected with any law involved in the hearing.

2 Boys Admit Igniting Fires That Killed 3

NEW YORK (AP) — Two New York State boys—one in Brooklyn and the other in Newburgh—are reported by police to have confessed setting fires that took three lives.

A fire blamed on a 16-year-old Newburgh boy, Lawton Day, killed his mother and stepfather. The boy apparently acted on a sudden impulse after his stepfather scolded him, Police Chief John Tirney said.

One of a series of fires blamed on an 8-year-old Brooklyn boy, whose name was not made public, killed a 2-year-old boy and badly burned his 10-month-old sister in their family's basement apartment.

Police said the accused boy told them he saw the children through the open door of the apartment while playing in the basement and —"just to be funny" — tossed a lighted match on their bed. He was held as a juvenile delinquent Friday.

In Newburgh—60 miles north of here—Day was arrested on a first degree murder charge Friday. He was accused of the deaths of Harold Kennedy, 40, an unemployed laborer, and his wife, Clara, 44, a hospital nurse's aide, in a fire in the family apartment Dec. 30.

The boy was quoted by police as saying that as he walked out of the apartment he noted a store of kerosene in the corridor outside and set it afire with a cigarette butt.

The boy's mother threw his half-brother, Russell Dayton, 6, to safety from a third-floor window. But she and her husband were trapped by intense flames that swept the third-floor corridor.

The fatal Brooklyn fire occurred New Year's night in the apartment of Josanne Williams, who had gone to a store to buy milk. In the apartment were Maurice Williams, 4; Lawrence, 2, and Shelanda, 10 months. Lawrence died the following day of burns.

IRS Delays Decision On New Tax Data Site

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has put off until the week of Jan. 15 a decision where to build a new tax data center in this area.

That's the report from Ernest Vaughn, IRS regional chief, who said the service wants to hear all voices before deciding.

Ohio and Kentucky community and county groups in a 50-mile radius from Cincinnati have campaigned briskly to get the center.

Kentucky officials said Friday the state would build access roads to any site chosen in northern Kentucky. A couple in Clermont County, Ohio, meanwhile offered to donate 15 acres as a site.

The IRS planned the center originally for a suburban spot east of Cincinnati. It will cost about $12 million and will have about 1,500 employes with an annual $6 million payroll.

To Fight Starlings

CINCINNATI (AP)—Safety Director Cris Hamilton has decided on a new offensive against starlings which infest the downtown Cincinnati area. He has 50 volunteer marksmen ready to start later this month in roving squads of four, armed with shotguns, in nighttime forays. Workhouse prisoners would go along to pick up the dead birds.

Woman Killed, 3 Companions Hurt In Wreck

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A group that left a Buckeye Lake tavern and headed for a friend's house in two automobiles met tragedy early today when the car collided. A young Newark woman was killed and three of her companions are in Newark Hospital.

Mrs. Thelma Caldwell Crawmer, about 22, perished. In fair condition with injuries are Joseph Brown Jr., 19, of Newark, a marine home on leave; his uncle George Brown, 28, and George's wife, Jo Ann, 22, of Buckeye Lake.

The Licking County Sheriff's Department, investigating the mishap on Ohio 79 a mile west of Buckeye Lake, got this narrative from David Glover of Millersport, driver of one of the cars who escaped unhurt:

The Browns and Mrs. Crawmer, with George Brown driving, were following Glover along the road in Licking County near the Fairfield County line. Glover turned at the end of a concrete bridge over the Licking River to go into a private driveway. The Brown car smashed into Glover's vehicle as the turn apparently caught the driver by surprise. Mrs. Crawmer was thrown out by the impact.

Charges Of Murder Filed Against Woman

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — First degree murder charges have been filed against Mrs. Sarah Layman, 34, of Rt. 1, South Point, in the shooting of her mother-in - law, Mrs. Eva Layman, 54, Thursday night.

Mrs. Layman was held in Lawrence County jail awaiting a preliminary hearing. Prosecutor Dennis Callahan said the complaint was brought by Mrs. Layman's husband, Edward Jr., 32. Sheriff's deputies said the victim was shot in the chest with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Seven flags have flown over St. Croix in the Virgin Islands — Holland, England, Spain, France, the Knights of Malta, Denmark and the United States.

THE THUNDERING HERD

When the plainsman asked Tom Doan why he wanted to hunt buffalo, Tom replied "I can ride . . . I'm quick on the draw — and I ain't seen man nor beast yet I'd run from!"

"You'll do," the plainsman said. "I reckon I'll need every hand I can get. Them Indian varmints is aimin' to run every hide-huntin' white man off the plains — YOUR SCALP WILL DO AS GOOD AS ANY FOR THEM!"

ROBBERS' ROOST

The Hank Hays Gang was at large! These blood-crazed killers were wanted — DEAD OR ALIVE — for robbery . . . rustling . . . murder . . . and now for KIDNAPPING a beautiful young girl!

But the girl was doomed to perish! No one dared go near their hideout . . . where Hank Hays himself had boasted of a "Robbers' Roost whar no posse could ride in twenty years!"

THE DUDE RANGER

Ernest Howard was a new tenderfoot on the Red Rock Ranch. The ranch manager wouldn't even let him go near a horse. His daughter treated Ernest like dirt! And the foreman hated him — even tried to KILL him!

But The Tenderfoot had an ace up his sleeve. The others didn't know it, but HE was the new OWNER of Red Rock Ranch! He wanted to find out why the manager had $200,000 in the bank while the ranch itself was barely breaking even! He would find out, too — if he lived long enough!

ZANE GREY

Most beloved Western story teller of all time. The blood of Indian chiefs flowed through his veins, and he actually lived the rugged life made famous in his exciting books.

All the Glory of the Old West — Its Sweeping Action, Color and Romance — Recaptured in Beautiful Volumes Your Family Will Be Proud to Own

IMAGINE! ALL 3 Western thrillers described above are yours for only $1.00 — to introduce you to the magnificent matched library series of Zane Grey "Golden West De Luxe Editions."

What a treat is in store for you! You'll be swept away by the colorful action, the breath-taking thrills, the blood-tingling excitement that runs rampant in every Zane Grey Western! You'll come face-to-face with heroic men and women . . . with ruthless desperadoes and outlaws . . . with the roar of blazing six-guns!

These volumes are gorgeously bound in beautiful buckram and sturdy cloth, and stamped in genuine gold. Yet they come to you for less than the price of ordinary books!

Just picture them next to your easy chair — and imagine the exciting reading they will provide for you and your family! Here are the other rip-roaring Zane Grey Westerns in this magnificent library series:

WILDFIRE. The tempestuous story of a great wild stallion, a fiery girl—and the man who was strong enough to tame them both!

ARIZONA AMES. His blazing six-shooter spread terror among the toughest badmen!

ROGUE RIVER FEUD. Violence and death on Rogue River.

WEST OF THE PECOS. A hard-riding, straight-shooting young man turns out to be a girl!

THE LONE STAR RANGER. One man against the toughest killers in the wild Texas borderland!

CALL OF THE CANYON. Smashing drama of death and danger!

30,000 ON THE HOOF. Pioneer Huett battles screaming Indians and lawless rustlers.

WILD HORSE MESA. A party sets out to capture a phantom stallion — and runs head-on into a storm of intrigue.

Other great volumes include: The Vanishing American; Fighting Caravans; The Hash Knife Outfit; The Mysterious Rider; Twin Sombreros; The Heritage of The Desert; Western Union; Under The Tonto Rim; The Fugitive Trail; Shepherd of Guadaloupe; Thunder Mountain; To The Last Man; The Man of The Forest. Every one is complete — not a thrilling word is cut!

DO YOU KNOW

HOW TO LISTEN?

It's not as simple a task as it seems, but it has the power to enrich your life

By THEODORE IRWIN

AT A MIDWEST industrial plant one morning, a foreman gathered six workers around him to instruct them on how to use a new forge safely. They all seemed to pay close attention as he told them to hang hot grappling irons on one wall and cool irons on another.

Fifteen minutes later, one of the men stepped up to the wrong wall, grasped a hot iron and screamed with pain as the iron seared his flesh. The injury proved so serious that he almost lost the use of his hand—a tragic price to pay for poor listening.

Speech experts who have made extensive studies of our listening habits find that most of us are half-listeners. At the University of Minnesota, a recent survey by Dr. Ralph G. Nichols revealed that the average person recalls only about half of what he has heard after a speaker has finished.

Yet in this age of the telephone, meetings, radio, and television, we must often listen far more than we speak, read, or write.

Everyone thinks he listens when he hears—but you can hear words without understanding them or retaining the ideas expressed. Effective listening, however, which means more than just letting sound waves enter your ears, is a skill and an art which can be learned and improved.

The importance of good listening is gradually being recognized. Today, courses in listening are being given at more than 25 colleges and universities, as well as at elementary and high schools in Nashville, Tenn.; Phoenix, Ariz.; throughout North Dakota; and elsewhere.

Business, industry, and government, traditionally fearful of costly snafus caused by oral communication, lean toward the proliferating written memo—"Don't Say It! Write It!"—which has piled paperwork into a tangle of red tape. Now several large companies include listening courses in their regular personnel training programs. So do some Federal agencies and units of our military services.

But there are steps you can take on your own to correct bad listening habits. Here are the main faults observed by speech specialists and how you can overcome them:

1. When hearing a long talk or lecture, we tend to slip into "tangent thinking." The average person talks at a speed of 120-180 words a minute. We think about four times as fast, so we have plenty of time for freewheeling as we listen. But by the time our attention is jolted back to what's being said, the speaker has outdistanced us and we've lost some of his ideas. Instead, use that extra thinking time to review what the speaker has said and to check it with what you know. Listen between the lines to "nonverbal communication"—there may be significance in his gestures, facial expressions, or the way he raises his voice.

2. Many people talk too much, listen too little. This often happens at conferences and parties. Humorist Robert Benchley once circulated around a talky party, saying: "Tonight it may snow if the whistle stops." Few of those present were aware he was uttering nonsense. A good conversation, conference, or family gathering should encourage as much listening as talking. Vice President Lyndon Johnson has a sign in his office which reads: "You ain't learnin' nothin' when you're talking."

3. Hearing a speech or lecture, we may fall into the habit of listening only for facts, allowing the central ideas to escape. Listen for the main thought, and you'll be amazed how well you can remember the supporting details. Pick out the theme from the topic sentence—usually after the introduction—then connect examples cited, analogies, and anecdotes. This makes it easier for you to follow a long talk.

4. During a conversation or meeting we're apt to let a sound or other intrusion take our attention away long enough to miss important words. Try to blot out distractions; interrupt only to clarify a point. To concentrate better, look at the speaker directly. Maintain this "eye contact" to indicate that you're deeply interested. Tune in on personal pronouns—"we," "you," "us"—that serve as cues for your own involvement. When you're given verbal instructions or directions, repeat them to yourself.

5. Our emotions are inclined to deafen us. When a speaker drops an incendiary word or phrase—such as "mother-in-law," "landlord," "sissy," or "fortuneteller"—which arouses our bias or prejudice, we tune out like a henpecked husband who turns off his hearing aid. A good listener is open-minded, receptive to fresh ideas. Check your instinct to seal your ears by asking questions that will make it easier to absorb what you hear, even if the opinion clashes with your own views.

6. Too often our listening is influenced by a person's manner of speech or appearance—a rumpled suit, foreign accent, or unusual hairdo. In effect we tell ourselves that "anyone who looks or talks like that can't be saying much." One authority advises: "Concentrate on what is being said, not on who is saying it."

7. When you suspect the speaker or his topic will be dull, too deep, or technical, you may shut your mind to his words and fake attention. This frequently happens to students faced with an instructor who doesn't talk as smoothly as a stand-up comic. Give the speaker a chance to warm up; get what benefit you can from his talk; ask questions about whatever you don't understand. To keep alert and develop your listening ability, ask yourself: "Is he saying something new that I should know?" Even a boring person generally has an idea or two to offer, so search for and select worthwhile ideas you can use. "There are no uninteresting subjects, only uninterested listeners," Dr. Nichols reminds us.

Careful listening takes a little conscious effort and demands active participation. But once you acquire the knack, you'll probably find you can listen your way to more congeniality on your job, closer friendships, and better relations with your family.

The Bible Is His Beat

Three of Ted Conibear's projected 30 Biblescapes are (from left) the Nativity; Christ in Gethsemane; and the Last Supper, which the sculptor is now working on.

Ted Conibear, an ex-policeman with a knack for sand sculpture, is creating a unique shrine to the life of Christ

Photos and Text by HENRY CHAPMAN

AS A POLICEMAN 35 years ago, Ted Conibear pounded the pavements of Detroit. Today, he treads silently over grass-carpeted hills and valleys past the birthplace of the Christ Child, past the garden of Gethsemane, past the cross-spiked hill of Calvary.

When the ex-policeman's long and easy strides bring him to the scene of the Last Supper, he halts. His eyes squint. He scrutinizes Jesus seated at a table with eight of His disciples.

The critical appraisal over, Conibear moves to the end of the table, next to bewildered Simon, and picks up a knife and spoon—to work with.

His medium is sand and water. His tools are a knife, a spoon, and a couple of 19-cent brushes. With these simple tools and materials, and his gifted hands, he is creating a 100-acre "Bible Land" in southern California with life-size, sand-sculptured scenes from the life of Christ.

Conibear plans to populate his leased acreage with 30 imposing Biblescapes. The half-finished Last Supper is the third of these. Ten tons of sand have already gone into it. Another eight tons will complete the 20-foot-long table and seat the four missing disciples—Bartholomew, James the younger, Andrew, and Judas.

"Friends and neighbors pose for my Biblical scenes," Conibear says. "A rancher from Elsinore is Simon at the Last Supper. And Matthew is a sergeant-mechanic stationed at the March Field Air Force Base."

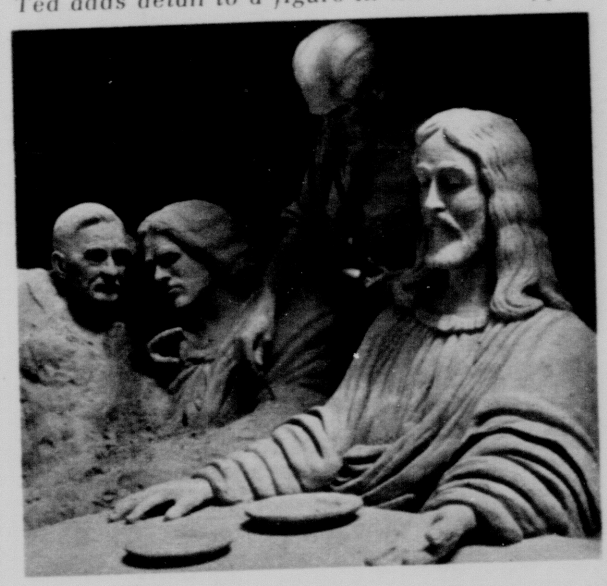

Conibear uses ordinary sand for his Biblical sculptures. However, it must be of a certain color and stability, and Conibear searches for it as far north as Los Angeles and south to the Mexican border. "One exceptionally fine batch," he admits with a twinkle, "came from the Del Mar race track out here."

Conibear's Bible Land is in the Rainbow Valley, 50 miles northeast of San Diego. He supports himself, his artist wife, and teen-age son (another son is in the Navy) by doing odd jobs—but most of his time is spent re-creating the New Testament in sand. The growing tourist attraction is free; Conibear says he simply wants to share "God's gift" to him with others.

He first realized he had a gift for sculpture in 1926 when he saw a man on a Lake Erie beach molding a bathing beauty from sand. Conibear helped him with the hands and face and did so well that onlookers applauded.

His realization that he could form figures from sand grew until at last he quit the Detroit police force and joined various fairs as a "sand sculptor." Upwards of 15,000 persons watched him create battle scenes and wild animals, but it was Bible scenes that fascinated Conibear—and his audiences—most. After 30 years of traveling around on the fair circuit, Conibear retreated to Rainbow Canyon where he could create his Biblical figures—and not have to destroy them at the end of each day's work.

CREATING THE BIBLESCAPES demands meticulous research for authenticity in clothing, furnishings, and other details. For this, Conibear consults his own extensive library of Biblical literature, treasured in his 100-year-old stone house. Following his research, Conibear renders a rough drawing of the scene to be translated into sand. After he is satisfied with the scene's composition, he wheelbarrows a load of sand to the site and begins his tedious technique.

He adds water to a small portion of the finely sifted sand. Then he packs it solid, one handful at a time, to build the general bulk of the figure or object. Slowly, the miracle of creation unfolds under Conibear's sensitive fingers and his deft manipulations with knife, spoon, and brush.

Conibear estimates it will take "a mountain of sand, a lake of water, and a life of time" to illustrate the life of Christ from the Nativity to the Resurrection, and he is willing to dedicate himself to its fulfillment. "My talent was a gift of God," he says, "so I'm using that gift to build this shrine to Him."

For this, Conibear consults his own extensive library of Biblical literature, treasured in his 100-year-old stone house. Following his research, Conibear renders a rough drawing of the scene to be translated into sand. After he is satisfied with the scene's composition, he wheelbarrows a load of sand to the site and begins his tedious technique.

He adds water to a small portion of the finely sifted sand. Then he packs it solid, one handful at a time, to build the general bulk of the figure or object. Slowly, the miracle of creation unfolds under Conibear's sensitive fingers and his deft manipulations with knife, spoon, and brush.

Conibear estimates it will take "a mountain of sand, a lake of water, and a life of time" to illustrate the life of Christ from the Nativity to the Resurrection, and he is willing to dedicate himself to its fulfillment. "My talent was a gift of God," he says, "so I'm using that gift to build this shrine to Him."

Insurance

Insurance to cover this is called "major medical," and it usually pays up to $5,000 or $10,000. Surprisingly, this big insurance sum can be bought for perhaps two-thirds the price of a hospitalization policy. Making this possible is the deductible. For major-medical requires you to pay the first $250-$500 of the expense. Then it pays all the rest on some items, 80 percent on others.

While loss-of-income protection is needed only for the breadwinner, major-medical is obviously needed for the whole family. Buy it as part of a group plan if you can.

What about the other forms of health insurance—the hospital, surgical, and medical plans which most families have? These are worthwhile. But remember, if you have major-medical, you'll need perhaps only $250 of supplementary insurance to fill any gaps early in an illness.

Remember, too, while this appears to be only $250 of insurance, it is actually more. For several members of your family might suffer costly illness or accident in one year, or might repeat. But look closely at those supplementary plans, weighing the dollar-value against cost, and be willing to assume lesser costs yourself.

The perfect example of what experts consider to be relatively unwise health insurance is the maternity benefit. A typical benefit is $50, for which you pay $35 a year in premiums. So remember to consider always what expense you might be able to handle yourself.

FEW AMERICANS, especially those with young families, have life insurance which is remotely adequate. For most, it is under $10,000.

Let's take a man of 35 with a wife and two children. He owns a $10,000 policy, for which he pays $197 a year. His policy is "ordinary" life, meaning it is really a combination of protection and savings. The savings element is the costly one. But investment experts say this savings element is the base of a good financial program.

The grim fact, however, is that the protection side of the policy is inadequate. What his family needs, should he die, is income, at least until the children are grown. He decides to insure further, and finds another $10,000 of ordinary life will cost $197 a year more.

But suppose he increases just the protection and not the savings by adding a "family-income rider." He buys insurance of $200 a month income (plus the basic $10,000 policy). Cost: $100 a year for $36,000 in protection.

The second biggest need he has is to guarantee that his family can keep their home, which has a $12,000 mortgage. He buys a "mortgage-life" policy for about $50 a year—bargain protection.

And finally, to take care of about $2,000 in installment debts which tend to recur (for example, on the car), he gets "credit life" when he arranges each contract, at a total cost of about $10 yearly.

SHOULD THIS man die, his family's home and belongings are kept intact, debts are paid off. There is a lump sum for emergencies and a modest income of $200 each month (which, with debts paid and the family smaller, is probably adequate).

These three forms of insurance are decreasing term insurance. That is, as time passes and the size of the need shrinks, the insurance shrinks with it. The entire value is in protection, as in car insurance. Experts stress the need to begin with ordinary life as a base.

In this case, our man added $36,000 in income protection, $12,000 in mortgage life, and $2,000 in credit life for $160, as against a second $10,000 of ordinary life, which would have cost $197.

Group life insurance, when you can buy it, is a bargain not to be missed, though it is usually "term" insurance with no cash value. For older families, the protection need is less, but the need for permanent cash value is greater. So, as the years pass, the best bargains become policies weighted toward saving.

What about insurance on wives and children? The death of a young mother creates an economic problem. The death of a child may leave debts. But these are secondary to the life of the breadwinner.

The rule is always the same: insure first against the greatest possible loss. Do this and the bargains will take care of themselves.

I was just thinking . . .®

LAST WEEK I reclined in the parking lot with my legs bent out like parentheses. Having stepped on a pebble too small to be seen by the naked eye, I found that it was possible to turn both ankles simultaneously.

At the moment of my descent, there were 25 passers-by as a gallery. Two of them nudged each other in the ribs with their elbows. I would have liked to nudge them in the nose with mine, but I was pretty busy. It took a while to get off the ground.

My propensity for prone positions is the constant concern of my mother. From my early childhood, she has mourned the fat lips I endured 15 times every summer. These were usually inspired by coaster trips in my little red wagon. I knew all about start. I never managed stop.

Because of some disinclination to begin walking in the first place (and this is because I knew what lay ahead—me), I was fitted with special shoe braces. They gave me a carriage similar to a runaway stage. As a matter of fact, I may have invented rock 'n' roll.

While other children were learning to play jacks, baseball, and run-sheep-run, I was learning to play dead. I discovered Johnson's Law: It is possible to walk across a smooth lawn, turn the ankle, and suffer a major sprain.

I was doing the Twist long before the Peppermint Lounge ever heard of Chubby Checker. In my version, you fall out of a car on your head on the cement driveway. Or, as a variation, you can sit on the arm of the davenport, slide down, and split your skull.

TWISTING through traffic on a rainy morning, I have fluttered into the gutter to lie bleeding among the umbrella spokes.

Even being a passenger on other forms of locomotion doesn't help. The planes on which I am a passenger always encounter "minor turbulence" consisting of air pockets the size of the Grand Canyon. The trains on which I am a passenger are either the wrong trains or are wrecked by a broken rail.

My car is uncooperative, too. I have flat tires on lonely roads during blizzards. Sometimes something called a connecting rod has gone through something called a crankcase. Besides, when other drivers see me coming, they tend to go temporarily insane and run into me.

So don't tell me travel is broadening. I have been spread all over the map.

The Begum Aga Khan, widow

By ELSA MAXWELL

"WHO IS THAT beautiful woman?" visitors on the French Riviera ask when the Begum Aga Khan passes. And invariably the answers are elaborated with comments on the Begum's enormous wealth, her clothes, jewels, villa, and her yacht anchored in the Cannes harbor.

Interestingly, the Begum looks every inch a patrician although she was born a bourgeoise. She also has that intangible air which attaches itself to those who have known high position.

For 13 years she was the wife of one of the richest potentates in the world, Aga Sultan, Mohammed Shah, the Aga Khan, who claimed descent from Fatima, daughter of the prophet Mohammed. On each of his birthdays, the 20 million Moslems of the Ismaili sect, whose temporal and spiritual leader he was, matched his weight—all 275 pounds of it—in gold, diamonds, or platinum. His weight, as I recall it, was once matched by $840,000 worth of platinum, and the sum was used to build schools and other community projects.

For many years the Aga was my dear friend, as was his son Aly. I, alas, was responsible for Aly meeting Hollywood's Rita Hayworth. Knowing his love for beautiful women, I seated him next to her at dinner.

I first met the Begum in 1944, shortly after she and the Aga were married. He was then 66 and she was 35. As I entered a restaurant, Escargot D'Or, where they were dining, the Aga came over and we embraced.

"Elsa," he said, "this is my wife." The Begum, who wore a sari and had paused a few steps behind him, came forward and took my hand.

"How beautiful she is," I said to the Aga while I smiled at her.

"She is the most beautiful woman I have ever seen," he said, also smiling at her devotedly.

It was the Begum's dark loveliness, first as beauty queen of Lyons and then as Miss France of 1930, that carried her, Yvette Labrousse, the daughter of a Cannes streetcar conductor, from the little town of Sette, where she had worked as a dressmaker, to the high place as the Aga's wife.

She met the Aga in Geneva when she was a war refugee and went to work as his secretary. At this time a Spanish girl, the Aga's caddy on the golf course, was believed to be his favorite. But his caddy was ensconced elsewhere in the town and Yvette Labrousse, living in his house, was on hand to look after him when he was cut on the face by flying glass in an accident. She nursed him with the quiet selflessness that always marked her attitude toward him.

The Begum knew no one in society when she married the Aga. I became her friend and often went to her beautiful Cannes villa, "Yakymour," a name taken from her nickname "Yaki."

I believe the Begum loved the Aga. As his wife, it was her pleasure to do only what pleased him. And as he grew older and more frail, he came to depend upon her for everything.

Her pilgrimage to Mecca—a feat few women would have been able to equal, for she walked barefoot in the intense heat, fasted, and underwent rigorous religious rituals—forever insured her place in the Aga's heart.

When she made a short trip to the United States during the last year of his life, she telephoned him every day. She made this trip because he wished it. No one ever said why, but you can be sure he had good reason. And when the Begum, traveling to California incognito as Miss B. Smith, appeared on "This Is Your Life," she took a film of the program back to the Aga, who watched it many times with delight.

Before the Aga died, he did everything he could to save the Begum from the fate common to the widows of potentates and rulers—becoming a forgotten woman. In his will, in which he passed over his son Aly Khan to name as his successor Aly's son, Prince Karim, he advised: "Be guided when necessary by Her Highness, Begum Aga Khan . . . because of her vast knowledge of Ismaili affairs." Thus he sought to create an advisory position that would keep her in the hierarchy.

Karim Was Friendly at First

In the days following his grandfather's death, Prince Karim was most considerate of the Begum. At the Swiss villa where the 79-year-old Aga had died and where the 48-year-old Begum was prostrate with grief, he saw those who came with condolences and he made her excuses. On the plane that flew the family—and the old Aga in his white-draped coffin—from Geneva to Cairo, he waited upon her solicitously. He was most sympathetic on the launch that took the family across the Nile to Aswan for burial. (She wept on this trip because the Aga's body was being ferried across on a barge normally used to haul cement.)

But it was not long before he and the Begum were not seen together with any frequency. I think Aly influenced his son to discourage any interference. He was convinced that the Begum had influenced his father to deprive him of his rightful inheritance.

Certainly, she had had both reason and opportunity to do this. Constantly at the old man's side, ministering to his wants and deferring to him in every way, she had his confidence and his devotion. And since between her and Aly there had been no warmth, she must have known that if he became the Aga she could expect no quarter.

I had urged Aly to change his attitude toward his stepmother. "Look here," I told him once, "when you allow your dislike of the Begum to be so evident, you risk doing yourself an injustice. Your father adores her. And she influences him more all the time."

There were occasions when Aly would listen to me. This was not one of them. "I know! I know!" he said. But his mouth set in the sullen way women seeking to sway him remember too well.

Aly loved the Aga. And the Aga loved Aly. It never occurred to Aly that he would be bypassed in the succession. When his father's will was read, he reacted with shock and bitterness.

He told me, shortly before his fatal automobile accident, that when he died he wanted to be buried in Syria. "I would not lie beside my father," he said, "and have his widow—who sits and collects bounty from the thousands of faithful who visit his tomb—lining her pockets over my body!"

Aly Buried at L'Horizon

Temporarily, Aly lies at his well-loved Château L'Horizon. With the current unrest in Syria, it may be a long time before his body can be taken there for official burial.

Since Aly's death the distance between Prince Karim and the Begum has, if anything, increased. Now, I suspect, it is Karim's mother, Princess Joan, who tends to obstruct the association. Princess Joan and Aly were divorced, but they saw each other and were friendly. She knew how deeply he felt about the Moslem countries, of the countless journeys to the East he made for his father, performing marriages, officiating at funerals, in every way serving his people.

She's aware, too, of the brilliance and dignity with which he conducted himself as Pakistani ambassador to the United Nations. It would be reasonable for her to deplore, if not actually resent, the way Aly was bypassed. And I, for one, should not be surprised if Princess Joan had not in her quiet British way determined that her son should not be a pawn, however exalted, in the furtherance of anybody's plans.

I have never understood why the Begum had enemies. Their animosity was not, as so often happens, the other side of the coin of friendship, for she neither belonged to any social group nor formed one of her own. Nevertheless, there were many. When, for instance, a car in which she and the Aga were riding was held up and a fortune in jewels stolen, the Begum's enemies were quick to spread the rumor that she had staged this episode. They underestimated her. She had no need of such dime-novel tactics. While the Aga lived, she got everything she wanted—with one exception, which I will come to later.

Before the Aga died, he did everything he could to save the Begum from the fate common to the widows of potentates and rulers—becoming a forgotten woman. In his will, in which he passed over his son Aly Khan to name as his successor Aly's son, Prince Karim, he advised: "Be guided when necessary by Her Highness, Begum Aga Khan . . . because of her vast knowledge of Ismaili affairs." Thus he sought to create an advisory position that would keep her in the hierarchy.

Karim Was Friendly at First

In the days following his grandfather's death, Prince Karim was most considerate of the Begum. At the Swiss villa where the 79-year-old Aga had died and where the 48-year-old Begum was prostrate with grief, he saw those who came with condolences and he made her excuses. On the plane that flew the family—and the old Aga in his white-draped coffin—from Geneva to Cairo, he waited upon her solicitously. He was most sympathetic on the launch that took the family across the Nile to Aswan for burial. (She wept on this trip because the Aga's body was being ferried across on a barge normally used to haul cement.)

But it was not long before he and the Begum were not seen together with any frequency. I think Aly influenced his son to discourage any interference. He was convinced that the Begum had influenced his father to deprive him of his rightful inheritance.

Certainly, she had had both reason and opportunity to do this. Constantly at the old man's side, ministering to his wants and deferring to him in every way, she had his confidence and his devotion. And since between her and Aly there had been no warmth, she must have known that if he became the Aga she could expect no quarter.

I had urged Aly to change his attitude toward his stepmother. "Look here," I told him once, "when you allow your dislike of the Begum to be so evident, you risk doing yourself an injustice. Your father adores her. And she influences him more all the time."

There were occasions when Aly would listen to me. This was not one of them. "I know! I know!" he said. But his mouth set in the sullen way women seeking to sway him remember too well.

Aly loved the Aga. And the Aga loved Aly. It never occurred to Aly that he would be bypassed in the succession. When his father's will was read, he reacted with shock and bitterness.

He told me, shortly before his fatal automobile accident, that when he died he wanted to be buried in Syria. "I would not lie beside my father," he said, "and have his widow—who sits and collects bounty from the thousands of faithful who visit his tomb—lining her pockets over my body!"

Aly Buried at L'Horizon

Temporarily, Aly lies at his well-loved Chateau L'Horizon. With the current unrest in Syria, it may be a long time before his body can be taken there for official burial.

Since Aly's death the distance between Prince Karim and the Begum has, if anything, increased. Now, I suspect, it is Karim's mother, Princess Joan, who tends to obstruct the association. Princess Joan and Aly were divorced, but they saw each other and were friendly. She knew how deeply he felt about the Moslem countries, of the countless journeys to the East he made for his father, performing marriages, officiating at funerals, in every way serving his people.

She's aware, too, of the brilliance and dignity with which he conducted himself as Pakistani ambassador to the United Nations. It would be reasonable for her to deplore, if not actually resent, the way Aly was bypassed. And I, for one, should not be surprised if Princess Joan had not in her quiet British way determined that her son should not be a pawn, however exalted, in the furtherance of anybody's plans.

I have never understood why the Begum had enemies. Their animosity was not, as so often happens, the other side of the coin of friendship, for she neither belonged to any social group nor formed one of her own. Nevertheless, there were many. When, for instance, a car in which she and the Aga were riding was held up and a fortune in jewels stolen, the Begum's enemies were quick to spread the rumor that she had staged this episode. They underestimated her. She had no need of such dime-novel tactics. While the Aga lived, she got everything she wanted—with one exception, which I will come to later.

I would be surprised indeed if at the Aga's death the Begum was not already an enormously wealthy woman, quite independent of the fortune bequeathed her. I would guess her total riches to

GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKES MANY FEEL OLD BEFORE THEIR TIME

Thousands Discover Quick Help For Backache, Nerve Tension & Worry Secondary to Kidney Irritation

Are you one of the hundreds of thousands of sufferers who feel old, tired, worn out and depressed by losing sleep and worrying about getting up nights, due to common irritation of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Passages? Does this condition cause frequent, urgent and painful daytime passages and sometimes result in Backache? If so, you owe it to yourself to try NEW IMPROVED CYSTEX at once.

OTHER SYMPTOMS

OLD, TIRED, WORN OUT FEELING MAY RESULT

If frequent urination worries you, and hits you at the most embarrassing moments, you're bound to feel tense and nervous. Then if your sleep is disturbed by getting up nights and you can't get much rest and you wake up feeling tired and groggy—yes, you really begin to feel old. And if your back aches you feel grouchy—hard to get along with—and your work is a burden.

CAUSE OF IRRITATION

The cause of common Kidney and Bladder Irritation frequently arises from a germ called the colon bacillus, and non-specific germs resulting from colds, bad teeth and other causes. These germs can set up so much irritation in the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Passages that nature sends a warning through your nerves to your brain that help is needed. Heed this warning now and you may easily avoid many anxious, worrisome hours and days.

HOW CYSTEX HELPS

NEW IMPROVED CYSTEX releases a gentle, soothing bacteriostat in acid urine to combat germs which may be causing irritation. This is like a gentle, mildly antiseptic, soothing bath for the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Passages. CYSTEX also contains two of the very best known analgesics for soothing, gentle pain relief of the discomforts due to common Kidney and Bladder Irritations. Thousands have been amazed to discover how quickly CYSTEX helped them to combat such irritations thus feel cleansed and refreshed, and because of lessened nerve tension able to sleep better and feel better, and stronger.

So get CYSTEX from your druggist today. Fresh up and cheer up and feel better fast.

Forgotten Woman

There always was great mystery about the Aga's wealth. He said repeatedly—and usually with a smile—that he did not know how much he was worth. You could translate his smile to suit yourself. He had much to gain, of course, by not revealing the extent of his riches—reputedly $2 billion dollars and an income of $1 million a year.

Following the Aga's death there was great commotion when between $200 million and $500 million dollars was believed missing. It was thought at first that the Aga had deposited this money in banks around the world because he did not wish his fortune consumed by death taxes. Finally, the heirs engaged detectives. But wherever these men went, they were informed by inexorable bank officials that no information would be forthcoming without evidence of deposit dates.

At last the Begum offered a clue. She believed, she said, that the Aga had ordered his "secret deposits" to remain untouched until it was certain there would be no problem about the millions he had left openly. A dozen or more of his most faithful followers, it seemed, had been entrusted with documents which, once his will was properly executed, would release his secret deposits for the Moslem poor, always his favorite charity. It would appear this has now been accomplished.

I often wonder if the Begum's visit to the United States—at a time when it was unlikely that she would have wished to leave the ailing Aga—was not part of this plan.

The One Thing the Begum Wanted

I said earlier that during the Aga's life there had been only one thing the Begum wanted which she had not gotten. This was acceptance by his family. Between them, there was an exchange of formal manners, nothing more. She made what I imagine was her last attempt to ingratiate herself into the family group when Aly died. She gave every evidence of mourning. She accepted condolences. And she was photographed with the family at the Château L'Horizon where, in Aly's life, she never went.

Today, the Begum, who has shown no interest in any man since the Aga's death, leads a quiet life. Occasionally she visits the palace at Monaco. Her saris, which suited her beauty, have given way to white slacks, which are more appropriate for her yacht on which she spends much of her time. And lately, groping perhaps for the glamour she used to know, she seems to welcome personal publicity, even catering to the tabloids.

Everything, I'm sure—except her fabulous wealth—is very different than she hoped for or than the Aga intended it to be. In spite of all the careful plans, she has not escaped her fate. She is just another rich and lonely widow. She is just another forgotten woman.

How to Get the Most for Your Insurance Money

The secret is to buy protection where your possible loss looms largest and assume the smaller risks yourself By PATRICIA and RON DEUTSCH

MISSED ANY insurance bargains lately? Studies show most of the best buys in insurance are passed up by a majority of families. How can you get the best insurance at the lowest price?

The trick is to follow the rule insurance men use when choosing their own policies: Insurance is intended for the catastrophe your pocket can't take. Assume the little risks yourself.

This may sound too simple. But let's see how it works with the insurance on your car.

We'll say the car is worth $2,500, too much of a loss to risk. So you buy collision insurance. You must take a $50 deductible (meaning you pay the first $50 of a loss), and the policy costs $49. (All rates in this article are samples only.)

This is a perfect example of how small risks are expensive to insure against. Here you pay $24 for $50 of insurance. But the remaining $2,400 risk can be insured for only $25.

You also want "comprehensive" insurance, for fire, theft, and malicious mischief. It costs $27. But assume a $50 deductible and the remaining $2,450 of insurance costs only $11.

With some of that money, you'll want to buy the best bargain in car insurance, extra liability. This protects you against the biggest hazard of driving: hurting someone or his property.

Personal injury claims of $25,000 and more are common. But most Americans insure against such claims with limits of $10,000 for each person and $20,000 for each accident, far too little.

Such a policy costs $30. Yet you can raise the limits to $25,000 and $50,000 for only $4 more, a bargain indeed.

The case is the same for property-damage insurance, which most families buy with limits of $5,000. Experts say you need twice as much. The bill for doubling that insurance? $1.60.

You are still unprotected against injury to you or your family. This insurance—"medical payments"—is too cheap to pass up. But many motorists pay $6 for $500 worth, when $1,000 costs only $2 more. You are also unprotected against the driver who has no insurance. "Uninsured motorist" coverage will protect you up to the limits of your own liability insurance, and at the bargain rate of $4.

You can easily see we've added tens of thousands of dollars in badly needed insurance and paid only an extra $11.60 to do it. But on the other hand, we've saved $40 by assuming just $100 of extra risk ourselves.

Compare the risks—the one, thousands of dollars in losses you couldn't hope to pay (your salary can be attached to meet them); the other, $100, which most families can manage in a pinch. Experts buy their own insurance this way.

Can you get similar bargains in insuring your home? The fire insurance on many homes is less than 80 percent of the building's value. This means any loss will be paid less depreciation of the property. And this may mean you'll get less than half what it costs to repair in some cases.

But if you buy more than 80 percent of the building's value in fire insurance, each dollar buys more. For then you're entitled to replacement-cost insurance. The company replaces the total loss.

STILL ANOTHER is insurance on your home's contents—from clothes to appliances. Many Americans have none, and most greatly undervalue what is in their homes, often by half.

The theft-insurance case is much like that of contents insurance. And beyond this, freak losses, unspecified in policies, pop up every day.

Many homeowners are not insured against damage they do to their homes themselves. And few are insured against the shelter costs they'd have if their homes became uninhabitable.

So many and varied are the chances of serious loss to the home that a few years ago protection against all possible risks was built into "package" policies. When you buy the package, you get everything in it at sharply discounted rates, sometimes saving more than a third.

The "Homeowner's 'B'" package gives best protection for most homes. But experts suggest adding three bargain extras to it. First, they add to the $10,000 of liability insurance, more than doubling it for about $2 a year. For a similar sum, they add a "voluntary damage" rider, which covers damage they may do to others' property. And for a couple of dollars they cover damage they do to their own homes. But most vital: the All Physical Loss rider, to cover unspecified losses.

ONLY A relatively small number of families have the kind of health insurance they need most—loss-of-income insurance should the breadwinner be disabled.

A good hospitalization policy might be stretched into paying $1,200 and cost a man of 35 some $50 a year. But his loss-of-income policy might pay him up to $72,000 at a cost of $100.

If the price seems dismayingly high, be assured it can be cut. If you wait even seven days before benefits begin, the cost drops. And this deductible can be 90 to 180 days for most employed people. Sick leave, unemployment compensation, savings, etc., help take up the slack.

Second, you needn't have the policy all your life. At 65, Social Security steps in, so a cut-off at 65 saves you money.

Third, you need less income after the children are grown. So you can buy one long-term and one short-term policy, and save again.

Fourth, all health insurance is much cheaper when sold to a group—which can be as few as 10 persons. So discuss this with your employer and coworkers. The insurance is bought by the monthly amount of income it pays, and $200 to $300 a month is a good sum.

Here's a revealing personal portrait of this popular young star by the woman who loves him best: his mother he was 13, his nickname in our house was "Junior," although he hated it and asked everybody to call him Sal. We all agreed except Vic, who is a tease.

One day, Vic asked "Junior" to help him move a heavy bureau downstairs. They got it to the head of the stairs and then Vic hoisted it onto his back and shouted, "OK, Junior, now pick up the other end."

Sal didn't move. He said quietly, "What's my name?"

Vic was straining to prevent his knees from buckling, "Come on, Junior, you're breaking my back."

"Okay, Sal!" Vic yelled, and Sal grabbed for his end.

MY SON is in a tough business indeed. When Sal came home after making "The Gene Krupa Story," I could tell he was really fatigued.

"Slow down," I begged. "You're doing too much."

"I feel fine," he said. "Don't worry about me." Then he went into town to do five or six interviews.

That evening he turned to me on the patio of our house and said, "I feel strange," and collapsed.

I had to get the doctor in a hurry. "Your boy's exhausted," the doctor said. "He's also got a serious eye condition. Get him to bed or, if he doesn't listen, send him to a hospital."

Sal listened. For weeks he lay in his room with the shades drawn. But even then he wouldn't stop working. Friends came in every day to read scripts to him. He listened and made notes which he intended to discuss with the writers.

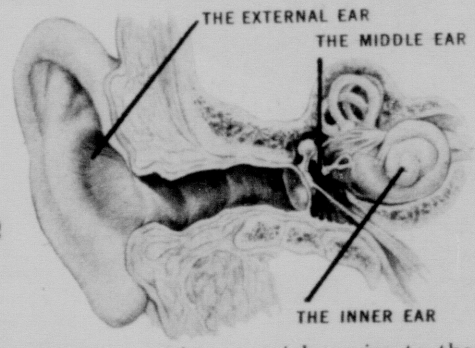

As days went by and Sal still lay in bed, I began to fear he might be going blind. The patch over his eye frightened me. Sal must have sensed this, God love him, because one day, while I was begging him not to work so hard, he straightened up in bed and said, "Ma, I don't want you to worry. You want to see me happy, don't you?"

I nodded yes—I did so want my boy to be happy. Then he said, "Well, you've got to learn how to take it and not worry like you do. I want to work hard because I want to be a good actor. And if I have to lie in this bed 10 years to get better, I'll do it because I know what I want. And nothing can stop me!"

His eye eventually improved, and it didn't surprise me. My son Sal has learned how to get what he wants—both from himself and from others.

Calories Don't Count!

News about a revolutionary reducing plan, based on a new biochemical discovery, and now available for the first time in a new book

UNBELIEVABLE — but true! You need to eat fat if you are to be slim. It isn't how many calories you consume that matters — but what kind of calories. The inclusion of polyunsaturated fatty acids in your diet is the essential step toward loosening the body's long-stored fat. It is the key to your losing only excess fat rather than vital body tissue.

In his just-published book, CALORIES DON'T COUNT, Dr. Herman Taller explains the principles behind this new understanding of the body's chemistry — and tells you in full detail:

1. How to eat three full meals a day and lose weight in the safest way possible
2. Why you must never leave the table hungry if you want to be slim
3. How you can eat heartily while those extra inches disappear
4. How this radical new way of losing weight is linked with a low cholesterol count, better skin condition, and resistance to colds
5. Why you may eat fried foods every day and keep slim — what kind of fats to fry them in
6. What foods (this includes the greatest surprise of all to people who have suffered through calorie-counting diets) you should avoid
7. Why large portions of meat, fowl, or sea food are essential to your slimming program
8. Sample recipes including pot roast, fried chicken, cheese cake and mayonnaise

Dr. Herman Taller is a gynecologist and obstetrician who became interested in theories of obesity for personal reasons when he himself weighed 265 pounds. After hungry years of unsuccessful experimenting with standard calorie-counting diets he happened to take part in an anti-cholesterol experiment which involved adding a specific kind of fat to his diet. To the astonishment of Dr. Taller and the researchers involved, he found himself fastening his belt on a tighter notch, discovered that his clothes were becoming too big. He found himself adding calories and losing weight. Was this some fluke? Would it work for others?

With mounting excitement Dr. Taller began spending all his spare time in the medical libraries, reading everything that existed on obesity and metabolism. He discovered no clues, until one day he came upon an article by the late Dr. Alfred W. Pennington which contained the first glimmer, the first specific evidence to explain what was happening to him. He determined to proceed from Dr. Pennington's beginnings to work out a program that would solve the "diet problem" once and for all.

After painstaking research he put his program into practice on a group of 93 problem dieters with extraordinary success. Today patients from all over the country come to Dr. Taller for treatment. And his principles have won ever widening interest in the medical field. In the preface to his book he writes:

> "The concept this book advances is revolutionary. Perhaps all I need say in support of my new nutrition principle is that it works. It has been tested in medical laboratories and among large numbers of patients. There have been no failures, nor can there be any when the principle is properly applied. For it is based on new knowledge — a medical breakthrough. I think it is wise to warn you that this breakthrough is so dramatic that it will probably invalidate all you know, or think you know, about the causes of obesity."

Revolutionary indeed. Following Dr. Taller's 14-point plan, you will be free from the discouragement — to say nothing of the danger — of the endless chain of diet-gain-diet-gain. And you will be free from the crash diets that more often than not result in a gaunt face (easier for the calorie-starved body to break down vital tissue than hard long-stored excess fat) while unaesthetic bulges remain.

With Dr. Taller's new plan — specifically directed at breaking down and burning excess fat, you eat well (even piecrust and french fried potatoes) — never know the pangs of hunger, and lose not just pounds but, specifically, the bulges you want to lose in order to be pleased with your image in the mirror and the fit of your clothes. And you stay slim.

It is a simple plan. But its rules, though easy to follow, are specific. They are clearly outlined in Dr. Taller's book, CALORIES DON'T COUNT. Read it and liberate yourself, once and for all, from both starvation and overweight.

DR. HERMAN TALLER

Dr. Taller is a noted New York gynecologist and obstetrician. His patients — many of them famous names in the entertainment world — come from all over the country, and even South America for his treatment. He became interested in reducing for personal reasons. After years of unsuccessful experimentation with standard diets he prescribed one of his own — and lost 65 pounds in eight months. His nutrition principles have since gained medical recognition and national attention.

Calories Don't Count!

News about a revolutionary reducing plan, based on a new biochemical discovery, and now available for the first time in a new book

UNBELIEVABLE — but true! You need to eat fat if you are to be slim. It isn't how many calories you consume that matters — but what kind of calories. The inclusion of polyunsaturated fatty acids in your diet is the essential step toward loosening the body's long-stored fat. It is the key to your losing only excess fat rather than vital body tissue.

In his just-published book, CALORIES DON'T COUNT, Dr. Herman Taller explains the principles behind this new understanding of the body's chemistry — and tells you in full detail:

1. How to eat three full meals a day and lose weight in the safest way possible
2. Why you must never leave the table hungry if you want to be slim
3. How you can eat heartily while those extra inches disappear
4. How this radical new way of losing weight is linked with a low cholesterol count, better skin condition, and resistance to colds
5. Why you may eat fried foods every day and keep slim — what kind of fats to fry them in
6. What foods (this includes the greatest surprise of all to people who have suffered through calorie-counting diets) you should avoid
7. Why large portions of meat, fowl, or sea food are essential to your slimming program
8. Sample recipes including pot roast, fried chicken, cheese cake and mayonnaise

"There have been no failures."

The story back of Dr. Taller's radical new method for losing inches without starvation

Dr. Herman Taller is a gynecologist and obstetrician who became interested in theories of obesity for personal reasons when he himself weighed 265 pounds. After hungry years of unsuccessful experimenting with standard calorie-counting diets he happened to take part in an anti-cholesterol experiment which involved adding a specific kind of fat to his diet. To the astonishment of Dr. Taller and the researchers involved, he found himself fastening his belt on a tighter notch, discovered that his clothes were becoming too big. He found himself adding calories and losing weight. Was this some fluke? Would it work for others?

With mounting excitement Dr. Taller began spending all his spare time in the medical libraries, reading everything that existed on obesity and metabolism. He discovered no clues, until one day he came upon an article by the late Dr. Alfred W. Pennington which contained the first glimmer, the first specific evidence to explain what was happening to him. He determined to proceed from Dr. Pennington's beginnings to work out a program that would solve the "diet problem" once and for all.

After painstaking research he put his program into practice on a group of 93 problem dieters with extraordinary success. Today patients from all over the country come to Dr. Taller for treatment. And his principles have won ever widening interest in the medical field. In the preface to his book he writes:

> "The concept this book advances is revolutionary. Perhaps all I need say in support of my new nutrition principle is that it works. It has been tested in medical laboratories and among large numbers of patients. There have been no failures, nor can there be any when the principle is properly applied. For it is based on new knowledge — a medical breakthrough. I think it is wise to warn you that this breakthrough is so dramatic that it will probably invalidate all you know, or think you know, about the causes of obesity."

Eat steak, french fried potatoes, and lose weight safely

Revolutionary indeed. Following Dr. Taller's 14-point plan, you will be free from the discouragement — to say nothing of the danger — of the endless chain of diet-gain-diet-gain. And you will be free from the crash diets that more often than not result in a gaunt face (easier for the calorie-starved body to break down vital tissue than hard long-stored excess fat) while unaesthetic bulges remain.

My Son Sal

Mrs. Mineo consults Sal while typing.

By MRS. JOSEPHINE MINEO

as told to Marya Saunders and Bob Gaines

THE TELEPHONE RANG. I heard a man's voice say, "Mrs. Mineo, your daughter Sarina has just had an accident in school."

Stunned, I repeated the words to my son Sal who was home visiting between movies in Hollywood. Sal was instantly on his feet, racing out of the room. The voice on the phone continued, "It's nothing serious. Your daughter just twisted her ankle, but perhaps you'd better take her home for the rest of the day."

I tried to shout this to Sal, but he was already out the door and roaring down the driveway in his car. When Sal arrived at Sarina's high school, he ran to the principal's office and found his younger sister sitting comfortably reading a movie magazine.

He started to help her to the car, but by that time word had spread among the students that Sal Mineo was there. The teen-agers mobbed him, tearing at his clothes for souvenirs. Sarina was screaming, "Let him go! Let him go!"

When the two finally got home, Sal looked like he had been run over by a bus, and I didn't know which one to take care of first!

That's Sal Mineo. Quick! He's always the first to run out and tackle a crisis regardless of the cost to himself. He also knows what he wants and works with fierce earnestness to get it.

He's only 22 years old and has already appeared in 14 films, two Broadway shows, summer stock, and innumerable TV broadcasts, and received two Academy Award nominations—for performances in "Exodus" and "Rebel Without a Cause." His newest movie is "Escape From Zahrain" to be released in June. And this month Sal will have the lead in a new Broadway play, "Something About a Soldier," directed by Dore Schary. He has also made several hit records, draws, dances, swims, water skis, plays drums, boxes, wrestles, writes, reads—and is so ambitious to be a fine actor that he drives himself to illness.

Sal's career actually started at the kitchen table in our home in the Bronx, N.Y., when he was eight years old. It was a regular custom for all of us—Sarina, Sal, the two older boys, Mike and Vic, and my husband Sal and myself—to meet at night at the kitchen table and talk about the day. In our home, there was always time to discuss anything without any fear of being misunderstood.

That evening in our kitchen, I could see Sal was excited. He wanted to talk us into something important and expensive. He began by describing his day: he and Sarina had been playing stickball in the street when a man who claimed to be a talent scout came over to them. He said he was looking for children to train for appearances on TV.

"And do you know?" Sarina said, "when Sal started singing for the man, he said Sal had a wonderful voice and should study!"

SAL PUT THE business card for the man's school on the table. He knew that if he was to study, his father would have to pay for the lessons.

My husband and I talked, and with more encouragement from Sal finally decided. The next day I signed him up.

Sal was fascinated by show business and soon was taking five dancing and singing lessons a week. He would practice his tap steps on the tiles of our bathroom floor until his father chased him to bed. We still didn't dream this fascination would turn Sal into a star.

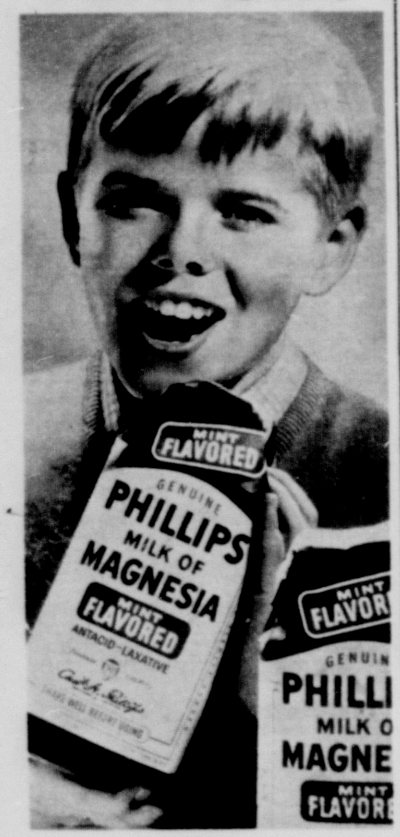

At 10 he got a part in a Broadway play, "The Rose Tattoo," and then Rodgers' and Hammerstein's "The King and I." He worked these next three years without a break. By the time he was 13, my hardest job was to get him to turn down work. After school and before his show at night, he went to agents' offices looking for extra jobs.

I don't know how he was able to do it. He was so tired he'd fall asleep on the subway coming home, but he never missed a line or a performance. He won a TV Academy "Emmy" for his dramatic portrayal of "Dino" when he was 16.

Not even pain could stop him. For example, during the filming of the movie, "Tonka," he fell from a horse and broke his kneecap. It was excruciatingly painful, but Sal insisted on continuing the next day with his knee taped. He didn't want to delay the shooting.

Being the youngest of three boys, Sal learned about competition early. Until

Bright beginnings and endings FOR MEALS OF DISTINCTION

MELANIE DE PROFT, Food Editor

Zesty Asparagus-Celery Soup

CONVENIENCE FOOD RECIPE

TO PREPARE AND HEAT: 15 MIN.

- 1 10½-oz. can condensed cream of celery soup
- 1 10½-oz. can condensed cream of asparagus soup
- 1 soup can milk
- 1 soup can water
- ¼ teaspoon basil, crushed
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- ¾ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½ teaspoon grated onion

1. Blend soups together in a saucepan; gradually add milk and water, stirring until blended. Stir in remaining ingredients.

2. Heat slowly, stirring occasionally, until very hot. Pour into tureen or individual cups or bowls. Garnish with grated lemon peel.

4 to 6 servings

Cranberry-Cream Cheese Dessert Mold

TO PREPARE: 30 MIN. TO CHILL: ABOUT 4 HRS.

- 2 cups cranberries, finely chopped
- ¾ cup sugar
- 1 cup cold water
- 2 tablespoons (2 env.) unflavored gelatin
- 2 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, softened
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1 cup whipping cream
- ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- ¼ teaspoon almond extract
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract

1. Lightly oil a 1½-qt., 2-tiered mold with salad or cooking oil (not olive oil); set aside to drain.

2. Stir cranberries and ¾ cup sugar together; set aside.

3. Sprinkle gelatin evenly over cold water in a bowl. Let stand 5 min. to soften. Dissolve over hot water.

4. Beat cream cheese until fluffy, then beat in ½ cup sugar and lemon juice. Stir in dissolved gelatin. Fold in cranberry mixture.

5. Using a chilled bowl and beater, whip cream until of medium consistency (piles softly); with final few strokes, beat in confectioners' sugar and extracts.

6. Fold whipped cream into cranberry mixture and turn into mold. Chill until firm.

7. Unmold onto a chilled serving plate and garnish with glazed whole cranberries (see photo).

10 to 12 servings

Glazed Cranberries—In a small saucepan, bring ⅓ cup light corn sirup to boiling; boil 5 min. Cool slightly, about 2 min. Add about 30 whole cranberries, turn to glaze evenly, and remove to a cooling rack to drain. Cool.

Chicken Puffs

TO PREPARE: 10 MIN.
(allow time for chilling)

- 1 cup cooked diced chicken
- ¼ cup diced celery
- 3 tablespoons chopped salted almonds
- ¼ cup thick sour cream
- 2 to 3 teaspoons capers, chopped
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Miniature cream puffs (your favorite recipe or a prepared mix)

1. Lightly toss diced chicken, celery, and almonds together in a bowl. Mix capers and salt into sour cream. Toss with chicken mixture until well coated. Chill thoroughly.

Cucumber-Bacon Canapés

TO PREPARE: ABOUT 15 MIN.

- 4 slices white or whole wheat bread
- 1 tablespoon mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon thick sour cream
- ⅛ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- ¼ teaspoon Accent
- 8 slices bacon, diced and pan-broiled until crisp
- ⅓ cup finely chopped cucumber, well drained

1. Toast bread on one side; trim off crusts and cut each slice into three fingers. Set aside.

2. Blend together the next four ingredients. Reserving 2 tablespoons bacon for garnish, toss together the bacon, cucumber, and dressing.

3. Spread toasted side of each finger with softened butter and about 2 teaspoons of the filling. Crumble reserved bacon bits down center of canapes. Serve immediately.

12 canapés

Cocktail Sauce for Sea Food

TO PREPARE: 10 MIN.
(allow time for chilling)

- ½ cup catsup
- 1 tablespoon prepared horse-radish
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1½ teaspoons brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon onion juice
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon Accent
- 3 drops Tabasco

1. Mix together thoroughly in a small bowl the catsup and remaining ingredients. Chill.

2. To prepare sea food cocktail, line sherbet glasses with chilled lettuce or curly endive. Arrange cooked shrimp or crab meat in each glass and top with cocktail sauce.

About 4 servings

Linzer Torte

TO PREPARE: 40 MIN. TO BAKE: 30-35 MIN.

- ½ lb. almonds, grated (about 3½ cups)
- ¾ cup sifted flour
- 1 cup unsalted butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 8 egg yolks
- 8 egg whites
- ⅓ cup sugar
- ⅓ cup thick strawberry preserve
- Chocolate Frosting (see recipe)
- 12 to 16 whole blanched almonds

1. Grease bottoms only of two 9-in. round layer-cake pans. Line bottoms with waxed paper cut to fit; grease paper. Set aside.

2. Mix almonds and flour together. Using a spatula, mark into four portions and set aside.

3. Cream butter until soft and fluffy. Add 1 cup sugar gradually, creaming until fluffy after each addition. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating until very well blended after each addition. Set mixture aside.

4. Beat egg whites until frothy; gradually add ⅓ cup sugar, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until rounded peaks are formed. Gently spread egg whites over egg yolk mixture.

5. Spoon one portion of the flour-almond mixture over egg whites and gently fold with a few strokes until batter is only partially blended. Repeat with second and third portions. Spoon remaining portion over batter and gently fold until just blended. Do not overmix! Gently turn batter into pans and spread to edges.

6. Bake at 350°F 30 to 35 min., or until cake tester or wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean.

7. Remove to cooling racks and cool 10 min. Remove from pans, peel off paper, and cool layers completely.

8. Spread strawberry preserve over one layer; place second layer on top. Frost sides and top with Chocolate Frosting. Before frosting becomes firm, garnish top edge of torte with the almonds. Chill until firm.

12 to 16 servings

Chocolate Frosting—Partially melt 3 oz. semi-sweet chocolate over hot water, being careful not to overheat. Remove chocolate from water and stir until completely melted. Add ½ cup unsalted butter and stir until butter is melted. Cool frosting slightly.

Daisy Meringues with Ice Cream

TO PREPARE: 15 MIN. TO BAKE: 1 HR.

- 4 egg whites
- ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
- ¾ teaspoon extract (mint, almond, or lemon)
- Few drops food coloring (green, red, or yellow)
- 1 cup sugar

1. Beat egg whites until frothy; add cream of tartar, extract, and food coloring and beat slightly. Add sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until stiff peaks are formed.

2. Line baking sheets with unglazed paper. To make "daisies"—using one heaping teaspoonful of meringue for each, form five petals joined at the center on the lined sheets. Form flowers 2 in. apart.

3. Bake at 250°F about 1 hr., or until dry to the touch and very lightly browned.

4. With a spatula carefully remove meringues to cooling racks. (If meringues are difficult to remove from paper, lightly moisten underside of paper directly under each one.) Cool completely. Store in airtight container so that they will not absorb moisture and become soft.

5. To serve, in the center of each "daisy" place a scoop of ice cream. Use ice cream flavors complementary in color and flavor to the meringues. If desired, pass bowls of crushed sweetened fruit or ice cream sauces for toppings.

Bright beginnings and endings FOR MEALS OF DISTINCTION

MELANIE DE PROFT, Food Editor

TO PREPARE AND HEAT: 15 MIN.

- 1 10½-oz. can condensed cream of celery soup
- 1 10½-oz. can condensed cream of asparagus soup
- 1 soup can milk
- 1 soup can water
- ¼ teaspoon basil, crushed
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- ¾ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½ teaspoon grated onion

1. Blend soups together in a saucepan; gradually add milk and water, stirring until blended. Stir in remaining ingredients.

2. Heat slowly, stirring occasionally, until very hot. Pour into tureen or individual cups or bowls. Garnish with grated lemon peel.

4 to 6 servings

Cranberry-Cream Cheese Dessert Mold

TO PREPARE: 30 MIN. TO CHILL: ABOUT 4 HRS.

- 2 cups cranberries, finely chopped
- ¾ cup sugar
- 1 cup cold water
- 2 tablespoons (2 env.) unflavored gelatin
- 2 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, softened
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1 cup whipping cream
- ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- ¼ teaspoon almond extract
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract

1. Lightly oil a 1½-qt., 2-tiered mold with salad or cooking oil (not olive oil); set aside to drain.

2. Stir cranberries and ¾ cup sugar together; set aside.

3. Sprinkle gelatin evenly over cold water in a bowl. Let stand 5 min. to soften. Dissolve over hot water.

4. Beat cream cheese until fluffy, then beat in ½ cup sugar and lemon juice. Stir in dissolved gelatin. Fold in cranberry mixture.

5. Using a chilled bowl and beater, whip cream until of medium consistency (piles softly); with final few strokes, beat in confectioners' sugar and extracts.

6. Fold whipped cream into cranberry mixture and turn into mold. Chill until firm.

7. Unmold onto a chilled serving plate and garnish with glazed whole cranberries (see photo). 10 to 12 servings

Glazed Cranberries—In a small saucepan, bring ⅓ cup light corn sirup to boiling; boil 5 min. Cool slightly, about 2 min. Add about 30 whole cranberries, turn to glaze evenly, and remove to a cooling rack to drain. Cool.

Chicken Puffs

TO PREPARE: 10 MIN.

(allow time for chilling)

- 1 cup cooked diced chicken
- ¼ cup diced celery
- 3 tablespoons chopped salted almonds
- ¼ cup thick sour cream
- 2 to 3 teaspoons capers, chopped
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Miniature cream puffs (your favorite recipe or a prepared mix)

1. Lightly toss diced chicken, celery, and almonds together in a bowl. Mix capers and salt into sour cream. Toss with chicken mixture until well coated. Chill thoroughly.

2. Cut tops from cooled cream puffs. Fill each shell with about 2 teaspoons of the chicken filling. Replace tops. 3 doz. puffs

Cucumber-Bacon Canapés

TO PREPARE: ABOUT 15 MIN.

- 4 slices white or whole wheat bread
- 1 tablespoon mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon thick sour cream
- ⅛ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- ¼ teaspoon Accent
- 8 slices bacon, diced and pan-broiled until crisp
- ⅓ cup finely chopped cucumber, well drained

1. Toast bread on one side; trim off crusts and cut each slice into three fingers. Set aside.

2. Blend together the next four ingredients. Reserving 2 tablespoons bacon for garnish, toss together the bacon, cucumber, and dressing.

3. Spread toasted side of each finger with softened butter and about 2 teaspoons of the filling. Crumble reserved bacon bits down center of canapes. Serve immediately. 12 canapés

Cocktail Sauce for Sea Food

TO PREPARE: 10 MIN.

(allow time for chilling)

- ½ cup catsup
- 1 tablespoon prepared horse-radish
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1½ teaspoons brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon onion juice
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon Accent
- 3 drops Tabasco

1. Mix together thoroughly in a small bowl the catsup and remaining ingredients. Chill.

2. To prepare sea food cocktail, line sherbet glasses with chilled lettuce or curly endive. Arrange cooked shrimp or crab meat in each glass and top with cocktail sauce.

About 4 servings

Linzer Torte

TO PREPARE: 40 MIN. TO BAKE: 30–35 MIN.

- ½ lb. almonds, grated (about 3½ cups)
- ¾ cup sifted flour
- 1 cup unsalted butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 8 egg yolks
- 8 egg whites
- ⅓ cup sugar
- ⅓ cup thick strawberry preserve
- Chocolate Frosting (see recipe)
- 12 to 16 whole blanched almonds

1. Grease bottoms only of two 9-in. round layer-cake pans. Line bottoms with waxed paper cut to fit; grease paper. Set aside.

2. Mix almonds and flour together. Using a spatula, mark into four portions and set aside.

3. Cream butter until soft and fluffy. Add 1 cup sugar gradually, creaming until fluffy after each addition. Add egg yolks one at a time, beating until very well blended after each addition. Set mixture aside.

4. Beat egg whites until frothy; gradually add ⅓ cup sugar, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until rounded peaks are formed. Gently spread egg whites over egg yolk mixture.

5. Spoon one portion of the flour-almond mixture over egg whites and gently fold with a few strokes until batter is only partially blended. Repeat with second and third portions. Spoon remaining portion over batter and gently fold until just blended. Do not overmix! Gently turn batter into pans and spread to edges.

6. Bake at 350°F 30 to 35 min., or until cake tester or wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean.

7. Remove to cooling racks and cool 10 min. Remove from pans, peel off paper, and cool layers completely.

8. Spread strawberry preserve over one layer; place second layer on top. Frost sides and top with Chocolate Frosting. Before frosting becomes firm, garnish top edge of torte with the almonds. Chill until firm. 12 to 16 servings

Chocolate Frosting—Partially melt 3 oz. semi-sweet chocolate over hot water, being careful not to overheat. Remove chocolate from water and stir until completely melted. Add ½ cup unsalted butter and stir until butter is melted. Cool frosting slightly.

Daisy Meringues with Ice Cream

TO PREPARE: 15 MIN. TO BAKE: 1 HR.

- 4 egg whites
- ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
- ¾ teaspoon extract (mint, almond, or lemon)
- Few drops food coloring (green, red, or yellow)
- 1 cup sugar

1. Beat egg whites until frothy; add cream of tartar, extract, and food coloring and beat slightly. Add sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until stiff peaks are formed.

2. Line baking sheets with unglazed paper. To make "daisies"—using one heaping teaspoonful of meringue for each, form five petals joined at the center on the lined sheets. Form flowers 2 in. apart.

3. Bake at 250°F about 1 hr., or until dry to the touch and very lightly browned.

4. With a spatula carefully remove meringues to cooling racks. (If meringues are difficult to remove from paper, lightly moisten underside of paper directly under each one.) Cool completely. Store in airtight container so that they will not absorb moisture and become soft.

5. To serve, in the center of each "daisy" place a scoop of ice cream. Use ice cream flavors complementary in color and flavor to the meringues. If desired, pass bowls of crushed sweetened fruit or ice cream sauces for toppings. 12 servings
